SEWICKLEY STARTLED BY SICKENING SUICIDE

Mrs. Daisy Guthrie of a Prominent Titusville Family, While Crazed by Grip, Cut Her Throat in Mrs. A. L. Lowrie's Bathroom.

Residents of fashionable Sewickley were horrified yesterday afternoon by the suicide of Mrs. Daisy L. Barber Guthrie, a member of one of the leading families of Titusville. She killed herself by cutting her throat, almost severing her head from the shoulders, at the residence of her sister-in-law, Mrs. A. L. Lowrie, wife of an oil man, whose offices are in the Tradesmens building, this city.

Mrs. Guthrie had been the guest of her sister-in-law at the latter's handsome home in Beaver street for over two weeks. When she first reached there she was suffering from a severe attack of grip and this was aggravated by an additional cold to such an extent that Mrs. Guthrie is said to have been slightly delirious a part of the time during the past week. She was confined to her bed the early part of the present week and remained in bed yesterday morning.

Made a Significant Remark.

At noon Dr. I. B. Chandler, who had been attending her, called and found her in an apparently cheerful mood. She remarked to the physician that she thought it would not be long before the cold would leave her, a remark that, considered in the light of subsequent events, now seems to have been significant.

After a light luncheon Mrs. Guthrie rose at 1 o'clock and went downstairs. She went into the library and, selecting a book, began reading, reclining on a lounge. She was still reading at 1:30 o'clock when Mrs. Lowrie entered the library and asked how she felt. "I am much better," was the reply, and Mrs. Guthrie went on reading.

Mrs. Lowrie then said she was going to the residence of a neighbor for a few minutes. Mrs. Guthrie was quite willing that she should go, and said: "I will read until you return." Just after 2 o'clock Mrs. Lowrie returned. She passed into the library and found the volume Mrs. Guthrie had been reading on the floor and in such a position that it seemed to have been carelessly flung there. Her sister was not there and Mrs. Lowrie went upstairs in search of her. First she went into the room occupied by Mrs. Guthrie during her visit. All was in order, but Mrs. Guthrie was not there.

Awful Sight Met Her Eyes.

Still suspecting nothing, Mrs. Lowrie passed across the hall into the bathroom. The door was closed but not locked. Mrs. Lowrie tried the knob and the door swung open. The sight that met her eyes was terrible. Lying on the floor in a pool of blood was her sister-in-law, her throat cut cleanly and deeply from ear to ear, so that the head was but half fastened to the body. The washstand, the mirror and the wall were all spattered where the blood had spurted.

Mrs. Lowrie found a razor clutched in Mrs. Guthrie's right hand. The razor was one used some time ago by her husband, but since discarded, and had been left unused in a little closet on the wall, where Mrs. Guthrie got it. Its edge was still keen. From the position of the body and the blood on the mirror it is likely that suicide was committed in front of the mirror. Mrs. Guthrie was not dead when Mrs. Lowrie opened the bathroom door and the deed probably was committed but a minute or two before Mrs. Lowrie returned. Mrs. Lowrie saw her sister-in-law's eyes twitch and knelt by her side for a moment. Then she hastily dispatched one of the servants to the office of the nearest physician.

Acts of an Insane Woman.

Mrs. Lowrie herself ran to the doctor's office a moment later, so great was her excitement. She returned with Dr. Frank McCready. They went upstairs, only to find that Mrs. Guthrie had expired. But her life could not have been saved or even prolonged.

The coroner's office was notified and an investigation is being made. Mrs. Guthrie was 35 years old. Her self-destruction was unquestionably due to insanity, caused by grip. A peculiarity of the case is the method she adopted; it is seldom that a woman commits suicide by mutilating herself as Mrs. Guthrie did.

Mrs. Guthrie was a daughter of James R. Barber, a pioneer resident of Titusville, and the family is one of the most prominent in that city. For years Mr. Barber has been engaged in the oil business. Mrs. Guthrie was born in Titusville and lived in that city till her marriage to Arthur S. Guthrie, three years ago. Mr. Guthrie is manager of the Grafton Gas Company at Grafton, W. Va., and with his wife had been living at Grafton for about a year. Previous to their removal to Grafton the Guthries lived for two years in Toronto, O., their first place of residence after their marriage, where Mrs. Guthrie was well known and had many friends.

Husband Can Not Be Reached.

Futile efforts were made to reach Mr. Guthrie last night, but up to midnight he had not been advised of his wife's tragic end. A day or two ago he left his office in Grafton to go to Fairview, W. Va., to superintend some field operations and he has not yet returned to a point where he can be reached by wire.

At the Barber home in Titusville word was received last evening from Mrs. Lowrie, who is a sister of Mr. Guthrie, that Mrs. Guthrie had died suddenly while visiting at her home. No hint of Mrs. Guthrie having taken her life was allowed to get abroad in Titusville, and a message from that place stated that if the Barber family knew of the manner of Mrs. Guthrie's death the secret was carefully guarded by them. At 8 o'clock last evening Mrs. Guthrie's father started for Sewickley and his daughter's body will be taken to Titusville for burial.

Prominent in Titusville.

Mrs. Guthrie, previous to her marriage, was a prominent society woman in Titusville, but for some time before being married had suffered greatly from broken health. She was a graduate of the Titusville High school and a worker in the St. James Protestant Episcopal church at that place.

Besides her father, Mrs. Guthrie is also survived by her mother, three sisters and one brother, John R. Barber. One sister is the wife of S. H. Payne, manager of the Metric Metal Company of Erie. He is a son of C. M. Payne, who for years has been manager of the transit department of the Standard Oil Company, and one of Erie's most prominent citizens.

UP TO THE LADY.

BRISLIN HOPES NEWS IS UNTRUE

Cannot Believe That Decision Giving Him Millions Has Been Reversed by Higher Court.

FAITH OF THE AGED INVENTOR

Hoping that Judge Joseph Buffington's decision, making him a wealthy man, would be sustained by the United States court of appeals, John Brislin, the aged inventor, was shocked when he was informed last night that the court of appeals had reversed Judge Buffington. The blow to the old man was tempered, however, by his belief that the information was incorrect and that the court had made no decision.

Buoyed up by hope, Brislin, who was blind for seven years and who was run over by a wagon in Fifth avenue some weeks ago, has done his best to regain his health, so as to enjoy some of the millions which Judge Buffington's decision seemed to bring within his grasp.

Brislin's children fear that the news of the decision against him, when he has fully realized it, will kill him. He is 68 years old and has several children, all married but Miss Lizzie and William, who live with him at No. 24 Federal street.

Judge Buffington had decided that Brislin and Antonio Vinnee, the latter having been dead for some years, were the inventors of an automatic table for delivering hot steel ingots from the rollers in steel mills. The decision was given last September in a case in which Brislin was the plaintiff against the Carnegie company, and made the company liable for about $7,000,000, and as the same device is used in other mills in the country, it was estimated that the decision was worth $20,000,000 to the inventors. Brislin still owns a one-half interest in the invention. His attorney is J. Negley Cooke.

Late last night the news of the defeat of the old man was telegraphed to The Gazette from Philadelphia, and a call was made at Mr. Brislin's house. His daughter woke him up, and when she informed her father of the court's decision he remarked:

"Then I am a ruined man."

Brislin dressed himself to see the reporter. He could not believe the news.

"Why does it come so late at night?" he asked. "The court cannot have decided, for the court of appeals is not in session and the judges are in Atlantic City. No, you can't make me believe it is true. I'll have nothing to say until the news is confirmed."

In the opinion handed down yesterday the court of appeals decided that Brislin and Vinnee were not the pioneers in the invention of the device in dispute, but were merely improvers; that before the Brislin machine was patented there were many like inventions with foreign seals upon them. The judges held that there was no infringement by the Carnegie company.

NAVAL OFFICER CALLED ON TO FIGHT A DUEL

Alleged Familiarity With Woman at a Summer Resort Caused the Trouble.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

BAR HARBOR, ME., Aug. 6.—Society here is stirred by charges made by Mrs. Cornelia Baxter Tevis, widow of the western millionaire, that Lieut. John R. Edie, U. S. N., attached to the battleship Indiana, insulted her while making a call on her at her cottage some days ago.

Mrs. Tevis promptly laid the matter before Capt. Emery of the Indiana. In the meantime a duel between the naval man and Ernest A. Wiltse, fiance of Mrs. Tevis, was narrowly averted.

Mrs. Tevis has with her at her cottage here, her sister. One of her friends in the navy is Lieut. Charles S. Courtney. It was he who took Lieut. Edie to call upon Mrs. Tevis and Miss Baxter. It appears that Lieut. Edie got the impression that there was to be a lack of strict conventalities; that he and his chum were to have a lively evening with the western ladies. Very soon after the introductions he is said to have seated himself familiarly on the arm of Miss Baxter's chair. Just what happened is not definitely known but on the next day a Mr. Peters, a close friend of Mrs. Tevis, was sent out to the Indiana to lodge a complaint with Capt. Emery.

Lieut. Edie had the choice of weapons with Wiltse and he rejected the suggestion of swords, declaring that because of his training that weapon would give him an advantage over his adversary. Mr. Wiltse was willing to fight with pistols, and to this Lieut. Edie agreed.

A posse was organized and with bloodhounds set in pursuit of the negro, who escaped to the woods. The mob is fully armed and bent on lynching. Mrs. Stowe is in a critical condition as the result of her awful experience.

PICNICKERS IN TROLLEY WRECK

BRAKES WOULD NOT WORK

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

Sharon, Pa., Aug. 6.—One man was killed and 20 injured in a collision between two cars on the Youngstown and Sharon street car line at Chestnut Ridge, four miles southwest of here, this evening. The dead man is:

JOSEPH BEES, aged 65 years, of Sharon, crushed to death.

Those seriously hurt are:

ARCHIBALD TOTES, Sharpsville; cut by glass on face and neck.

MRS. E. SHEASLEY, Sharpsville; left arm broken, face and arms cut by glass, many bodily bruises.

MISS MAGGIE GEMMILL, Sharpsville; left arm broken and badly sprained.

WILLIAM HAYS, motorman, of Sharpsville; face cut by glass, right leg cut deeply, gashes in face.

CARL PETERS, Sharpsville; hands cut and back sprained.

LIZZIE SINCHER, Sharpsville; face cut and body contused.

ELMER ROSE, Sharon; right leg broken.

The accident occurred at 6.20. There were 100 people returning from the Presbyterian picnic at Idora park, at Youngstown, in the wreck and a dozen were hurt on the car. The picnic car was running 200 feet behind the regular car when the rope holding the trolley of the front car broke. While the employes were repairing the rope the picnic car crushed into the front car, telescoping it.

Motorman Hays, who had charge of the cars, made a valiant effort to stop his car, but something went wrong with the brakes. He remained at his post and succeeded in reducing the momentum of the car considerably before the crash came. Both ends of the cars were stoved in and they were welded tightly together. The body of Bees, who was a passenger, was pinned under the wreckage, and it was necessary to lift the cars with jacks in order to release his body. He was a well-known Sharon citizen. The seriously injured were taken to the Sharon hospital. It is thought all of them will recover.

BRENNEN HAS NOT DECIDED

Is Still in Conference With Himself on District Attorneyship.

LEADERS WORRIED

Decision Favorable to Bigelow Would Wreck the Highly Moral Plans of the Bosses.

CLARK MAKES A STATEMENT

W. J. Brennen is still thinking. He participated in four Democratic conferences yesterday, but so far he has been unable to decide whether or not he will stand as a candidate for district attorney. All the party leaders have assured him that they will stick with him no matter what happens.

James A. Clark last night broke silence. He made two important statements. One was that all the Democratic leaders had assured him that they will stick with him, no matter what happens.

James A. Clark last night broke his silence. He made two important statements. One was that all the Democratic leaders had assured Brennen of their intention to stand by him. The other was that he did not understand that Thomas S. Bigelow's statement that he would not agree to a Democrat being named as a fusion candidate for district attorney was given in the form of an ultimatum. Most of the Democrats here understood that Bigelow gave this as his final decision. When Clark was asked if he took Bigelow's conversation of Tuesday as an ultimatum, he made this statement:

"I did not understand it that way. In fact, I believe that there have not been any ultimatums on either side."

Bigelow Wants Goehring.

While Bigelow may not have put the proposition in the form of an ultimatum, Democratic leaders feel very confident that the head of the Citizens party will not agree to Brennen or any other Democrat. He insists that Harry L. Goehring must be the nominee. Goehring has been able to show Bigelow strong reasons why he should be named.

Now that Clark has declared that he will stand by Brennen to the limit, his list of Democratic supporters among the leaders is complete. If he surrenders to the demand of Bigelow, the responsibility will alone rest upon him. Even the so-called leaders do not know what Brennen intends to do. They are hopeful that he will stand out for the nomination, but none of them appear to be over-confident. Bulletins last night from inside sources indicated that the bosses thought the signs were just a bit more hopeful than at any time since Brennen went into conference with himself. His delay in coming to a conclusion has put them all on the anxious seat. Several of them really do not want fusion with Bigelow. If Brennen agrees to surrender his claim to the nomination it relieves Clark from any agreement to stand out against fusion. As he controls the Democratic committee he would be in a position to frustrate the real plans of some of the other leaders in forming an alliance with Bigelow's enemies in the Citizens party. The success of the "highly moral" scheme depends almost entirely on Brennen sticking to the point where Bigelow will be forced to refuse to deal with the Democrats. Such steadfastness would hold Clark.

Clark Makes a Statement.

After several conferences had been held yesterday Clark was induced to break the silence he had maintained since he returned from the west. This is what he said of the situation:

I have not been able to make formal reply to the suggestions of Mr. Bigelow and Major Hays. I was not able to make any proposition or to give any definite reples when I met them, for the reason that I had not yet conferred with the Democratic organization leaders. Questions such as we have before us now are not personal matters, and while it is true the naming of a fusion committee is in my hands, I want to get the views of the people who are called upon to assist in the direction of Democratic affairs. I especially wanted to have an interview with W. J. Brennen, whom the Democrats of Allegheny county have said they want nominated for district attorney, and I want to afford him opportunity to consult with his personal and political friends, for considerable responsibility rests upon his shoulders.

I have no doubt but that if Mr. Brennen

CRISIS AT HAND IN THE BALKANS

The Turkish Government Adopts Measures to Suppress Revolution.

POWERS GET NOTICE

Sultan Decides to Flood Macedonia With Mohammedans to Exterminate Christians.

THE WAR FEELING RUNS HIGH

[Special Cable to The Gazette.]

Vienna, Aug. 6.—It is only the most optimistic among statesmen here who do not believe that the long deferred crisis in the Balkans is at hand. On top of the news received yesterday that there had been a concerted rising of the revolutionary Macedonians in the Vilayat of Monastir comes the news today that the Turkish government is fully aware of conditions there and is prepared to meet them with unusual vigor.

The first step taken by the porte was to notify the European governments that the situation in European Turkey would be handled without gloves and that it was proposed hereafter to put down the insurrection and pacify Monastir regardless of consequences. Back of this is said to be a determination to flood Macedonia with Mohammedans and with savage Asiatics who will delight in putting Christians to the sword and who know no mercy.

The troops will be put under the command of the most fanatical Moslems to be found in the Turkish army and the war, which, already is practically inaugurated, will, it is feared, be one of ruthless extermination.

Many Turks Are Killed.

The plans of the revolutionary leaders have been well laid. Recognizing that they cannot hope to defeat the Turkish regulars on anything like equal terms they have determined to supplement the guerilla warfare, in which they are an expert as the Spaniards, with dynamite and terrorism. Already news comes that the governor's palace at Kirshevo, near Monastir, the capital of the Vilayat, has been dynamited and 50 Turks killed.

This will be followed by other similar attacks while, in the field, the revolutionists will avoid as far as possible anything like regular engagements, depending upon their familiarity with the country and their ability to move quickly and concentrate shattered bands in short order to attack, and overwhelm small detachments and garrisons of Turkish troops. It is safe to say few prisoners will be taken on either side.

The revolutionary leaders are confident that, pursuing this policy, they can either wear the Turks down or create a condition of anarchy that neighboring European states will be forced to interfere. There are in the affected district 8,000 Turkish troops and reinforcements are being pushed forward. The Turkish government realizes that this struggle practically will settle the question as to whether or not it will be compelled to relinquish its last hold on Europe and will spare no effort to put an end to a situation which is fast becoming intolerable in Europe.

Bulgarians Are Excited.

From Sofia comes word that the Bulgarians are greatly excited over the situation and that the war feeling is running higher than ever it did. It is said the best opinion at Sofia is that Bulgaria will inevitably be drawn into the struggle and that before long. People and army are not only ready but anxious, and the government is only restrained by outside pressure.

It is known that the Austrian and Russian foreign officers have been in communication over the critical state of affairs in the Balkans. Neither government wants war now, but the feeling is growing in high official circles that the situation is rapidly getting beyond control.

LONDON, Aug. 6.—A dispatch from Vienna says that the Macedonic central revolutionary committee has fixed August 31 as the date for a general rising and that Boris Sarafeff, one of the leading Macedonian agnators, has been appointed commander of the revolutionary forces, with Alexieff as his principal lieutenant.

LONDON, Aug. 7.—A letter from Yedda, dated July 21, reports that the notorious Kurdish chief, Mousa Bey, who was responsible for many of the Armenian outrages, has escaped from Medina with several other Kurdish chiefs, where they have been living in exile, and that all attempts to intercept them have failed. The sultan was so incensed that he ordered the immediate dismissal of the governor of Medina, this being the third time Mousa has escaped, having been recaptured twice. It is feared that he will reach Kurdestan and lead a new insurrection against the Turks, with, perhaps, a repetition of the atrocities in Armenia.

PITTSBURGH AUTOISTS HAVE ROUGH WEATHER

BOSTON, Aug. 6.—(Special.)—A Pittsburgh party consisting of J. M. Lockhart, H. L. Mason, S. A. McClune, George A. Kelly, Jr., I. G. Martin and James Gaffney, who are touring through New England in automobiles, reached this city today and looked decidedly bedraggled. Plowing through the rain and mud from Springfield had plastered machine and passengers with slime. The party will put in the next ten days about New England and then embark on the return trip, going as far as Silver Lake, N. Y., in autos. They have two 12 and 24-horse power machines.

Cossacks Kill Strikers.

KIEFF, RUSSIA, Aug. 6.—The strike in the railway and private workshops continues. An attempt by the strikers to interfere with railroad traffic led to a serious riot. The strikers were fired upon by Cossacks, who subsequently charged, killing and wounding many.

LAKE SUPERIOR BONDS HAVE BEEN SUBSCRIBED

Report That Pennsylvaia Railroad Interests Are Allied to the New Issue.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Aug. 8.—The $12,500,000 bond issue of the Consolidated Lake Superior Company has been underwritten by interests closely allied to the Pennsylvania railroad, according to report. To this report is attributed the buoyancy of Lake Superior stock yesterday and today.

The $12,500,000 loan is offered at 60 per cent to stockholders. At least $2,500,000 has been subscribed. This will bring the company $1,500,000 cash. The underwriting syndicate will have to look out for $10,000,000 of the bonds, which will cost them $6,000,000. In return therefore they will have an absolute hold on a property which cost about $30,000,000.

A Lake Superior investor said: "I think the underwriting syndicate will put the scheme through, and I believe many of the subscribers will be more close to the Pennsylvania railroad. The Pennsylvania stands to win in helping this company out."

CHESTER D. POTTER.

DEATH WON THE RACE.

Henry Lowe's Record-Breaking Ride Failed to Accomplish Purpose.

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—(Special.)—Henry E. Lowe, chief engineer of the United States Steel Corporation, learned when he reached Raton, N. M., in the special flyer in which he set out from New York in an attempt to reach his dying daughter in Los Angeles before life was extinct, that he had lost the race. The intelligence that the little girl had breathed her last early this morning was conveyed to the stricken father late in the afternoon.

Though death won, time may be defeated. Already the train, hired at an expense of $4,000, is ahead of its own schedule and hours ahead of the schedule of the California Limited, the fastest train in the Santa Fe service. If it continues its flight it will break the record established by the famous Peacock special. Mary Lowe, the child for whose sake the race was made, was 15 years old.

GREAT BANK MERGER ACCOMPLISHED AT LAST

J. P. Morgan Consolidates Two New York Concerns With Capital of $25,000,000.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—The details of the great bank merger were made known today. With an unprecedented capital of $25,000,000, the merger of the National Bank of Commerce and Western National bank has been consummated by J. Pierpont Morgan. The combined deposits of the banks aggregate $15,000,000. This brings to a realization the dream of Mr. Morgan of establishing the largest and most powerful bank on this continent. The merger will go into effect October 5.

The consolidated bank, which will retain the name, National Bank of Commerce, will have a surplus of $10,000,000. The capital of the National Bank of Commerce and the Western National each amounts to $10,000,000. The former will increase its capital to $25,000,000 and the Western to $12,500,000, but the latter will be used to take up the stock of the Western National, while $2,500,000 will be issued to the present stockholders at $140 a share.

In addition to this the shareholders of the National Bank of Commerce will receive a special equalization dividend of more than 50 per cent, which will mean a disbursement of over $5,000,000.

WALKED AWAY AFTER CAR WENT OVER HIM

After being rolled under a traction car for 20 feet on a brick-paved street in McKeesport yesterday, John Reaps, 4 years old, was found to have suffered no further injury than a small bump on his head. The car was running at moderate speed down grade in Locust street when John ran in front of it. He was knocked down and before the motorman could check the car the boy disappeared under the front platform. The car was stopped after running 20 feet and the passengers and employes jumped off, expecting to find the badly mangled body of the boy, but the little fellow got up and walked toward the sidewalk, rubbing his head.

HAD A ROUGH TIME.

Robert Collier and Wife Badly Used Up in a Yachting Trip.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Aug. 6.—(Special.)—After a terrifying experience during a heavy storm on Long Island sound in the steam yacht Conqueror, Robert J. Collier, the New York publisher, with Mrs. Collier, made New Haven harbor today, completely used up by the buffeting the yacht received. Mrs. Collier, who had been exhausted by social duties before leaving Newport, and who undertook the cruise in the hope of regaining her strength, was suffering severely from the shock.

Her condition is such that the trip has been abandoned. When she recovers sufficiently the party will return to New York by rail. The cruise was auspiciously begun, and but for its unfortunate termination today would have lasted several days longer. The yacht was not badly damaged by the storm. She will be taken back to Newport by the crew.

WANAMAKER DECLINES OVERTURES FROM QUAY

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 6.—John Wanamaker declines to be the party of the second part in Senator Quay's latest "exhibition of Christian charity." Mr. Wanamaker declares that Quay's offer of political amnesty is absurd. He admits that public questions still have a fascinating interest for him, but this is not the case with public office. Asked for an expression on the Quay-Frazier correspondence Mr. Wanamaker dictated the following:

"There is nothing in it whatever, and it is almost too absurd to discuss seriously at this time. I have no less interest in public questions than formerly, but I am not now concerning myself about them, and I will not accept any public office."

As far as Mr. Wanamaker's friends are concerned they regard the incident closed. They do not know what object Mr. Quay had, but they consider that Mr. Wanamaker's statement probably answers the senator's purpose.

But the selection of a candidate for the Forederer congressional vacancy is yet to be made. So outspoken has been the opposition on the part of the voters of the Fourth congressional district to the suggestion that the four city committeemen from that district nominate a candidate to succeed the late congressman, it is probable that a convention will be called and the nomination made in the regular way.

As yet no one knows when the election of a congressman will take place. It is taken for granted that it will be at the time of the regular fall elections, but that depends on Gov. Pennypacker. By the authority vested in him by the state constitution he sets the date for an election to fill congressional vacancies.

In regard to candidates, it is said that nothing definite will be done in the matter until the return of Insurance Commissioner Durham the first week in October.

CHESTER D. POTTER.

THOUSANDS WILL SEE CORONATION

Attention of Rome Now Centered on Solemn Ceremony to Take Place Sunday.

FOUR ARE TO GET RED HATS

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

ROME, Aug. 6.—The attention of Rome is now centered upon the solemn coronation ceremony which is to occur on Sunday and for which great preparations are being made. The throne of St. Peter's which Pius X. will occupy will be surmounted by a canopy 40 feet high. The function will consume five hours. The pope has informed the vatican officials that he wishes to be received on the threshold of the basilica by Cardinal Rampolla, who, as arch priest of the church, will address the formal greetings to him.

At the conclusion of the ceremony the pope will confer his blessing upon the people, but it has not yet been decided whether he will do so inside the church or from the balcony looking out upon the piazza, where many hoped he would bestow his benediction on the day of his election. It is said that Pius is favorable to the latter plan, but that the influence of the vatican officials is against it on the ground that it might be interpreted as a recognition of the present state of affairs in Italy.

The holding of the coronation ceremonies in St. Peter's itself presents a concession, as in the case of Leo it occurred in the Sistine chapel. Although it is expected that 60,000 tickets will be issued for the event, the demand for them is already very great.

Rome Celebrates Election.

In the consistories to be held Monday and Thursday next the pope will confer the red hat upon Cardinals Ajuti, Talisi, Katschthaler and Herrero y Espinose, who were raised from the purple June 25, but who have not yet received these symbols of rank because of the illness and death of Leo. It is believed that the Spanish cardinal Herrero will not be able to be present at the coronation ceremonies.

During one hour this morning there seemed to be nothing but vibrating sound, so penetrating were the strokes of the bells of about 500 churches which, all ringing together, absorbed all other noises. The ringing was in honor of the election of Pius X., a welcome unique of its kind and ordered by Cardinal Respighi, vicar of Rome. All the churches contemporaneously celebrated mass for the event.

The bells involuntarily served another purpose, that of calling the great ceremony of the reception of the diplomatic body, accredited to the holy see. The members of the sacred college gathered before the hour set for the ceremony and held a kind of informal reception. A procession was then formed. First came the Swiss guards, then the Palatine guard, followed in irregular ranks by the whole pontifical court, then bishops.

Pope Received Cardinals.

The pope, in spotless white, went on foot just as the others. The procession having gained the hall of the throne where the members of the diplomatic body were gathered, Senor d'Antas, the Portuguese ambassador and dean of the corps, read in a clear voice the collective greeting of his colleagues, presenting their homage to the new pope and assuring him of their fidelity.

Pius X. answered with great cordiality, thanking them heartily for their good wishes. All then kissed his hand, and the pontiff took this opportunity of speaking personally to each, showing a knowledge of the politics of the divers countries which comprised the diplomats, the new pontiff being credited with taking small interest in affairs outside of Italy. It was another surprise to them to hear him speak French, evidently at first with a certain readiness. Altogether the whole audience gave promise of a new era of international cordiality at the vatican.

Pius X. has appointed his conclavist, Mgr. Bressan, as his private chaplain, which means that he will also be the pontiff's chief private secretary.

Cardinal Gibbons, accompanied by his conclavist, Father P. C. Gaven, today visited the church of Santa Maria, in Trastevere, the cardinals titular church. He was warmly received by the whole chapter, headed by the canon and archpriest.

MUST PAY LICENSE

Chicago Police Ordered to Raid Clubs for Non-Payment of Fees.

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—(Special.)—"Because the clubs where millionaires enjoy themselves now owe the city a total of $500,000 for continued violation of the law requiring option licenses for the dispensing of liquor, their directors need not think they can continue to disregard the law."

Acting Mayor McGann made this statement today, when he directed detectives now gathering evidence to be prepared to take out warrants, possibly tomorrow for the arrest of officials of the prominent clubs of the city who refuse to take out licenses. He says they must pay $500 to the city for a bar license for their club or be arrested, unless liquor selling is dispensed with.

BRYAN STILL A CANDIDATE.

Nebraska Democrat Says He Will Be President, but Refuses to Tell When.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 6.—(Special.)—William J. Bryan still believes that some day he will be president of the United States. After the speech-making in Urbana yesterday Mr. Bryan spent several hours at the residence of John W. Bookwalter, a prominent Democrat of Springfield. To a newspaper man late last night he frankly admitted that he expected some day to be elected chief executive of the nation. Pressed for an answer as to whether he expects the Democrats to nominate him next year he promptly changed the subject and added Mr. Bookwalter's name to the list of the men he has indorsed as good presidential timber.

EX-LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR WEPT BEFORE GRAND JURY

JEFFERSON CITY, MO., Aug. 6.—Speer Whitecotton, who made charges on the floor of the house that books was used in the text book legislation, and former Lieut. Gov. John A. Lee, were examined by the grand jury today. Mr. Lee identified the Lee-Kelley telegrams and told of the transactions to which they related. He broke down while in the jury room and wept, and it was some time before he could resume composure and continue his testimony.

RETURNED FROM PICNIC; TOOK CARBOLIC ACID

Josephine Leech, aged 22 years, living with her parents at Franklin street and Allegheny avenue, Allegheny, swallowed carbolic acid at her home shortly after 8 o'clock last night. The young woman who was said to be subject to periods of melancholia, was at a picnic yesterday and returned home in a cheerful mood. She was found unconscious in her room by her father. She died at 1 o'clock this morning.

PIUS MAINTAINS LEO'S POSITION

Remarkable Utterance by Vannutelli on Late Pope's Famous Labor Encyclical.

WHAT CHURCH TEACHES

Not Theft to Take Coal or Bread When Freezing or Hungry—The Newly Elected Pontiff Makes Cavagnis Secretary of State.

[Special Cable to The Gazette.]

ROME, Aug. 6.—Cardinal Vincenzo Vannutelli, the younger of the two distinguished brothers in the sacred college, granted me an audience today. Cardinal Vannutelli said:

"The Italian government has no cause of offence because it was formally notified of the election. The whole world was notified when Cardinal Macci proclaimed the election. Formal notifications were given only to those countries with which the vatican maintains diplomatic relations. The United States were notified through our apostolic delegate at Washington.

"We all like Pius X. He will maintain Leo's famous encyclical on labor without adding to it. In America many think the encyclical is a new teaching and very modern, but it is old. Only the form is new. Our theologians always taught that the avarice of the rich should be opposed; that the taking of bread when starving or coal when freezing is not theft. It is a theological axiom that in extreme necessity all things become common. The pope sprang from the poor and sympathizes with democracy. He will arrive by gentle means at the desired result. He hates demagogy."

The pope has offered the secretaryship of state to Cardinal Satolli, former apostolic delegate to the United States. Cardinal Satolli declined and recommended Cardinal Cavagnis, who will accept. It develops that Satolli was one of the most influential electors of the conclave. The Romans call him the pope maker.

HEAVY FALL OF HAIL KILLS SHEEP IN CORRALS

Chunks of Ice Ten Inches Long Fell in Colorado Causing Great Damage.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

DENVER, COL., Aug. 6.—A very severe storm prevailed along the eastern slope of the Rocky mountains in Colorado and southern Wyoming last night. In some sections the hail fall was unprecedented. In the neighborhood of Greeley and Eaton, Col., chunks of ice, measuring in some instances 10 inches in length, fell. Sheep were struck dead in the corrals, and cattle and horses were severely injured. Farm houses and barns were wrecked and crops utterly wiped out of existence. Near Greeley a man named Johnson was severely bruised and rendered unconscious by the hail.

The hail lay on the ground in many places to a depth of two feet. The damage in and around Lafayette is estimated at $200,000.

AND THEY WERE MARRIED.

Pretty Hotel Waitress Secures a Husband in Spite of Obstacles.

Kissing everybody goodby from bootblack to clerk, petite Myrtle Lehman, a waitress at the Rome hotel, Duquesne way, yesterday morning signaled her intention of stealing away to Youngstown and "eloping married. She is said to be barely 18, the matrimonial age limit for girls in Ohio, and her youth and beauty have made many friends for her since she served her first customer at the hotel, about a month ago.

Proprietor William McMahon got wind of the projected marriage and wrote several letters to Youngstown, complaining against the age of the girl. She waited on his table, and he knew what a treasure he was losing.

Myrtle's heart was on the other way, however, and joining her fiance, Charles A. Missick, an electrician, outside of the Rome hotel, she went to the Lake Erie station, where they boarded a train for Youngstown. Once there the youthful pair had trouble in getting a license, but they finally landed one, and were united by Elder Whitelair. Myrtle had not returned to the hotel up to a late hour last night, although most of her belongings are still there. Proprietor McMahon refused to discuss the affair.

Y., and four guests, Joseph Cannon, speaker-to-be of the house of representatives; Congressman Vreeland of Salamanca; Congressman Emerson of Glen Falls, and Congressman Hemmingway of New York, left Burlington today on an automobile trip, the terminus of which is to be Mount Washington, White mountains.

Two automobiles, one a Winton of 20-horse power, the other a Packard of 12-horse power, both capable of making 30 miles an hour, are in use. They expect to be gone about a week.

JAWS OUT OF JOINT

Negro Put Two Golf Balls in His Mouth and Couldn't Get Them Out.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—(Special.)—George Johnson, a negro waiter at Fort Hamilton, is proud of his large mouth and for a small wager will put things into it to demonstrate its size. This morning two soldiers from the fort offered to bet Johnson $10 that he could not put two golf balls into his mouth at the same time and close his teeth. Johnson took the bet and won the money.

When he tried to open his jaws, he turned almost white and began gulping for breath. A physician was called and said that Johnson had sustained a double dislocation of the lower jaw.

TWO TELEPHONE GIRLS EXTINGUISH A BLAZE

Fire broke out in the Park station of the Bell Telephone Company, at Winthrop and Craig streets, Oakland, last night about 10:30 o'clock. The insulation around some of the wires in the terminal room burned out and a small fire resulted, which did no more damage than to scare the operators and put the station out of business for some time. The fire was quickly put out by Misses Duffy and Davis, who have charge of the station.

State Senator George Dead.

WELLSBURG, W. VA., Aug. 6.—(Special.)—Samuel George, banker, capitalist and member of the state senate, died today at the age of 75 years. He was one of the most prominent men in the Panhandle and was identified with a score of business and manufacturing enterprises in this and adjoining counties. He was born near Independence, Pa., and lived here ever since his 17th birthday. He was married three times. His widow and nine children survive him.

Advises Against Sympathy Strike.

An effort has been made by the strikers at the Fort Vue plant to induce the finishers to come out on a sympathy strike. The company signed the scale of the tin plate finishers the same day the hot mill men struck. President Farrell of the association advises the men not to come out.

ANOTHER VICTIM ADDED TO THE SHERADEN DISASTER LIST

After lingering for almost 15 months in ill-health, John J. Kennedy, a Panhandle fireman, is dead—a victim of the Sheraden disaster of May, 1902. Kennedy was 41 years old and single. His death occurred at the home of his brother, George F. Kennedy, No. 2144 Wylie avenue. At the time of the disaster Kennedy was working in the Panhandle yards and was assisting in putting out the fire when the explosion that cost so many lives occurred. He was thrown to the ground and badly burned. He was taken to the home of his brother and gave a graphic description of the scenes after the awful explosion. Subsequently he refused to read in the papers anything that referred to the disaster, and seemed to have a horror at the thought of the thing. Then he began acting queerly and was taken to the hospital, where he remained until several weeks ago. Although his burns were apparently not serious, he sank slowly during all the months he was confined to his room. He was a member of Panhandle lodge No. 541, of the Locomotive Engineers. The funeral will take place this morning from St. Brigid's church.

CASSATT'S NOTED COOK DROPS DEAD ON DUTY

Had Served Two Pennsylvania Railroad Presidents and Baked Corn Cakes for Li Hung Chang on Thomson's Private Car.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 6.—"Joe" Green, in charge of A. J. Cassatt's private car, fell dead today in the Pennsylvania station. He had gone there to look over Mr. Cassatt's car.

Green had been with the Pennsylvania since 1850, starting as a mule driver. In 1874 he took charge of the car of Frank Thomson who was then general manager. He was through the Pittsburgh riots in 1877 with Mr. Thomson and saw the car burned by a mob.

Green was sent to Chicago by President Thomson to supervise the building of the kitchen compartment of his new car. His last trip was made with this same car, on July 6, when he accompanied Mr. Cassatt to Bar Harbor.

Green's claim to distinction lay in the fact that he could prepare good old-fashioned southern dishes and that he eschewed French methods. No "fancy cooking" was permitted in the president's car while he was in charge, and his bill of fare seemed to tickle the palates of the men whom Presidents Thomson and Cassatt entertained.

When Li Hung Chang visited this country he was carried back and forth in President Thomson's car. He wanted a special American dish one day and Mr. Thomson told Green to "give the Chinaman some old-fashioned corn cakes cooked on the griddle." Li managed to get away with a whole plate of the cakes and ignored the rest of the meal. It will be remembered that the old viceroy was of a very inquiring turn of mind. When he finished dinner he turned to Green and asked:

"What do you get a year for cooking meals like this?"

"Joe," who had been warned to look out for Li's questions, promptly answered:

"Mr. Thomson pays me $5,000 a year, sir."

Li was for a moment staggered by the figures, but soon recovered and said: "These cakes are fine, but $5,000 is too much to pay for a cook. I think I shall tell Mr. Thomson to cut it down to $4,000, if you've no objections."

BLEW DOWN TREES AND ELECTRIC WIRES

Strong Wind and Heavy Rain Causes Light Damage in the Cities and Suburbs.

Pittsburgh and the surrounding country was drenched yesterday by the heaviest downpour of rain which has visited this vicinity for a week. In the suburbs the storm was reported to have been more severe than in the city, and the strong wind, which accompanied the rain, blew down trees and electric light poles in places just outside the city limits. The storm did not continue for more than an hour, but in that time there was a fall of rain that was heavy.

Not until late in the afternoon were there any indications that the rain predicted by the weather man for Pittsburgh would arrive, as the sky was clear and bright all day and the atmosphere just before the storm broke was becoming much hotter than felt in this section during this week. About 5 o'clock the sky suddenly clouded over and rain in large drops began to fall. Soon there was a heavy downpour and people on the streets were compelled to hurry to find shelter or be drenched, as the storm was as heavy as it was sudden.

The severe rain and wind storm that swept the Allegheny valley last night caused some damage in Allegheny. A large tree at Jefferson street and Shields alley was blown down and carried with it electric light and telegraph wires. Some of the trees in the parks were damaged by the wind, and several small landslides on East Ohio and Spring Garden avenue delayed street car traffic for a time.

John G. Leaserer, a brakeman of Zellenople, was knocked from a freight train near Bakerstown, on the Pittsburgh & Western road, last night by the limb of a tree that was blown down by the wind. He was taken to the Allegheny General hospital.

JURY IS REJECTED.

Defense in Caleb Powers Case Claims the Venire Is Defective.

GEORGETOWN, KY., Aug. 6.—(Special.)—Because the jury selected from the special venire of 100 men in Harlan county is composed exclusively of Democrats, the defense in the case of Caleb Powers today refused to accept it. As negroes are not permitted to serve on juries in Kentucky, it is difficult to find available Republicans in so strong a Democratic county.

The defense moved to dismiss the entire venire of 100 men and charges were made against the sheriff saying he had not discharged his duties impartially. The motion was overruled. The defense then excercised its right and challenged one by one the jury chosen.

A jury was obtained this evening, after counsel for the defense had exhausted all their peremptory challenges, and five complete panels had been broken. The defense will make a motion tomorrow similar to that of this morning, asking the dismissal of the panel as partisan.

WHITE MAN'S RULE OPPOSED

Natives of Hawaii Object to Spending Money for Roads and Sidewalks.

HONOLULU, Aug. 6.—(Special Cable.)—The native party in Hawaii has become more hostile to the white element than ever before and openly announces that it will neither nominate nor support a single white man for any county office.

Charles Noley, a Hawaiian, who was a home rule nominee for senator last fall, and is one of the recognized leaders of the party, says that the whites in the last legislature added $2,000,000 to the debt of the territory for roads and other improvements. "Hard roads are harder to walk on for a barefooted man than soft roads or paths. We don't want hard roads and we don't want sidewalks," said he.

Death of William Robinson.

William Robinson, 73 years old, for 24 years a justice of the peace in Sharpsburg, died yesterday morning of old age at his home, No. 1730 Middle street, Sharpsburg. He was born in Indiana township, and after the township was divided he followed the occupation of a farmer and for five years held the office of justice of the peace in O'Hara township. About 25 years ago he removed to Sharpsburg, where he became prominent in the town's politics. At the last election he was defeated for reelection and Justice Robinson for 46 years was a member of the Grace Methodist Protestant church. His widow and two grandchildren survive.

City and Traction Officials Agree.

At a conference yesterday between McKeesport city officials and Supts. Demmy and Long of the Pittsburg Railways Company, it was agreed that some rails of the traction company in Evans avenue are unfit for use. The work of placing the rails had been stopped by the police, and Detectives Frederick Lamp and Samuel O'Hara have been placed on duty in order to prevent further work being done.

Police Bureau Shifts.

Former Police Inspector Robert S. Gray has accepted the position of sergeant at No. 3 police station, and reported for duty last night. Since he was demoted from his old position on the East End he has been at Atlantic City. William McClintock, who was appointed sergeant by the present administration, refused to accept the position of patrol clerk in the inspector's office at Central station.

POLICEMEN BOUGHT TICKETS IN A LOTTERY

Authorities Find Headquarters for Their Distribution and Arrest the Operator.

W. J. Criswell of No. 209 Water street was arrested yesterday by Inspector Bernard McStay on a charge of conducting a lottery office. He is alleged to be the agent for the Honduras National Lottery Company of Fort Erie, Canada. Criswell, it is said, has been doing business at his office for over two years. Policemen bought several lottery tickets for the drawings of August from Criswell. Lists of the official drawings for the Honduras Company, with a large number of lottery tickets and books, were found in the office and taken to the police station.

Superintendent McElhe was informed that the business had been carried on extensively throughout Western Pennsylvania through Criswell, whose office was almost besieged by some of his patrons in this city were rivermen and residents of the lower wards. In addition to this he carried on a large business through the mails. In all probability the postoffice authorities will take up the matter, as it is against the postal laws to distribute lottery tickets through the mails or to solicit their sale by that means.

The Honduras Company is part of the old Louisiana State Lottery, which was broken up and driven out of that state and New Orleans some years ago. The Kentucky State Lottery Company was also driven out of the state of Kentucky and the city of Louisville about the same time.

Criswell will be committed to jail this morning, pending an investigation of the case. He refused to give his place of residence.

THIEF TOOK HIS TIME

Carried Sleeper's Clothes Into the Hall, Where He Rifled Them at Leisure.

Fred Jeffries, bar tender at the Brunswick hotel at Federal and Isabella streets, Allegheny, is the victim of a cool thief. Jeffries lives at the house of Mrs. Miller, No. 21 East Robinson street. He opens the bar in the morning at 5 o'clock and works until noon. Shortly after noon yesterday Jeffries went to his room and to bed. When he awoke last evening he had lost a $20 gold watch, a bunch of keys belonging to the hotel and some small change.

The manner in which the thief worked, the police think, shows that he is either an amateur or a very bold robber. Jeffries' room door was not locked, and the thief entered, carried all Jeffries' clothes out into the hall and rifled them. When he left the house he was met in the lobby hall by Mrs. Miller, whom he accosted in a polite way. Mrs. Miller supposed he had been calling on one of the boarders and paid little attention to him.

When Jeffries began looking for his clothes last night about 7 o'clock he could not find them until going into the hall, where they were lying as the thief had left them.

STARVING IN QUARANTINE.

Philadelphia Judge Delays Relief for Family Afflicted With Smallpox.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 6.—(Special.)—Charging the board of health with starving Norman R. Hyland, his wife and three children, who are under smallpox quarantine at their home, No. 2257 Gratz street, Attorney C. Oscar Beasley today obtained a writ of habeas corpus from Judge Davis to secure the family's liberty. The judge first said that the writ would have to be placed on the regular list, which will not come up until September.

"But the family is actually starving to death," Mr. Beasley remonstrated.

"I regret the unfortunate circumstances, but you see my attention is claimed by a dock full of prisoners," said Judge Davis. "But they are being fed, the city says, while my people are starving," the lawyer retorted.

Judge Davis said that he would grant the writ, but would fix no date for hearing, whereupon the attorney stated that he would come into court tomorrow and renew his application for an immediate inquiry.

WOULD NOT MARRY HIM; AFRAID HE WOULD SHOOT

Miss Minnie Valandingham of No. 2618 Penn avenue rushed into the Twelfth ward police station yesterday afternoon and asked the sergeant for protection. She said that Louis Smith of No. 1715 Penn avenue had threatened to shoot her, and was lying in wait for her. The sergeant arrested the man.

Smith had no revolver, but it is alleged that he showed one to Mrs. Valandingham, mother of Minnie, and threatened to shoot Minnie if she did not marry him. The couple boarded at No. 2328 Penn avenue for seven months. Smith is employed at the Schoenberger works, having charge of an electric crane.

Cassatt Not Seeking Divorce.

PARIS, Aug. 6.—Anthony Drexel telegraphs from North Berwick, a contradiction of the report cabled from New York to London that divorce proceedings are pending between Robert K. Cassatt and his wife. There is no foundation for this report, which has already been contradicted by A. J. Cassatt.

X-RAYS SCORCHES THE PHYSICIANS

Edison Not the Only One Who Is Suffering from Powerful Light.

EXPERT TALKS OF THE BURNS

Dr. Eising, a Noted New York Specialist, Says Constant Exposure Results in Bad Effects—Precautions Taken to Prevent Injuries.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—The injury to the eyesight of Thomas A. Edison, the famous inventor, and the loss of both arms of one of his workmen, resulting from experiments with X-rays, has created great interest among the many New York physicians who are continually exposed to the danger. A tour made of all the large New York hospitals where the X-rays are used generally revealed the fact that a great number of physicians had felt the bad effects of the penetrating rays. Dr. Eugene Eising, the noted X-ray specialist of the Mt. Sinai hospital, talked quite freely of his experiments with the rays and the injuries he recently suffered.

"The case of Mr. Edison," said Dr. Eising, "is only an aggravated case of what many physicians and patients have experienced. The rays have repeatedly had a destructive effect upon the retina of the eye, hardly noticeable at first and preventable only by using the greatest care. Mr. Edison, whose whole interest is always centered in his work, has naturally neglected the symptoms until his sight was endangered. The great inventor has had a narrow escape. The fact that the light of the rays seems so soft and so absolutely harmless undoubtedly deceived him, as it has several physicians here, whose hands have suffered from the continued exposure to it.

"From personal experience I can say that after having given X-ray treatment daily to my patients for about four months I myself developed a most painful case from the effect. I continued two months longer, but I was forced to stop. Since then I have been, I would not say, extremely careful. The great trouble with all of us is that we forget to take advantage of all available precautions. But I have been more careful than before. I understand that several London physicians have also been burned on the hands and I do not feel surprised, as they have probably shown the same carelessness as we did here.

"While we always protect the face and especially the eyes of our patients with sheets of lead foil, we neglect to protect our hands until too late. Several kinds of gloves have been invented for protecting the hands, but as yet none have proved satisfactory. One kind which is mostly used in England consists of a thin, flexible glove with an outer covering of lead foil, jointed in the fingers, which affords absolute protection. Another kind which has been tried with partial results by many American physicians is made like an ancient coat of mail of little steel ringlets together. Excellent is also the bismuth glove, consisting of a double glove with a layer of bismuth, which is absolutely impervious to the rays. The objection to all these gloves, however, is that they hinder the operators' freedom of movement, all being too heavy and clumsy.

"The rays will always rapidly affect the skin, though from personal experience I know of no case where a limb has been lost. This would probably result from a spreading necrosis of the bone, the possibility of which is by no means excluded, as the rays penetrate through a human limb as easily as daylight passes through glass.

"The ruby light treatment of lupus, as well as the rays from the newly discovered radium, also seem to be very injurious effects on the tissues of the human body. Experiments with radium, as for 88 I know, have not been tried here, as the metal is extremely scarce."

IDAHO SENATOR TO WED AFTER A LONG ROMANCE

Pennsylvania Woman to Become the Bride of Her Friend in Youth.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

SPOKANE, WASH., Aug. 6.—A romance extending over a quarter of a century will come to a happy climax next Wednesday, when Weldon Brinton Heyburn, United States senator from Idaho, will marry Miss S. Gheratine Yeatman of Chester county, Pa.

Years ago young Heyburn met Miss Yeatman, like himself, a Pennsylvanian of Quaker ancestry, and they became friends. In 1884 the young lawyer came west and settled in Idaho. He became a leader of the bar, acquired wealth and last winter became United States senator.

Senator Heyburn has left for the east and it is announced that his marriage with Miss Yeatman will take place next Wednesday, probably at the home of the bride's mother. A wedding trip to Spokane and Alaska will follow.

SMOTHERED TO DEATH

Remarkable Atmospheric Depression Killed Animals in Dakota.

SIOUX CITY, IA., Aug. 6.—(Special.)—A most remarkable atmospheric depression is reported from Oscoma, S. D. It last only a few minutes. Nearly every kitten less than six months old in the vicinity of Oscoma, died. Eighteen head of cattle in one drove were seen coming down from the flats, eight of them fell to the ground.

A farmer ran and found six of the eight dead. John Morris, a stockman, living on White river, reports the loss of six head the same day.

BROKER WAS ARRESTED; WOMAN MAKES CHARGE

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—(Special.)—Accused by Miss Blanche Smith of Milwaukee of appropriating to his own use $53,600 of her money, Joseph Cowan, aged 28, a member of the firm of Joseph Cowan & Co., brokers at 44 Broadway, was arrested today. William M. Bannerman, who says he was Cowan's partner in the brokerage business until a few days ago, when it was sold to Edward T. C. Sloane of Pittsburgh, denounced the arrest as an outrage.

"We have been threatened with trouble if we did not give up a certain amount of money," said Bannerman. "This index to our ledger containing names of customers was stolen, and we know that former customers were communicated with, for some of them called on us."

Size of Beer Glasses to Be Reduced.

The McKees Rocks, Esplen and Stowe Township Liquor Dealers' Protective association, has been organized, with the following officers: H. A. Rupp, president; William Brady, secretary, and Al Young, treasurer. One immediate effect of this organization, which has about 40 members, will be changes in the size of beer glasses. The retail dealers claim that this is made necessary on account of a raise in the price of eighths to $1.10, from $1.

indicates he will stand as a candidate for the district attorneyship the Democratic leaders will stand for him to a man, no matter what happens. Therefore, he should have time to consider the proposition before him. While the matter is nominally in my hands, according to the county convention's action and subsequent events, the question has been tossed about to Mr. Brennen. I expect to be able to say something definite within 48 hours.

Numerous conferences were held yesterday at which Brennen was urged to agree to sending Bigelow word that the Democrats would insist upon the district attorney nomination. The first occurred in the morning and was attended by Controller John P. Larkin, County Chairman Thomas B. Alcorn, Clark and Brennen. It was lengthy and the entire situation was gone over. Every man urged Brennen to stick. In the afternoon Brennen saw Guffey and both talked with Clark. Last night Guffey and Brennen had another long talk, and it is thought they then saw Clark.

Poke Says It Is News.

At least part of the Soffel family is getting back into the Republican party. Peter K. Soffel is working for William A. Blakeley, a Republican candidate for district attorney. Soffel is connected with the Wabash railroad and has a large acquaintance along the route of the new road in the county. The work of putting up delegates for Blakeley in this district has been intrusted to Soffel.

Peter Soffel, Sr., is the boss of the Citizens party in the Thirty-second ward, having flopped to it from the Republican ranks when he found the Citizens in power. His son Jacob is the common councilman in the ward, and the whole family was in line for Bigelow. Now that Peter, Jr., has turned up in the Republican camp, there is a good deal of comment.

Some time ago Soffel displayed a list of the delegates he had put up for Blakeley in the Thirty-second ward. Among the number was Henry Poke, whom the Citizens elected select councilman last February. The matter was reported to Harry Goehring, Bigelow's candidate for district attorney, who in turn presented the case to Murry A. Verner. He promised to call the elder Soffel in for an explanation.

Poke was asked about the matter last night, but he said that if he was slated as a delegate it was without his knowledge and remarked that he did not expect to stand for Blakeley.

SANITARY AGENT NAMED

O'Hara the First of the Townships to Apply to Court. Smallpox in Pittsburgh.

The board of school directors of O'Hara township, through their attorney, George W. Bratwner, yesterday presented a petition to the court and a sanitary agent appointed to look after the contagious diseases in the township. This move was in accordance with the plans of the school board, formulated at its meeting on Wednesday.

There are many townships wherein health boards do not exist, and the school boards of these townships have recently presented similar petitions to courts asking for a sanitary agent to act under the law of 1895 to suppress smallpox. The court appointed Peter S. Duganne as sanitary agent for O'Hara township.

There are three cases of smallpox in the township now, and it is alleged they are traceable to the concealment of the case of George Kurtz, a boy who died of the disease.

Eight cases of smallpox were reported to the Pittsburgh bureau of health yesterday. They were: Irene Mitchell, Reineman hospital, Mellwood street; Helen Harris, 20 years old, of Kinneys and Kings streets; John Kea, 25 years old, No. 121 Forty-fifth street; Robert Borwell, 25 years old, 141 Forty-fifth street; Mary Schilling, 20 years old, St. Martins street; Mary Montgomery, 9 years old, Dallas avenue; J. H. Wood, 50 years old, No. 7111 Kelly street, and Maud Borger, colored, 25 years old, No. 2302 Preble avenue.

There are four new cases of smallpox in Ross, the total reported yesterday. They are John Landerfield of Butler street, and a young man from Ohio named Smith, who is visiting him, reported Wednesday, and Mrs. Roop and Miss Miller of Cherry street.

PENALTIES REMITTED.

Ohio State Officials Release Corporations from Payment of Millions of Dollars.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 6.—(Special.)—Gov. Nash, Secretary of State Laylin and Attorney General Sheets today remitted penalties aggregating $14,000,000, for which 330 corporations were liable by their failure to pay the fees, required under the Willis capital stock tax act, within the time fixed by law.

The law provides that all such fees must be paid before June 1, and prescribes a penalty of $100 and $500 per day for each day of delinquency. The corporations paid their fees between July 14 and July 31. Three hundred corporations have not yet complied with the law.

Runaway Girl Taken Home.

Mary Capehart, 15 years old, of Morgantown, W. Va., was arrested in McKeesport yesterday. She is the daughter of John Capehart of Morgantown, who notified the McKeesport police several days ago that his daughter and another girl had run away and would probably be found in McKeesport. The girl's father arrived in McKeesport last evening and took his daughter home.

BLUE LAW PLEAS PUZZLE JUSTICE

Carnegie Superintedents and Railroad Agents Denied Committing an Offense.

MILLMEN WERE DISCHARGED

Decisions Reserved in Other Cases, Including That of a Braddock Liveryman—Opposing Views of Attorneys. Libel Suit Grows of the Agitation.

Two sets of hearings for alleged violations of the blue laws were held yesterday, one in Wilkinsburg by Justice J. J. Walker, and the other in Pittsburgh by Alderman C. F. Anderson. Walker reserved his decision in all the cases before him, while Anderson withheld his decision in all but the cases of the three Carnegie company superintendents charged with working on Sunday.

The suits in Wilkinsburg were brought by the druggists' committee of five, in retaliation for their prosecutions by the committee of 12 of Wilkinsburg's church members. The prosecutions before the alderman were entered by an employe of the Steeplechase Amusement Company of Kennywood park, in retaliation for the accusation of Sabbath-breaking brought against employes of the company.

The hearing before Alderman Anderson began at 4 p. m. J. A. Craver, a detective, testified that on Sunday he saw Edward Marshall, a Braddock liveryman, at his place of business giving directions and that he saw two rigs driven out of the stable. Attorney I. F. Mayberry asked that the case against Marshall be dismissed, but the alderman withheld his decision.

Attorneys Differ Greatly.

J. W. Hare and John Whitfield, ticket agent and assistant ticket agent of the Pennsylvania railroad at Braddock, were called. Craver testified that on Sunday he saw one of them selling tickets and transacting the duties of his position, and another one giving directions about handling a number of cans on the station platform. Attorney Thomas Watson tried to show that the delivery of milk was a work of necessity and that tickets could be sold to people going to church, and he asked that the cases be dismissed. The alderman postponed his decision.

Attorney Charles A. O'Brien, for the prosecution, maintained that the work done the defendants came clearly within the things prohibited by the blue laws.

Thomas James, one of the superintendents of the Edgar Thomson steel works, charged with Sunday work, was not present, having gone to Canada on a vacation before the information against him was made, but Supts. Thomas Cosgrove, George Harris and George England, charged with the same offense, were there. Detective Craver testified that he saw Cosgrove "seemingly" giving orders in the mill yard and that he saw Harris and England going into the mill. That was all there was against them and they were discharged. Attorney L. H. Burnett appeared for them, N. A. Bendel, special officer of the Carnegie company, was at the hearing. Alderman Anderson said he would give his decision in a few days on all the cases not dismissed.

Causes a Libel Suit.

The Steeplechase Amusement Company, operating at Kennywood park, yesterday entered suit for $20,000 damages for libel against H. P. Wiggins and A. D. Slocum, owners of the Homestead News Messenger. The statement, in its reference to the objectionable article, which related to the conditions at Kennywood park on Sunday, May 24, says:

Yet the same defendants, well knowing the premises but greatly annoying the happy condition of said plaintiff and conniving and wickedly and maliciously intending to injure the plaintiff in its said good name, fame and credit, and to bring it into public scandal, infamy and disgrace, and caused it to be suspected and believed that the said plaintiff had been guilty of faking the public and cheating the public by charging fees of admission for which no return was given, and giving immoral and indecent shows on said premises, did publish, etc.

The article referred to appeared in an issue of May 25 which was headed "Kennywood Park Running Wide Open. Everything Went There Yesterday. No Regard Paid to the Law." The libel is quoted in the statement, was followed by an alleged report of the day previous at Kennywood in which one of the descriptions was:

The fake shows in connection with the steeplechase, the new attraction so much is heard about, had their doors wide open and loud-mouthed fakirs cried out the list of attractions to be seen inside, after the style of the side show men with a circus.

REAL ITALIAN MUSIC.

Exposition Society Has Engaged the Conductor of the Royal Band.

As far as instrumental organizations are concerned, the musical scheme for the coming season at the new Exposition is now fully complete. Four favorites are on the list—Creatore, Sousa, Damrosch and the Fadettes—while a newcomer entirely is Oreste Vessella, conductor of the Royal Italian band, who will be heard during the week beginning October 5. Vessella has worked the temperament of his race to such a degree that music under his interpretation fairly glows into melodic beauty. In richly melodious music, for example, like that of Rossini, his conceptions are declared to stand absolutely alone. Vessella's engagement is to be made notable by the addition of Italian vocalists.

A radical innovation now being considered by the new exposition management is the engagement of a small Hungarian or Neapolitan orchestra for the big main building between the concerts given in the music hall. Should the plan materialize, the players will be located on a platform projecting from the balcony.

BAILEY FOUGHT HARD TO DIE AND DEFEATED THE PHYSICIANS

R. S. Bailey wanted to die, and he did. He was in jail on a charge of larceny and did not care to face the court. He was aided in his determination by the fact that the courts are not in session, and it took Warden Edward Lewis seven hours to secure an order for the man's removal to Mercy hospital to undergo an operation. At the hospital he resisted so strenuously that the physicians were three hours getting him on the operating table. The doctors say the operation was performed too late, and Bailey died early yesterday morning of blood poisoning. His body will be removed to his home in Wellsville, O., this morning.

HAS FILTER IN HIS CELLAR

Reports of the Bureau of Health Are Increasing Peoples' Anger at the Delay in Filtration—Demand for Pure Water Apparatus.

Ten new cases of typhoid fever were reported yesterday to the Pittsburgh bureau of health.

The typhoid fever cases reported to the bureau of health yesterday is but one day's record, and a light record it is, compared with some others that have recently been made of the toll of human lives which the water supplied to Pittsburgh is taking every day. Among the thousands of consumers of Allegheny river water every delay in starting the building of filters is arousing a sentiment that is daily growing stronger. The average man has but a faint idea of the general prevalence of the smouldering anger with which the people view the procrastination, lasting now for years, that has characterized those charged with the duty of watching over the health of the city of Pittsburgh. As the average man is eagerly awaiting the day when the water supplied to him through the city's mains shall be filtered, but a moment's consideration will show him that there are thousands like him, who, even if they do not talk much about filtration, yet are as vitally interested as he, and are just as angry about it as he is.

The dealers in household water-distilling apparatus, in filters and in distilled water, report an enormous increase in the sales of means for purifying water, and the pure water. Everybody is interested in filters, apparently despairing of ever getting water that is filtered before it enters the distributing mains. Scores of Pittsburghers are at work trying to construct home-made filters of some kind, and are reading up on bacteriology and on chemical analysis.

Neighbors Flock to See Snell's Filter.

Henry Snell of No. 2230 Bedford street has had experience showing the interest the people take in filtration. In the cellar of his home Mr. Snell has had for a long time a sand filter of his own design and patent, filtering the water for use in his household. The filter is constructed on a comparatively large scale for a private house, and scores of Mr. Snell's neighbors have got pure water from his cellar. The water is clear and healthful. From a chemical analysis which Mr. Snell had made, it appears that the product of his apparatus is equal in quality to good spring water, free from bacteria and with a very low percentage of albuminoid ammonia.

Mr. Snell's filter is composed of a series of vertical chambers filled with sand and ranged, seven in number, alongside of one another. The water enters the first chamber at the top, percolates downward through the sand, and flows into the bottom of the next chamber, rises through sand to the top, and flows at the top into another chamber, repeating the process of downward and upward flowing until it reaches the bottom of the last chamber, whence it is drawn for use out of a tap. The filter can be so constructed as to procure a permanent flow into a basin or reservoir, thence to be diverted into pipes to supply a city if need be.

Mr. Snell thinks his plan is better than to have horizontal basins, over which the water flows and through which it percolates. Mr. Snell asserts that a 10-acre plant of his design will do the work of a 1-acre plant of the design contemplated for the city by the filtration commission.

J. A. Breneman of the Duquesne chemical laboratory, analyzed the water, taking a sample from the effluent pipe of Mr. Snell's filter, and a sample of water flowing from the city main into the filter. His analysis showed that in the water from the hydrant the percentage of free ammonia was 0.03, and the percentage of albuminoid ammonia 0.12, whereas in the water taken from the filter the free ammonia percentage was 0.02 and the percentage of albuminoid was 0.08. As the figures represent parts of impurities in 1,000,000 parts of water, the free ammonia was reduced by filtering 50 per cent and the albuminoid ammonia 58 per cent. In a bacteriological analysis made by Mr. Breneman, the hydrant water showed by count 1,600 bacteria in a cubic centimeter, about 10 drops of water, and the filtered water 27 materia, the living microbes being reduced 98 2-10 per cent by passing through the filter.

The Mayor Expects Haste.

Mayor Hays realizes the impatience felt by the people, and he said yesterday that when Director E. M. Bigelow of the department of public works returned he would talk with the director and do anything possible to hasten the building of a filtration plant. The mayor said he thought that when councils meet in September the director and the councilmanic committee will be ready to report on the plans asked by councils.

It was reported yesterday that Director Bigelow would return to Pittsburgh last night, but the mayor does not expect him before Saturday. Shortly after his arrival he and the committee will hold a meeting. Probably several meetings will be held this month to hasten the preparation of plans and estimates.

Muscat Sprung a New Ruse.

When Myer Muscat, a milk dealers of No. 1037 Fifth avenue, was called before Alderman Charles F. Anderson for a hearing on a charge of removing a smallpox placard which had been placed on his door, Muscat promptly notified the alderman that if sent to jail his children must accompany him. The suit was brought by Chief Sanitary Officer Shannon of the bureau of health. Muscat produced two small children and the alderman intimated that he might have borrowed them as a ruse to escape being sent to jail. After telling Muscat to leave his children at home, the hearing was postponed till this morning.

Vandals Cut Telephone Wire.

Ten of the large trunk lines owned by the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Telephone Company, between Homestead and Pittsburgh, were cut near Hays station early yesterday morning and the service seriously crippled for several hours.

Friday, August 7, 1903.

Congratulations are in order upon the decision of the trades council and builders' exchange to call off the strike and lock-out and arbitrate their differences. This is the sensible solution for the difficulty, and while we applaud it we cannot refrain from reminding the parties to the dispute that this arrangement might as easily have been made at the beginning as after losses have been inflicted upon themselves and the community. It is gratifying, however, to note that the principle of conciliation is gaining ground and that the resort to arbitration is becoming more frequent throughout the country.

It requires a deal of conferring to make any headway in the deal between the Democrats and Citizens for a further division of the spoils of office. In former campaigns it was not difficult to reach conclusions, but in the present situation neither of the two organizations has much hope of victory. It may seem odd that they should have more trouble in agreeing upon a division of empty honors than they had in apportioning the fair chances in their winning campaigns, but such is the fact. Meantime, the reorganized Republican party is in good position to secure control and to restore responsible party management of public affairs.

President Roosevelt has again given evidence that he cannot be bluffed out. A race question was recently introduced in the naval service and an intimation given out that colored men were to have no place in the future of that organization. The reply has been prompt in the promotion of a colored man to be chief petty officer on the training ship Columbia. And it will require more than the combined influence of the midshipmen and the "lily white" organization in the south to force the president of the United States to disregard the amendments to the Constitution. President Roosevelt is not hunting issues of this kind, but he is not the sort of soldier that flinches from the conflict when it is forced upon him.

The fear is growing that instead of rejecting the Panama canal treaty the Colombian congress may take the equally objectionable course of asking an extension of time or of making material amendments. In either case the matter would have to go back to the United States senate to meet again the opposition of Senator Morgan as chief advocate of the Nicaragua route, and the more insidious, if not more dangerous opposition of the element that wants no canal at all. It is an unfortunate situation. The administration has done its best to further this project so necessary to the commercial interests and military advantage of the country, but congress has bungled the job. The bungling began with the authorizing act. It is not now possible to say where it will end.

The usual clamor about the absence of the president from the seat of government is now being raised against Roosevelt. It is purely impertinent, for the president's duty to uphold, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States and to see that the laws are faithfully executed is not confined in time or space, but attaches to him as long as he is president, wherever he may be. There is nothing in the Constitution requiring him to stay in Washington, and if he can benefit his health and discharge his duties more efficiently by living somewhere else in the summer, he shows his sense in doing so. It is a matter altogether in his own discretion. In 1878 the house of representatives presumed to interrogate President Grant as to the executive duties he had performed away from the seat of government. In reply to the resolution of inquiry President Grant denied the authority of the house to require of him such an account. He, however, sent the house a memorandum of daily absences by the presidents, from which it appeared that the early presidents were great absentees, the chief of all being Jefferson, who was absent from Washington on an average over three months every year. Such are the facilities for immediate communication that personal absence from Washington is far less important now than then.

The New York municipal election never fails to arouse national interest, and this will be more than ever the case this fall from its bearing on the presidential election. Mayor Low had to overcome a big Democratic majority, and he did it by a rather narrow margin, defeating the Tammany candidate by less than 6,000 in New York city proper, by less than 26,000 in Brooklyn and less than 770 in the borough of Richmond, while he lost the borough of Queens by about 550. The Tammany candidate, E. M. Shepard, was a man of the highest personal character, whom Tammany would never have nominated had it not been in desperate straits. Mayor Low's administration was for a long time a disappointment. It failed to accomplish the results expected of it, for reasons that could not readily be appreciated, but of late the situation has shown some improvement. The German reform organization, under the leadership of Mr. Herman Ridder, is, however, antagonistic, and as Mayor Low cannot spare the aid of any political element which supported him before, Tammany has been feeling very much encouraged. The recent revelations of Tammany jobs in the dock department have made Tammany less sanguine, and may result in the renomination of Mr. Shepard. In that case the contest will be very close and the result uncertain until the votes are counted.

War in the Balkans.

With the formal notice of Turkey to the powers of Europe that it is going to suppress the insurrectionary movement in Macedonia, "regardless of consequences," the war cloud again shadows the Balkans in its darkest aspect. War has been threatening in the Balkan region for months. Bulgarian and Macedonian agitators have perpetrated continuous outrages in the hope of inflaming the masses, and apparently they have succeeded in exhausting Turkish patience. The Turk has only been restrained up to the present time by the order of the powers to keep hands off Bulgaria and to introduce prescribed reforms in Macedonia. The cables now indicate the Turk has thrown off this restraint and proposes to at once inaugurate a campaign of pillage and slaughter, inciting fanatical Mohammedans to exterminate the Christian trouble makers.

This war of extermination is exactly what the Bulgarian agitators have been trying to bring about. They do not believe that Russia and Austria will permit the Turks to annihilate the Christian population of the Balkan states. Their program is to first have Bulgaria declare war in behalf of the Macedonians and to keep the turmoil going until Russia or Austria, or possibly both, shall intervene. Their ultimate object is to have the Balkan territories taken from Turkish rule, and it is not improbable that Turkey's resolution to begin active operations will lead to that result. The powers have not wanted to be mixed in the matter, but they may find it impossible to stay out, for once the Turk is started he knows neither reason nor humanity.

If Russia becomes involved there is little doubt it will endeavor to make Turkey pay as the price of hostilities the surrender of Constantinople and the Bosporus. That will let Russia down to the Mediterranean. It has long desired to reach that goal. It was prevented from securing it at the conclusion of the last war with Turkey by the interference of the other powers of Europe. Since then it has avoided conflict in order to develop its financial position and industrial resources. But if Russia is forced to fight for the restoration of peace on its Balkan borders it will not be cheated again. It will take over the direct management of the turbulent territory, and it will take along with that troublesome charge its coveted outlet to the southern sea. Hence the situation may fairly be regarded as a very serious one.

The Practical Way.

In March last there was a riot in Port-of-Spain, Trinidad, which although political in its occasion really involved a race conflict. At one time the city had an elective council whose members had an idea that they could misgovern if they saw fit and could square matters with their constituents. The English home government, which is not enslaved by theory, but applies the rule that institutions that do not produce good government condemn themselves by that fact, demanded that the elective council should submit its accounts to audit, and when it refused to submit abolished it. This gave offront to Trinidad colored politicians, who have since conducted an agitation against the colonial authorities. When the legislative council, composed of appointed officials, proposed a water works ordinance, which had been seized upon as material for popular agitation, the council was attacked by a mob and in the battle a number of persons were killed by the police. Order was soon restored, but it is not the practice of the British government to let such matters pass without thorough inquiry, and a special commission was sent to Trinidad. A report of the investigation and the conclusions reached has recently been published.

It is a thoroughly impartial and practical document. It reports that the opposition to the water works ordinance was worked up by falsehood and inflammatory suggestion, but blames the colonial authorities for not being more circumspect. The report says:

> There was further special reasons why the government should have been careful. For some years a group of persons has existed in Port-of-Spain whose main conception of public spirit and independence is to vilify the government and indulge in personalities regarding the individuals who compose it. Conspicuous among this group are certain colored lawyers, some of whom have studied law in England, colored tradesmen doing a substantial business, and some less reputable persons, while a few persons of English birth, including the editors of two newspapers, have thrown their lot in with them. That some of the individuals are actuated by a natural desire to take part in public affairs we have no reason to doubt, but others are inspired by a vague aspiration for a representative government. They feel aggrieved at the abolition of the elective borough council, which was effected on December 20, 1898, under the instructions of the secretary of state, because the council had failed in their duty and refused to submit their accounts to a public audit.

Such being the case the colonial government should have cultivated the support of the intelligent portion of the community and consulted with influential citizens on details of public policy. The authorities are also blamed for delay and want of energy in prosecuting the rioters. The police force is condemned as "inefficient and wholly untrustworthy," and while firing upon the mob was declared to be amply justifiable there was excessive and unnecessary firing by some individual members of the police force, and that "two, if not three, persons were brutally bayoneted and killed by the police without any justification whatever."

As a result of this report, Mr. Chamberlain, the colonial secretary, on July 11 dispatched orders to the governor of the colony, instructing him to dismiss several officials, prosecute the leaders of the riot and also members of the police and military force guilty of attacks upon persons without justification. The police force and the military force are to be reorganized, and in fact what might be called a general shake-up of the local government has taken place. Mr. Chamberlain's dispatch to the governor of the colony has a terse directness which makes it known that there shall be no fooling about the matter. For instance, he says: "You will inform Dorment at once that he is dismissed from the government service and Whiteman's services in the fire brigade should be dispensed with."

It is only by business-like procedure of this kind that race conflicts and outbreaks of lynch law can be effectively dealt with. Instead of deploring the event, exhorting the people to better things and then dropping the subject, there should be a practical investigation of the sequence of cause and effect, and corrective measures applied as facts may suggest. When the matter is approached in this spirit it will be found that tendencies toward lawlessness are greatly encouraged by the defects and inefficiency of the regular administration of justice and better methods should be adopted.

A Street Car Grievance.

Relations between the municipality of Toledo and the local street car management would appear to be of a truly halcyon character when a citizen of that place indulges antipathy to what is termed "the end seat hog" to the extent of asking the city council to legislate against him. If the so-called end seat hog is the only street car grievance in Toledo, then is Toledo in general in a state of happy agreement with municipal transportation managers that can be described as nothing short of Edenic. It has been proposed to the city council of Toledo that it abolish the end seat hog by compelling him to move along. The so-called hog plants himself at the end of a seat, and persons who come later are compelled to push past or climb over him as best they may until all seats are filled. The ordinance that would deal with this matter provides that when a person occupies the end seat of an open car and other persons desire to enter his section, he shall move along to make room for them until the seat is full. Refusal to do so will, if the bill becomes a law, be a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of from $5 to $25 in the discretion of the court.

The occupation of seats in a Pittsburgh street car is sometimes a matter of courtesy, but oftener a matter of chance. Can it be that the street car conditions are so happy in Toledo that there are seats for all, and that the only quarrel of the traveling public is where to sit, and how many people must be passed on the way to a seat? The suggested reform argues this condition, and Pittsburgh will be more interested in what is suggested by the airing of the Toledo grievance than in the proposed remedy for it. If there are seats for all in Toledo street cars, it is more than merely interesting to know how it has been brought about. If there is only the end seat to quarrel about, instead of standing room or a place on the bumpers to be fought for, wouldn't it be a good idea for a committee of the Pittsburgh chamber of commerce to visit Toledo to get a copy of the prescription for use here? Pittsburgh people will be glad if it can be shown them that their street car troubles can be resolved down to this irreducible minimum by any process. Have people here, who are glad to find breathing space in or on the street cars reason to envy Toledo, or is it only that Toledo has one crank whose specialty appears in his proposition?

Pistols and Dress Reform.

The hip pocket holds without concealing the deadly weapon, but the loose coat tail conceals the hip pocket and its contents. The law penalizes the carrying of concealed deadly weapons, but the coat tail hides the evidence and without evidence the penalties of the law remain inoperative. And yet we wonder at crime. But while we wonder, what are we to do about it? The statutes made and provided may be read forward and backward and viewed sideways, and at the end of the survey the net result is that so far as prevention of the habit of carrying concealed deadly weapons is concerned the prohibitions are a respectable presentation of the collective opinion of society with regard to a matter of public concern, and not much more. They do not provide any means by which the concealed deadly weapon may be brought to official notice until its possessor gets his combative impulses to working and makes the disclosure himself. Plainly, if the concealed deadly weapon is to be abolished the reform must be accomplished not in the way society has gone about it, but by some new decree. As it is the hip pocket that holds the deadly weapon when the weapon is a shooting iron, and as it is the coat tail that conceals it, the direction and nature of the reform is easily apparent. Either the hip pocket or the coat tail must go, or perhaps both had better be abolished to make the reform complete. A free people may object, but when it is a question of the public good, shall the mere utilities or vanities of fashion stand in the way? The hip pocket has endeared itself to mankind by the many uses to which it can be put, and the coat tail has the sacredness of custom and antiquity to commend it to the masculine affection, but when the combination of coat tail and hip pocket helps to work confusion to the public peace and the individual safety, shall considerations either of utility or of fashion stand in the way? The attempt to reform the concealed deadly weapon habit out of existence began wrong and has, therefore, failed of its purpose. Let us now back up and begin right. And when it is objected that abolition of the hip pocket, or of the coat tail or of both is in restraint of personal liberty, let it be pointed out that so is the prohibition against carrying concealed weapons. If the question be a question as to whether we shall be a hip pocketless or coat tailless people, or whether the concealed deadly weapon shall flourish in our midst, what is the answer? The question resolves itself into one of dress reform. Are we ready for it?

The fact that the lord mayor of Dublin didn't even get honorable mention, while the lord mayors of Belfast and Cork are made baronets, will probably be pointed to with pride by the Dublin town council as an evidence that it made an impression on the king when it refused to give him an official welcome.

A Hint from France.

According to calculations made by the Railway Age of Chicago the railroads of the country are using 140,000,000 ties a year merely to replace those worn out by use. They cost the roads about $55,000,000 annually, and what also of their cost to the forests of the country? There is tremendoum waste even in this apparently small matter. The life of the average tie used by American railroads is not much over five years, but in France ties from beechwood treated with preservatives are found to be good for 30 years. The railroad tie, like a good many other things, is typical of American waste and extravagance.

Timorous Boston.

In taking all the precautions which he is following to protect the Atlantic coast, Secretary Moody undoubtedly has in mind the experience of this section in the Spanish war. At that time the people away in the interior of the country made a good deal of fun of New England for "seeing Spanish fleets." As they were out of reach, they were perfectly safe in making faces and treating the whole thing as a joke. But it would have been no joke if Cervera's fleet had been better off for coal and could have found its way unmolested to Boston, New York or Philadelphia.—Boston Advertiser.

Plain-Speaking Diplomacy.

Plain speaking is the most effective diplomacy, as the world has learned, not without surprise, from Secretary Hay, and honest service in public office is better, politics than any Machiavellian cunning ever devised, as President Roosevelt has shown to the case-hardened politicians who croaked dismally over his "impetuousity" and lack of finesse. Every indictment found against a postoffice grafter intensifies the disappointment of Democratic hopes and strengthens the position of the Republican party.—Philadelphia North American.

ANCHORAGE.

Never again shall we beat out to sea
In driven mist, and sleet like bitter tears,
To watch the harbor beacons fade a-lee,
And people all the sea room with our fears.

All toil is done! No more, no more do we
Square the slow yards and stagger on the sea.

No more the weariness of day and day
Unchanged, unshadowed, where the weed drifts by,
And leaden fish pass rolling at their play,
And changeless suns crawl up an empty sky.

Our watch is done! No more, no more do we Pray for the wind to break the polished sea.

Cities we saw—white wall and glinting dome,
And palm fringed islands dreaming on the blue,
To us, more fair the rugged cliffs of home,
The climbing roofs, the laughter ringing true.

The voyage is done! No more, no more do we Scan the strange lamps along the stranger quay.
—The Independent.

The Quiet Observer.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

God made the country and man made the town.
—Pope.

Were you raised in the country?

If so, you are not alone in the city, for a large percentage, if not a good working majority, of city folks are from the country and country town.

And they do say that it is this same country blood that keeps the city alive and prosperous. A few years ago some one took the trouble to run through the business directory of New York to see where the more successful business and professional men came from. According to the figures obtained fully 85 per cent of them were from the country, or country town. This did not include foreigners, of course.

When these figures were submitted to a man well versed in the history of Pittsburgh, he said they would hold good here. He cited the fact that a majority of the more actively employed men in their business, which was quite extensive, were country born. He said they were better trained for work than were city boys.

* * * * *

Go where you will and there is the country boy, and if he has been well brought up he is doing well. He don't watch the clock as if his life depended on it, but measures the time to the work that is to be done. He don't kick and fuss if asked to work a little overtime, nor does he feel greatly imposed upon if asked to lend a hand in another department. He is there to do whatever is to be done, the same as on the farm.

But don't jump to the conclusion that all country boys succeed who come to the city. A great many fail, and usually fail quickly. The boy who tries to do the town generally gets done up in short order. And that is why you see comparatively few country wrecks drifting around a city. They simply cannot stand the fast city pace, get left and go back home again, or die.

The boy who has been well raised in a country home, has a good country school education, and is possessed of good health, morals and manners, will find that he can live comfortably, soberly and decently in the city. And if he devotes himself to the interests of his employer he will get along all right, and with due perseverance will eventually win success.

* * * * *

The country fellow who succeeds in business in the city does not always make a good husband for a city girl. That he should regard the manner of his raising, his home life and the way his mother did as being the correct thing is most natural. Nor is it any less natural that a city girl should want to live as she had been brought up in her city home.

Should they both be strong-minded and each inclined to have their way about things, they will hardly get along well together. But if they love each other honest and true, and are willing to give and take alike, they will get along finely.

It is the country girl, perhaps, who marries the city chap that may have most trouble. Not being up in city ways she becomes the subject of much criticism. Nor does it matter greatly how unjust the criticism it hurts, and unless her husband has good nerve and good sense, too, he is likely to feel it, and only too often scolds or complains about it. This will inevitably bring trouble sooner or later.

Thus you see that it may not always be good policy to mingle city and country blood. It is all right if it is all right, which is a good deal like the saying that nothing succeeds like success.

Anyway, it is well to be very careful about marrying out of your class. For the chances of mismating are much greater.

* * * * *

Some country boys have an idea that there are fortunes lying around loose in a city.

This is not only a false idea, but a very foolish notion, and one they want to get rid of before leaving the farm, for if they take it with them to the city they are bound to be disappointed, and possibly so badly that their whole lives may be affected by it.

Nor is it entirely true that there are greater opportunities in a city for gaining wealth and fame than in the country. When you come to count the few, the very few, in a city who have grown wealthy or famous, you will find that the percentage falls below that of the country.

The advantage that the city has over the country in a business way lies in the fact that business and sales of all sorts are hurried together as closely that trading can be done more conveniently, rapidly and at the least expense.

But the same amount of energy and tact expended on a farm that is necessary to success in the city will make one as wealthy as he needs to be.

You may not think it, particularly if you live well back in the country, but the fact remains that the prosperous money making man in the city works as hard and worries more than the prosperous farmer.

So don't tear yourself away from the farm in a hurry or you may regret it a long time.

* * * * *

Do you ever go back to the farm, to the old home and visit the old folks?

No doubt you do so often in your mind, but it it has been a good while since you left there the chances are that you do not visit the folks at home as frequently as they think you should.

Have you a mother out there in the country? How long has it been since you visited her? Don't you think it is mighty long time to her?

When did you write to her last? And did you write such a letter as a good boy ought to write to a good mother? No doubt the days are growing longer to her and the weeks are passing more slowly, while the months are becoming really tedious.

Clip out the following verses and keep them where they will be most likely to remind you of your duty.

If you've a gray-haired mother
In the old home far away,
Sit down and write the letter
You put off day by day.
Don't wait until her tired steps
Reach heaven's pearly gate,
But show her that you think of her
Before it is too late.

If you've a tender message,
Or a loving word to say,
Don't wait till you forget it,
But whisper it today.
Who knows what bitter memories
May haunt you if you wait?
So make your loved one happy,
Before it is too late.

We live but in the present,
The future is unknown;
Tomorrow is a mystery,
Today is all our own.
The chance that fortune lends to us
May vanish while we wait,
So spend your life's rich treasure
Before it is too late.

The tender words unspoken,
The letters never sent,
The long-forgotten messages,
The wealth of love unspent—
For these some hearts are breaking,
For these some loved ones wait;
So show them that you care for them
Before it is too late.
—Ida Goldsmith Morris.

Growth of Presbyterianism.

Presbyterian church statistics for 1903 show a growth, which is substantial as well as a healthy financial condition. An increase of nearly 100,000 in membership since 1898 is shown, the total at present being 1,067,477, as against 975,877 in 1898. Only in new ordinations does there seem to have been a falling off, and this may mean in part that pastorates are growing larger and pastors longer lived. The contribution of upwards of $2,000,000 for home and foreign missions doubtless reveals one secret of Presbyterian growth. A missionary church will usually be an advancing one.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Western Hustle.

As the railroads in Oklahoma can't pass through every new town in the territory the enterprising settlers have adopted the sensible plan of building their new towns on wheels so that they can be moved to the line of the nearest railroad when its survey has been finally determined. The towns of Karoma, Alvaretta and Rush will move to the new town of Goltry this week, a branch of the Frisco railroad having been established through the latter place. This seems to be a phase of western hustle that beats anything heretofore attempted.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Big Time Coming.

St. Louis will have a floral clock with a dial 120 feet in diameter as a reminder to each visitor that he is having the time of his life.—Washington Star.

Talked of in New York

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—When the suspension of Laidlaw & Carrie, members of the Consolidated stock exchange, was announced today, it did not cause such a sensation as was aroused by another incident in which one of the members of the firm took part 12 years ago. William R. Laidlaw is the man who says he saved the life of Russell Sage when a crank exploded dynamite in his office. Laidlaw always has insisted that Sage used him as a shield to his (Laidlaw's) detriment, but greatly to the physical advantage of Uncle Russell. Laidlaw has had suit after suit against Sage for a long, weary period, but they have not been of any pecuniary benefit to Laidlaw. Of course, he had friends who took care of him, and the fact that he was senior partner of the firm which went to the wall today proved that he was not entirely down and out after the dynamite blew up in Russell Sage's place of business. Laidlaw's fight against Sage has been romantic, for twice has Laidlaw obtained verdicts for large amounts against the old man, and twice have they been reversed. The peculiar feature of the reversals has always been that the court has sympathized with Laidlaw, but has been obliged to say that in law he had no case. All this has been talked over in New York today, and it is possible that the suspension of Laidlaw & Carrie may reawaken sympathy for Laidlaw, which may lead to his getting out of his difficulties. Stranger things have been known even in prosaic, cold-hearted Wall street.

Girl Was Equal to Occasion.

A sparrow flew into an "L" car this morning and could not get out. He darted up and down the car, making people jump and causing many exclamations. Then he spied a girl with a lot of foliage and a stuffed dove in her hat and took heart. If one bird could be accommodated on the hat, why not two? Besides, the girl was reading and had not noticed him. He settled down lightly in the midst of the grass and poppies and nestled against the stuffed dove. The girl read on. The other passengers could not keep still, but were constrained to snicker and look at the hat until she looked up from her book and became embarrassed at the condition which she could not comprehend. The bird looked over the brim of her hat into her face and peeped. The girl had sense. She merely reached up, took the bird in her hand, and stepping to an open window, set it free. Flippant young clerks, going to work, were disappointed that she did not scream as some women do when they see a mouse.

Tipped About Whiz Wagon Tax.

It is probable that the hint given by the secretary of state of New Jersey that New York city could collect at least $500,000 in personal taxes from automobile owners will be taken up promptly by the assessor here. The secretary says that the greater number of "whiz wagons" used in New Jersey are owned by New Yorkers. It would be easy for the New York authorities to get the names of these people from the license records in New Jersey. Automobiles are expensive things, and if lightly assessed will add the sum mentioned above to this city's public treasury. Automobile owners are wishing the New Jersey secretary had been content to collect tax in his own state and let New York alone.

Strikers' Hardest Blow.

Since it is pretty well settled that the subway will not be in operation until next summer, it does not matter so much what is the specific reason—if there is one. As a matter of record, however, it is stated that the building trades strike, holding back the erection of the power house, is responsible. The subway will be finished almost on time, but the road will be useless without motive power, and that cannot be furnished until the power houses are ready. This holding of the opening of the system is the hardest blow the strikers have given to the public at large in Manhattan.

Discord Drawn from Harmony.

Musicians here are talking about the war which seems imminent between the new Symphony society, which will open its season in Pittsburgh on October 12 (not November 12 as announced yesterday), and the old Philharmonic society. The latter has been moribund for years, but is almost certain to be revived now that there is another organization in the field. It was founded by the late Dr. Leopold Damrosch, but dropped out for lack of support. Now Walter Damrosch, son of the late Leopold, will be conductor of the Symphony, and adherents of the old Philharmonic are appalled. The general sentiment is that interesting times are ahead for New York musically.

Getting to Be a Big Boy Now.

"Baby McKee," who was a domestic feature of the White House in President Harrison's term, is now a tall youth of 16, and is spoken of as Mr. Benjamin. He is at Saratoga this week and New Yorkers who have been there and returned say that he cuts quite a swath among young men of his age or a little older.

Another Murder Mystery to Unravel.

It is seldom that there is not some gruesome mystery at the morgue. That of today surrounds the body of a man found floating in the East river, off One Hundred and Twenty-ninth street, and whose identity is still unknown. The more interest attached to the case is that a man has been found who says he and several negroes attacked a man and threw him into the river, and the body is that of their victim. The negroes deny that they had anything to do with the crime, but will not say where they were on the night the murder is supposed to have been committed. Meanwhile, the body awaits identification in that most depressing of all places, the New York morgue.

Cora Tanner Weds Again.

When Cora Tanner made her great hit in Buchanan's "Fascination" at the Pittsburgh Grand opera house, about 15 years ago, she had just become the wife of the late Col. W. R. Sinn. She was a beautiful young woman, and the colonel was very proud of her. Today she was married to Charles A. Reed, who is in the drug business in New York. The colonel liked to see his wife on the stage. Her present husband says she has retired forever.

May As Well Load the Gun.

Sir Thomas Lipton died last night with the commanding officer of the ordnance department, Col. Charles Smith, at the Brick house, Sandy Hook. Sir Thomas was shown over the new proving grounds. When he saw the 16-inch rifle, the largest gun ever constructed, he said, aughingly: "Say, colonel, if you see we are losing ground while racing off here just throw a shot from that fellow at the Reliance." Gen. and Mrs. Miles were guests of Sir Thomas on the Erin today and saw the trial heat of the two Shamrocks.

Political Drift.

Senator Arthur Pue Gorman on a tariff reform platform provokes comment. The Washington Star (Ind. Rep.) says: "Mr. Gorman's declaration in favor of tariff reform is being severely examined in some quarters. The man who made over the Wilson bill so thoroughly that its author afterward did not know it, and provoked Mr. Cleveland to writing that famous letter, charging perfidy and dishonor, essaying to lead his party now on the tariff issue? 'I want to know!' is the exclamation of those newspapers whose devotion to a revenue tariff runs back for many years."

\+ \+ \+ \+

"While the north is no more negrophilic than the south, it is determined that the south shall not disfranchise the negro and still continue to count him as a basis of representation," warns the Chicago Chronicle (Dem.). "That is one phase of the race issue which the north is entirely willing to discuss. The south must make up or cut half. If it wishes to deny the negro the right to vote, well and good, but it cannot abolish the negro as a voter and retain him as a political asset."

\+ \+ \+ \+

In the opinion of the Philadelphia North American (Rep.), Senator Gorman has added nothing to the Democratic party's search for an issue. It says: "So we have the judgment of the keenest analyst of political conditions in the Democratic party, if not in the whole country, that the next Democratic platform will be little more than a perfunctory declaration in favor of honesty, economy and indefinite tinkering of the tariff. The prospects for arousing the Democratic hosts to enthusiasm over those burning issues are not very brilliant."

\+ \+ \+ \+

It is not likely the north will assent to this proposition of the Louisville Courier Journal (Dem.): "Coincident with the flight of northern negroes southward is the invasion of the north by Pitchfork Tillman. The south is more than willing to make the exchange permanent."

\+ \+ \+ \+

"The spectacle of Tillman posing as the representative of the superior white man ruling over the inferior black man is one to make the intelligent American sit up and rub his eyes," says the Chicago Evening Post (Rep.). "Among the other problems involved in the race question is the problem of civilizing or suppressing the Tillmans in our society."

\+ \+ \+ \+

Of the coming mayoralty contest in New York the St. Louis Globe Democrat (Rep.) says: "Both Thomas C. Platt and Seth Low have had talks with President Roosevelt about the approaching municipal campaign in New York, and the president is said to be greatly interested in the situation. He ought to be interested. Nearly every person in the country who knows anything about the conditions in New York and the importance of the contest will have an interest in the canvass. Tammany intends to put up its strongest candidate for mayor. It will be Tammany against the Republicans and all the decent Democratic elements, but Tammany has often won against such a coalition."

\+ \+ \+ \+

"The old question of what to do with our ex-presidents is of little consequence beside the question what can be done to make the office of vice president more attractive to men of presidential size," remarks the Springfield Republican (Ind.). "As it is, the office seems to be falling into a lower and lower state of consideration among the directing political forces of the country."

\+ \+ \+ \+

Referring to the "lily white" attack on President Roosevelt, the New York Evening Post (Ind.) says: "This parting kick of the absurd 'lily white' movement need trouble not even the party managers. The whole thing was planned, from the beginning, not to get votes, but offices, and President Roosevelt's squelching of the 'lily whites' in the various states that wanted to expel educated negroes from the Republican party was a good thing from the political as well as the moral point of view. No Republican electoral votes are to be had from the south next year to any event; and toleration of the caste spirit in the party there could only harm it in the north."

\+ \+ \+ \+

"Gorman," says the Nashville American (Dem.), "can command the full Democratic strength of the east, and he would receive the democratic support of the south. He would be as strong in the west as any other Democratic candidate would be. Of all the men mentioned, only two, Cleveland and Olney, equal him in political stability. The nomination of no man would cause the Republicans more apprehension."

\+ \+ \+ \+

The Montgomery (Ala.) Advertiser (Dem.), which favors the nomination of Grover Cleveland for president, says: "We neither know that he can be nominated nor elected, but we do know, reasoning altogether from our knowledge of the past, as well as of the conditions now prevailing, that we have no hope of electing any Democrat who is not in harmony with him. We can not hope to elect any Democrat on a platform which he and those of his way of thinking do not approve."

Disturbing Elements in Cuba.

While the reported local disturbances in Cuba were not of a serious nature, they suggest that there are elements in the island which may at any time become troublesome and which need to be dealt with vigorously and firmly, says the Omaha Bee. While undoubtedly a large majority of the people are satisfied with the government, there is a considerable number who are not, and among these are politicians who will not hesitate to make mischief if opportunity offers. Embraced in this element are some of the men who were in the Cuban revolutionary army and who feel that the government ought to make prompt provision to pay them for that service. There are many Americans who believe that a revolutionary outbreak in Cuba is inevitable sooner or later, and that it will result in the annexation of the island to the United States. Perhaps their view is correct, but it will be the duty of our government to firmly discountenance any movement in Cuba of a revolutionary character and to give such support to the Cuban government as will insure its maintenance. The United States is practically pledged to this, and there is reason to believe that such would be its course should a demand arise for it.

Mr. Schwab's Retirement.

The retirement of Mr. Schwab from the presidency of the steel trust because of a temporary nervous breakdown calls attention to the tremendous strain that such a position entails, says the New York American. Mr. Schwab was reputed to be a giant in physical stamina, and he was known as a man accustomed to deal with crises and to face emergencies. His phenomenal rise from a clerkship in a country grocery to the head of the largest corporation in the world was in itself a guarantee of powers far beyond those of ordinary men. Yet the strain was too much.

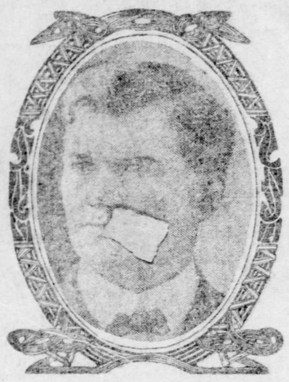
At an age when men in the ordinary walks of life are at the height of their powers, mental and physical, this Titanic figure in the business world finds it necessary to lay down his weapons for a time and become a see

PITTSBURGH LOSES HEADQUARTERS OF THE FLINT GLASS ASSOCIATION

Fifth Referendum Vote Will Decide Between Allegheny City and Toledo, O.

REASON GIVEN FOR CHANGE

Workers Objected to Intimacy Between Their Officials and the Manufacturers. Probable Merger of Two Unions--Scale Conferences at Atlantic City.



WILLIAM P. CLARK.
Assistant Secretary.

Headquarters of the American Flint Glass Workers' association are to be removed from Pittsburgh. The fourth referendum vote has just been counted, and this city received the minority. The final vote is to be taken immediately, and upon the result will depend what city will be the headquarters. There are only two cities now in competition—Allegheny and Toledo—and, judging from the former referendum votes, Toledo will capture the prize.

The changing of the headquarters from Pittsburgh has been agitated for over two years. Some of the rank and file set up a claim that the officials of the association were too intimate with the manufacturers and when trouble arose they gave the men the worst of the deal. This plea resulted in the association deciding to take a referendum vote on removal. Six places were selected to chose from.

The plan was to drop the city having the smallest vote. On the first ballot Indianapolis received the least, and when the next vote was taken that city was not included in the competition. The next vote resulted in Wheeling being barred out. The last vote dropped Pittsburgh and within four weeks either Allegheny or Toledo will be the headquarters of the association. As Toledo had more votes than Allegheny at the former ballots, it is predicted that Toledo will win.

By the time the vote is taken it is expected that the Flint Workers' and the Green Bottle Blowers' associations will be ready to consolidate. At the conventions of both organizations in Cincinnati last month, committees were appointed to hold joint conferences to formulate plans for the merger. The committees will be ready to report in a few days, and shortly after the formal consolidation will take place.

William P. Clarke, who was recently elected assistant secretary of the flints, assumed his duties yesterday. After being made acquainted with the books of the office he left to attend the conference of the machine jar and bottle ware conference.

The conference takes place today at Atlantic City. Representatives of the association and the manufacturers will meet in St. Charles hotel. The association will be represented by President T. W. Rowe, Secretary John J. Dobbins, Assistant Secretary William P. Clarke, David Jones, Marion, Ind.; Martin Joyce, Muncie; William Flote, Fairmont; Patrick Higgins, Alton, Ill., and Henry Bowers, Lockport, N. Y. The local delegates left last night.

The manufacturers will be represented by G. Ball of Ball Bros., Muncie, Ind.; T. Wilson of the Wilson & McCullough Company, Marion, Ind.; George Lettas of the Lettas Glass Company, Alton, Ill.; W. M. Woodward of Lockport, N. Y., and Cash Giles of the Giles Glass Company, Upland, Ind. No difficulty is expected to arise in the settlement of the wage scale.

The wage conference of the stopper and grinder departments will be held in St. Charles hotel, Atlantic City, tomorrow.

Local Labor Notes.

Local officials of the United Mine Workers spent yesterday at Beechwood Park, near Charleroi. They attended a picnic held by the locals of Charleroi and Bellevernon.

An effort will be made to form a union of the bartenders of Sharpsburg, Etna and Millvale tonight. In Sharpsburg there are 25 bartenders and only a few of them are organized.

A charter has been received for a union of the carpenters for Economy and Ambridge. It will be known as local No. 1732.

The executive committee of the Labor Day demonstration will meet this evening at 8:30 o'clock. The general committee will meet tonight in the Building Trades' council hall, No. 225 Fourth avenue.

DEATH ROLL.

James Lee Irwin.

James Lee Irwin, 50 years old, one of the oldest mail carriers in this vicinity, died yesterday morning of blood poisoning, at his home, No. 306 School street, Avalon. Mr. Irwin was born in Monongahela City and upon reaching his majority came to Pittsburgh and embarked in business in Grant street. A year later he entered the Pittsburgh postoffice as a mail carrier, and for 25 years delivered mail, for 21 years having a route in the First ward. He was a member of the Central Christian church, Pittsburgh, and was president of the Boys' Brigade of that church. He was a member of Iroquois lodge No. 40, I. O. O. F., and of the Mail Carriers' association. He is survived by his widow, two daughters and a son.

John Stroud.

John Stroud, 81 years old, one of the oldest residents of Mercer county, and a descendant of a famous Revolutionary family, died yesterday at his home in Jackson Center, Pa. Mr. Stroud had been a resident of Jackson Center for the last 68 years, going there when a young man, with his father, from Philadelphia. Mr. Stroud's ancestors are said to have come to America in the Mayflower. His grandfather was a member of the committee which arranged for the ringing of the old Liberty bell when Gen. Cornwallis was taken at York, town. Betsy Ross, who made the first American flag, was a member of the Stroud family. The family also founded Stroudsburg, which bears their name.

Funeral of Emanuel H. Romig.

Funeral services over the remains of Emanuel H. Romig, a prominent resident of Arnold, Pa., were held at his late home last evening, the Rev. Mr. Pfifer, pastor of the Arnold Methodist Episcopal church, officiating. Mr. Romig, who was 64 years old, died Tuesday night of paralysis. Mr. Romig was prominent in Masonic and Odd Fellows' lodges and for a number of years was secretary of the Arnold school board. He is survived by his widow, three sons and one daughter. Interment will take place today at the South Side cemetery and will be in charge of the Odd Fellows.

McConnell Tarr.

He was injured in a wreck in 1876, since which time he has been an invalid. His widow is the daughter of Capt. Joseph Kelley, who ran the first steamboat up the Allegheny river from Pittsburgh to Oil City.

Abram P. Fulton.

Abram P. Fulton, aged 68, of Latrobe, Pa., is dead. He was an elder of the First Presbyterian church and a member of the Masonic fraternity. He was employed in the Braddock plant of the American Steel and Wire Company, and was one of the best-known Swedish residents of the borough. He is survived by a sister and a brother.

Obituary Notes.

James McQuay, farmer and stock raiser of Buffalo township, Washington county, is dead, aged 80 years.

Capt. George Fearing Hollis, formerly United States consul at Cape Town, South Africa, died at Malden, Mass., yesterday. He was 65 years of age.

John Gilbert Shanklin, for many years a leading Democrat of Indiana, died yesterday. He was formerly editor of the Evansville Courier. He served one term as secretary of state.

Mrs. Ruth Ann Barton, 78 years old, wife of Joseph Barton, died yesterday of old age at her home, No. 2203 Main street Sharpsburg. She was a member of St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church, Sharpsburg, and is survived by six children.

FARMER WAS HELD UP, BUT USED HIS GUN

John Peterson, a farmer of Greentree, claims to have been held up yesterday afternoon on the Washington pike, in Greentree, by two strangers, who asked him for tobacco. The farmer handed some tobacco down from his seat on his wagon, and in the operation one of the men grasped Peterson by the shoulder. The farmer quickly drew a revolver and fired two shots. Both bullets took effect in the men who fled.

PERSONALS

Col. Joseph U. Crawford of Philadelphia, engineer of the branch lines of the Pennsylvania railroad, is at the Hotel Duquesne. Speaking of railroad matters he said: "Surveys have been made, and the company has ratified them, for a road to be built from Cherry Tree, on the Cambria & Clearfield branch, to Indiana. The line will tap one of the best coal fields in the state. It will run through the famous Blemling summit and alongside for some distance, and then cross the Elk Lick creek. It is the intention of the company to construct 20 miles of the road immediately. There are several thousand acres of coal in this district that have never been developed for the want of railroad facilities, and the company has concluded to furnish them. The road will be known as a coal road, but the indications are that within a year's time the district will be greatly populated and then passenger trains will be run. The road contemplated has been under consideration for some time, but until the coal deposits were in the hands of people prepared to market them, no effort was made to construct a road. The company has been assured that the black diamonds will be mined. The policy of the company has always been to enter a coal field by degrees, and for that reason only 20 miles will be constructed right away."

James Finnegan of Tyrone left last night for his home, after spending the past two days in Pittsburgh as a delegate to the C. T. A. U. convention. He received word yesterday that his daughter was dead. In speaking of the society he said: "The society has done much to prevent men from becoming drunkards. The addresses made at the convention were masterpieces of thought and were inspiring."

John T. Hanson of New York passed through the city last night on the Pennsylvania limited. He is an actor and is on his way to the Pacific coast, where he will fill an engagement with a stock company. Regarding his profession he said: "From all accounts Pittsburgh is to be one of the greatest theatrical cities in the United States. With the new theaters being constructed and the ones now in use you can admit the best troupes that travel. Stock companies are becoming meritorious, but they will never reach the standard of perfection found in companies which travel, playing the same drama all the time. The tendency of the people is for vaudeville, but the heavy plays will always be appreciated in any metropolitan city."

Henry T. Simpson of Cleveland spent yesterday in Pittsburgh. Before leaving for home last night he said: "The amount of rain and cool weather indicates that lake navigation will be considerably later this year than usual. It is generally conceded that when the summer is cool the fall continues warm. This will admit of navigation a month later than when the summer is hot and little rain falls. The passenger business this year is greater than last, and promises to be a record-breaker, especially in the passenger or tourist business."

Alderman Joseph Mitchell lies dangerously ill at his home on Forty-fourth street. He has been confined to his home time with jaundice. Last night he was resting easier than for several days. Mr. Mitchell is an old resident of Lawrenceville and has been an alderman for several years. On account of his four-score years his illness is a matter of apprehension.

Frank R. Orcutt of the Pittsburgh Railways Company left last evening for California. He will stop at Denver, Colorado Springs and Salt Lake City, his intention being to take in all that is worth seeing, both at those places and Ogden. On his return trip he will make stops at San Jose, Los Angeles, San Diego and El Paso. He will be gone about one month.

ALL BUILDING TRADES RESUME WORK MONDAY

Workingmen's Organization Accepts the Proposition of the Contractors' League—Referendum Vote to Be Taken on Alleged Violation.

The trouble between the Building Trades council and the Builders' Exchange league is practically settled. It will take until Saturday to go through the formality of ordering all men back to work and agreeing on plans for submitting the differences to a board of arbitration. This will be done as soon as possible, and on Monday morning it is expected every man will be at work.

Some of the trades affiliated with the council have a clause in their wage agreement stipulating that the contractors are not to declare a lockout without 10 days' notice. Stopping the work because the men struck on the A. & S. Wilson Company's jobs is considered a violation of the agreement. The men will hold special meetings to take a referendum vote whether or not to overlook this. It is believed the vote will result favorably for a general resumption of work.

The plumbers, who have one of the largest organizations in the council, and who were affected more than any other trade except the sheet metal workers, will hold a special meeting tonight in Arnfeld hall, No. 1119 Penn avenue. At the meeting it will be decided whether to accept the proposition of the Builders' Exchange league. Other trades will hold special meetings between now and Saturday, when the committee of the council is to give the Builders' Exchange league a final decision regarding the acceptance of the proposition. All the men are in favor of returning to work pending a settlement.

The proposition of the league is that it will call off the lockout; the council will call off the strike on the A. & S. Wilson Company's jobs; the dispute is to be placed in the hands of a board of arbitration, and the arbitrators are to render a decision within 15 days after hearing both sides. The decision is to be final and binding upon both parties.

OFFICERS FIGHT ON THE STREET

Policeman Kennedy Attacks Lieutenant Grimes and They Roll Over Wylie Avenue.

PLEAS FOR HELP UNHEEDED

Crowd Looks on and Seems to Enjoy the Fun—Grimes Rescued by Other Officers—Statements by Superintendent and Public Safety Director.

Disorder broke out again yesterday in Supt. McTighe's family of policemen. Officer John Kennedy, who fought with Capt. Matthew Gorman in the Central police station Wednesday evening, reopened hostilities on Lieut. Charles Grimes in Wylie avenue, yesterday afternoon. After the men had rolled all over the street in their scuffle, Officer Kennedy was arrested and taken to the Central police station. Late last night he had not been released and this morning he will appear again before Police Magistrate T. D. Stewart on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Kennedy was fined $10 and costs for the fray he had with Capt. Gorman. After paying the fine and costs he went to the home of his friend, Councilman John J. Hughes at No. 322 Wylie avenue, and remained there during the day. Shortly after 2 o'clock Lieut. Grimes was given a note by Supt. McTighe to deliver in that vicinity. He was told by some friends that Kennedy was waiting for an opportunity to thrash him.

As Grimes was passing Hughes' house Kennedy walked up to him. The men had some words and Grimes told Kennedy that he did not want to have any trouble with him, asked to be let alone, and walked away. Grimes was returning to the Central station when he met Kennedy again. This time the latter started to thrash him, and Grimes returned the blows. The men clinched and rolled all over the street, while Grimes pleaded for help.

"Help me, help me," he cried.

In spite of these entreaties no one came to his assistance. The crowd, and excitement, attracted the attention of two officers on adjoining beats. They hurried to the scene, pulled Kennedy away from Grimes and sent the officer to the station house.

Supt. McTighe refused to talk about the affair last night. He said he was not responsible for the actions of some of his men.

"Officer Kennedy had better look for another job," said the superintendent, "for he will not serve on the force under me."

Director Harry Moore of the department of public safety said that Kennedy would be discharged.

"Officer Kennedy was in the wrong when he fought with Capt. Gorman yesterday and he had no right to attack Lieut. Grimes this afternoon," said Director Moore. "I attended the hearing of Kennedy this morning and I was convinced that neither Gorman nor Kennedy did each other much harm. Such outbreaks are bound to occur where so many men are thrown together."

Two barrels of malt caused a runaway on Federal street, Allegheny, yesterday afternoon that resulted in serious injury to two men. The barrels were in a light wagon belonging to the Dickson Drug Company of No. 821 Penn avenue, Pittsburgh. As there was no brake on the wagon the weight of the malt on the steep grade caused the wagon to strike the horse. It became frightened and ran away, dashing the wagon into a telegraph pole.

Charles Waldron of Knoxville and Charles Rose of No. 225 Jefferson street, Allegheny, colored drivers, were thrown out. Waldron had his skull fractured and two ribs broken. Rose had his right arm broken and badly cut.

U. S. SENATOR FROM SOUTH CAROLINA
Recommends Pe-ru-na
For Dyspepsia and Stomach Trouble.

Ex-Senator M. C. Butler.

Catarrh of the Stomach is Generally Called Dyspepsia—Something to Produce Artificial Digestion is Generally Taken.

Hence, Pepsin, Pancreatin and a Host of Other Digestive Remedies Has Been Invented.

These Remedies Do Not Reach the Seat of the Difficulty, Which is Really Catarrh.

EX-U. S. Senator M. C. Butler from South Carolina, was Senator from that state for two terms. In a recent letter to The Peruna Medicine Co., from Washington, D. C., says:

"I can recommend Peruna for dyspepsia and stomach trouble. I have been using your medicine for a short period and I feel very much relieved. It is indeed a wonderful medicine besides a good tonic."—M. C. Butler.

The only rational way to cure dyspepsia is to remove the catarrh. Peruna cures catarrh. Peruna does not produce artificial digestion. It cures catarrh and leaves the stomach to perform digestion in a natural way. This is vastly better and safer than resorting to artificial methods.

Peruna has cured more cases of dyspepsia than all other remedies combined, simply because it cures catarrh wherever located. If catarrh is located in the head, Peruna cures it. If catarrh has fastened itself in the throat or bronchial tubes, Peruna cures it. When catarrh becomes settled in the stomach, Peruna cures it, as well in this location as in any other.

Peruna is not simply a remedy for dyspepsia. Peruna is a catarrh remedy. Peruna cures dyspepsia because it is generally dependent upon catarrh.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

WILL UTILIZE THE FURNACE SLAG

Charter Granted for Company With New Process of Disposing of By-Product.

BIG BAKERY IS ORGANIZED

Pittsburgh Baking Company Will Build a Large Plant in West End With Capacity of 18,000 Loaves Per Day—Capital Has Been Secured.

Among the many charters granted at Harrisburg yesterday was one to the Shinn Sing Sand Company of this city, the operation of which is expected to work a very material change in the disposal of blast furnace slag. The company was organized several months ago. It operates a process patented by Joseph A. Shinn by which furnace slag is granulated into fine, sharp sand. The tensile strength of plaster and cement made with this product varies from 30 to 600 per cent greater than mixtures with river sand, the highest gain being in soft mortar with lime. The company has had a plant in operation at Youngstown for several months and has recently established one in connection with the Jones & Laughlin company's furnaces out Second avenue. The utilization of slag in this way is new in this country, but a process has been used in Germany for some years. There much of the product is manufactured into cement bricks for building purposes. The business here is expected to develop large properties, the raw material being at hand in tremendous qualities.

Plans have been drawn for the building of the Pittsburgh Baking Company, a corporation which was granted a charter yesterday at Harrisburg. The building will be at McKnight street and Wabash avenue, West End, and will cost, including machinery, $75,000. Work will be started next week.

Begin Building Next Week.

A meeting of the board of directors was held last night at the Seventh Avenue hotel, when it was decided to begin building operations next week. The most modern machinery has been specified and will be installed under the supervision of John A. Benton, president of the company. The bakery will have a capacity of 18,000 loaves per day and 70 barrels flour will be turned into crackers each week. The charter will allow a general baking business as well as the manufacture of confectionery and mixed flour and cereals.

The capitalization of the company at present is only $50,000, and it is expected that this will be increased shortly. Harry Summers Estep, architect of the factory, has drawn plans which call for a three-story brick building. Provision is made for the addition of three more stories. The stockholders of the Pittsburgh Baking Company include a number of independent bakers of the two cities, which will assure much business to the new concern.

The officers are John A. Benton, formerly manager of the sales department of the Hardie branch of the National Biscuit Company, president; H. T. F. Rohrkaste, a grocer of No. 2408 Sarah street, treasurer, and Albert York Smith, attorney, secretary. The board of directors is Dr. Leon Thurston, J. H. Scherer, Joseph Williamson, J. F. Kirk, Edward Maloy and W. H. Shaffer.

Catering Company Chartered.

A charter was also granted to the Jeremy Catering Company of Pittsburgh, with a capital stock of $30,000. The company is located in Smithfield street, opposite the postoffice, where it has been doing business for a number of years under a Mr. Jeremy charter. Alfred H. Jeremy, manager of the restaurant, said that the second charter was applied for so that the company could operate under the laws of Pennsylvania. No changes are contemplated.

Among the other charters issued at Harrisburg yesterday were:

Hercules Fire Proofing Company, Pittsburgh, capital $5,000; directors, W. A. Strouse, C. G. Kisaadden, Bellevue; F. M. Westby, Esplen.

George E. Dietz Company, Pittsburgh, capital, $100,000; directors, George F. Dietz, Allegheny; J. J. Buchanan, A. M. Levy, Pittsburgh.

Duquesne Light Company, Pittsburgh, capital $20,000; directors, F. B. Fruta, C. A. Gwin, E. W. Hatfield, Pittsburgh.

George Wild Furniture Company, Homestead, capital $80,000; directors, George M. Hall, Thomas W. Morgan, Edward Breitinger, Homestead.

Wild Furniture Company, McKeesport, capital, $50,000; directors, A. J. Wild, J. J. Ferrigan, J. S. Ryan, McKeesport.

JAMAICA'S HERMIT DEAD.

His Lifeless Body Was Found Floating in the Bay Yesterday.

INWOOD, L. I., Aug. 6.—(Special.)—Two huvmen found the lifeless body of Henry Comba, a hermit, in his shanty on the Jamaica Bay meadows this afternoon. Combe was 87 years of age. Old residents say he was engaged to a country lass about 50 years ago, who was known for her beauty. She died of fever, and after her interment Comba shunned all society.

Several times each year a party was orgathized to go to Combs' shanty to bathe him and trim his beard. He recently inherited a large tract of land and several houses in Inwood, but resisted all efforts to persuade him to lead a different life.

Wilkinsburg Real Estate Change.

The recently organized Wilkinsburg Real Estate and Trust Company yesterday became the possessor of the business of the Davies Real Estate Company of Wilkinsburg. The offices of the Davies company are located at Penn avenue and Wood street. They will be occupied by the new company's secretary, at which time they take over the Davies company. The Wilkinsburg company is capitalized at $500,000, and was organized by the officers and directors of the First National bank of that borough. All of the stock has been subscribed for by residents of Wilkinsburg, 300 in number. Attorney A. W. Duff is president, T. D. Turner, first vice president, and Jacob Weinman, second vice president.

Fled From Poker Game and Left Clothing.

Chief of Police Bernard Boyle of Hays borough has eight hats, six coats and several other articles of men's wearing apparel, said to be the property of a number of South Side sports, which he is endeavoring to find owners for. The clothing was picked up by Chief Boyle after a raid on a poker game in Hays borough early yesterday morning. The game was being played by about a dozen men in a secluded spot, and they were surprised by the police. All the players escaped, leaving the cards, chips, money and clothing on the ground.

STOCK SPECULATIONS CAUSED TELLER'S RUIN

Canton Bank Employe Charged With Embezzling $22,000 of Funds of Institution.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CANTON, O., Aug. 6.—The discovery of a shortage of about $22,000 in the funds of the City National bank resulted in the arrest of Albert W. Deibel, teller of the bank, on the charge of embezzlement. The first proceeding against Deibel was taken in the court of a justice of the peace, Bowman, charging Deibel with the embezzlement of $1,000. More serious proceedings in federal court were taken late this afternoon and a warrant was issued for Deibel under which he will be taken to Warren for arraignment.

In the local court Deibel waived examination and was held under $25,000 bail, which he was unable to furnish. Deibel is said to have made a full confession of his alleged peculations to the officers and directors of the bank 10 days ago, when an error of $1,000 was found in his account with the Pittsburgh correspondent of the bank.

This discovery, it is said, Deibel interpreted as evidence that the whole thing had been discovered and he confessed all, begging for time to make up the sum. Friends did not help him as expected and the arrest followed. He had been with the bank since he was a boy and was held in high esteem. He is about 36 years old and single.

A number of causes are assigned for the loss of the money, the principal one being dealings with get-rich-quick schemes. Nearly $3,000 was lost through investments with a St. Louis commission company. He did some dealing with Wall street stocks and had a weakness for oil. He was on several local prospecting companies.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 6.—Criminal proceedings were instituted in the federal court here today by attorneys representing the City National bank of Canton against Albert W. Deibel, teller of the latter institution, on the charge of embezzling about $22,000 in funds and falsifying the bank's books. A deputy marshal has been sent to Canton to take charge of Deibel, who is under arrest there. The prisoner will probably be given a preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner Glimer at Warren tomorrow.

Live Electric Wire Caused Disaster in Monongah Mine. Three Will Die.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

FAIRMONT, W. VA., Aug. 6.—By the explosion of a keg of powder in mine No. 2 at Monongah this morning, 11 men were injured, three fatally. Those fatally injured are:

Tony Tusch, 37 years old, married, burned all over body, dying in Miners hospital at Fairmont; Joe Monse, 39 years old, married, burns on face, neck and breast; in hospital at Fairmont; Frank Salva, 46 years old, married, general burns and right leg cut and bruised; in Fairmont hospital.

Those seriously, but not fatally, burned are Frank Frazzio, Nick Frazzio, Albert Paddall, Pasquel Mongee and Angelo Uensenti.

The injured all live in Monongah. The accident occurred in a very unusual manner. Tony Tusch was going to work in the mine with the other miners, carrying a drill on his shoulder. Over his head down the steep decline of the mine was a live trolley wire. Tosch carried a keg of powder under his arm. The drill came in contact with the trolley wire. The current was carried down the man's arm to the keg of powder and in an instant the explosion took place. Those men nearest caught the full force of the powder and were covered with fire. Tusch, who carried the keg, retains the arm under which he held it, but from head to foot he is a mass of torn, seared flesh.

DESPERATE CRIMINALS BROKE OUT OF JAIL

Two Men Escaped from Washington County Prison—Inmates Threatened.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, PA., Aug. 6.—A daring jail delivery occurred here this morning when two desperate criminals, Thomas Donahue and Robert Blackburn, succeeded in making their escape from the new county jail in a sensational manner. They were committed to jail on May 7 by Justice Bert W. Castner of Donora, for assaulting and beating Emmett Campton, a prominent merchant of West Columbia, robbing him and placing his unconscious body on the tracks of the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railroad.

Donahue and Blackburn were confined in the second tier of the side next the court house and effected their escape through a window on West Beau street. The new jail building is a large stone structure. With a broken saw they cut through a bar of the window grating and with a rope and pick handle, secured where men are putting in new cells, they bent down the bar, making a space seven by 13 inches. Through this they squeezed and lowered themselves to the ground.

How the men secured access to the window from their cells is a mystery. At night prisoners are locked in one range, each man occupying separate cells. One prisoner is allowed the freedom of the range during the night to summon a physician in case of sickness. William Brady, a prisoner, says he played a game of casino with Blackburn at 11:30 last night, which might indicate that Blackburn's pal, Donahue, was at work with the saw while Blackburn was keeping the attention of the range man.

Italian prisoners said there were two men on the outside with revolvers who threatened to shoot anyone who attempted to raise an alarm. The work was commenced, according to them, about 12 o'clock and the escape was not made until 5 o'clock.

Sheriff C. E. Carothers has offered a reward of $500 for the capture of the men. Donahue is 36 years old and gave his address as Pittsburgh. Blackburn is 28 years of age and gave his address as Dunbar, Pa.

Insane Woman Killed by Train.

WELLSVILLE, O., Aug. 6.—Mrs. A. J. Godwin was found dead early this morning on the railroad a short distance from her home. Her mind had been affected by sickness and she wandered away last night. It is thought she was on her way to the creek to drown herself when she was struck by the engine. She was 50 years old. Her husband is a member of the Carrickville police force. She leaves three children.

Five Milk Dealers Fined.

ALLIANCE, O., Aug. 6.—(Special.)—Clarence M. Shafer, chief food inspector of Ohio, secured samples of milk from 11 local dealers a week ago. The milk was examined and affidavits were filed charging five dealers with adulteration. The accused pleaded guilty and each was fined $50 and costs.

HOUR KAUFMANN'S "THE BIG STORE" SALE

PENNIES, nickels, dimes and quarters—they'll be mighty factors during today's sale. They'll give you necessities and comforts and luxuries. Judgment day has passed and all summer goods have been consigned to the price-cutter. We can't carry them over, for styles and materials would be out of joint for next spring and summer. The re-pricing will give you a great deal for a little, but we take the big losses most gladly. They are not the sort of losses that hurt—they're helpful. They're antidotes for surplus stocks and style-stale merchandise. All hot weather merchandise, remnants, pieces, odds and ends must be rid of at once; we don't care what they cost or what loss the new prices mean, so don't waste sympathy on us. It's all in the way of business. It is absolutely imperative that every article, yard or pound created especially for the hot weather season shall be sold.

Today one dollar will do the work of two. Come! Let nothing detain you

BYERS BEATEN IN GOLF MATCH

WILL PLAY FINALS TODAY

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CLEVELAND, Aug. 6.—The fourth round of the western amateur golf championship is over and three cities are represented in the four survivors that will play in the semi-finals tomorrow. H. Chandler Egan of Exmoor, Chicago, his cousin, Walter Egan of the same club, R. H. Russell of Detroit, and Eddie Brown of Cleveland, are the men who will battle in the semi-finals. Each of these men won the match handily this morning. Chandler Egan had a very easy proposition in Tweedie of Chicago.

The afternoon's play under a blue sky brought out a big gallery. Western Champion Chandler Egan played E. M. Byers of Allegheny in the finest match the tournament has yet seen. Chandler Egan has had hard matches all week, but today he had to fight his very best to win. Every hole was hotly contested, and in the first round they were even up with a medal score of 37 apiece. The tenth, eleventh and twelfth holes were halved, but Egan won the thirteenth, fourteenth was halved, and Chandler Egan won the fifteenth by one stroke. On the sixteenth Byers overputted and Egan won the hole, giving him 1 up. The seventeenth hole was halved and the big gallery came up to the eighteenth to see if Egan could hold his own. He had only to halve it to win the match, but a bad shot to the bunker seemed to put him out of it. He got out nicely, however, while Byers over-approached and lost his match. Egan plays in the semi-finals tomorrow with R. H. Russell of Detroit, who easily beat Dr. Fredericks of Oil City, 5 up.

The biggest surprise of the day came when National Champion Louis James met defeat at the hands of L. Brown of Cleveland. James played miserable golf all through and broke badly off on his putting. This brings Brown against Walter Egan in the semi-finals, as Egan easily beat J. Sellers of Chicago this afternoon. Chandler Egan is down to meet with the chandelier, as he is playing the finest game of the four who are left.

The scores were: Chandler Egan, Chicago, beat H. J. Tweedie, Chicago, 7 up and 6 to go; Walter Egan, Chicago, beat M. Carhart, Detroit, 5 up and 4 to play; E. M. Byers, Allegheny, beat J. O. Towne, Chicago, 6 up and 5 to play; Louis James, Chicago, beat Joe Hole, Cleveland, 7 up and 5 to play; Dr. Fredericks, Oil City, beat N. H. Bokum, Glenview, Chicago, 7 up and 5 to play; R. Russell, Detroit, beat H. J. Richmond, Toledo, 4 up and 3 to play; J. M. Sellers beat S. G. Stickney 1 up 19 holes.

Afternoon play—R. H. Russell, Detroit, beat Dr. Fredericks, Oil City, 5 up and 4 to play; H. Chandler Egan, Exmoor, Chicago, beat E. M. Byers, Allegheny, 1 up; W. E. Egan, Exmoor, Chicago, beat J. M. Sellers, Glenview, Chicago, 3 up and 1 to play; E. W. Brown, Euclid, beat Louis James, Cleveland, 3 up and 2 to play.

In the semi-finals tomorrow, Walter Egan of Exmoor will play E. W. Brown of Euclid club, and R. H. Russell, Detroit, will play H. Chandler Egan, Exmoor.

FIGHTING THE PIRATES.

New Yorkers Think the Champions Are Weakening.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—(Special.)—The Mail and Express says: "The incidents of the past few days have given unmistakable evidence of the fact that the Pirates are showing signs of weakening. The slip they have been maintaining has been a fast one, too fast, in fact, for day in and day out playing. The mind may be willing enough but the body cannot always keep up.

"Chicago has begun the good work of cutting down the Pirates' lead, and it is certainly up to New York to institute a winning spirit which will carry them up to Pittsburgh, so that they can swing in the lead when the two teams begin their series here on the 19th."

STILL IT RAINED.

International Tennis Tourney Goes Over Again.

BROOKLINE, MASS., Aug. 6.—The rain storm which began Tuesday afternoon had not ceased today, and the international lawn tennis tournament at Longwood was again postponed.

The doubles will be played tomorrow at 3 p. m. The two single matches scheduled for today will be played Saturday afternoon.

The picking of the English doubles team has also been postponed by arrangement. It is expected, however, that R. F. Doherty, who has wrenched his shoulder, will be able to play.

Athletics Took the Second Game from Boston.

HIT BOOKIES HARD.

Gates and Drake Win $30,000 on Runnell's Victory.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Aug. 6.—(Special.)—John W. Gates and John A. Drake, both of Chicago, hit the bookies hard in the fourth race today, and it is probable that between them they cleaned up about $30,000. Gates, who was at the track against the advice of his physician, thought the Runnells, belonging to his friend Drake, would take the measure of Mastermen of the Belmont stable.

As soon as the prices were posted, Gates went personally to "Bluy" Cowan and asked him how much he would take on Runnells. Cowan thought that $10,000 would about do him, and the wager was made. Drake, meanwhile was also getting down a wager of the same amount, but it was not learned with whom he bet. Drake got even money against Runnells, and Gates about the same, though a second bet sent into the ring by him was placed at 9 to 10.

JORDON SEEKS FIGHT WITH YOUNG CORBETT

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—(Special.)—Young Corbett has received word that Ben Jordon, English feather weight champion, is coming over to ride him or be licked. He first wanted Corbett to come to England. Jordon was once in this country and got a decision over George Dixon in 20 rounds.

JEFFRIES PICKED AS WINNER BY NUMEROUS FIGHT EXPERTS

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—A canvass of pugilistic experts and prominent fights as to who would win in the coming encounter between James J. Jeffries and Tom Sharkey, Jeffries for the heavy weight championship of the world shows that the majority are of the opinion that Jeffries will be the victor. Here is what the fighters say:

Gus Ruhlin—Jeffries will win. I expect Corbett to give him a hard fight.

Kid McCoy—Corbett will be beaten again by Jeffries. The latter is too strong and also too stiff a puncher for him.

Tom Sharkey—Corbett is liable to beat Jeffries this time. Corbett is in such great shape that his condition will help him greatly.

Peter Maher—Corbett has no chance of defeating Jeffries. Jeff beat him before and he will do so again.

George Gardner—Corbett's condition and his wonderful science will probably assist him in securing the decision on points.

Jack Root—Jeff will beat Corbett. I don't think Corbett is the great fighter he was several years ago.

Young Corbett—I don't care about picking a winner, as both men are my friends. I think it will be a slashing fight.

Terry McGovern—Jeff will win in a walk. Corbett will not be able to stand many of Jeffries' body punches.

Matty Matthews—I look for Corbett to secure the decision over Jeffries on points.

Jack Munro—Jeff ought to win, as he hits too hard for Corbett.

Following are the opinions of prominent promoters of fights:

Eddie Burke:—I think Jeff will surely beat Corbett. I look for him to do the trick in about 12 rounds.

George Considine—Although Corbett is in better shape than ever I cannot see how he is going to beat such a rugged fighter as Jeff.

Parson Davies—In comparing both men I can't see how Corbett can possibly beat Jeff.

Johnny Considine—I think it will be a great fight. I expect Corbett will be a winner, as the two men are my friends.

Jim Kennedy—With both men in such great shape I am of the opinion they will furnish one of the best fights between big men ever fought.

Pat Powers—I agree with Kennedy when he says the fight will be a great one. Corbett is fit, and that will mean a hard-fought battle.

Charley White—I refuse to give an opinion as to which man will win. I think Corbett will give Jeffries as good as fight as he did at Coney Island.

Tom O'Rourke—Jeff will beat Corbett as sure as I am going to eat my dinner.

Sam Harris—Jeffries is my selection. He is too strong for Corbett.

Sam Harris—Jeffries should beat Corbett in spite of the latter's great physical condition and cleverness.

Paddy Sullivan—There is nothing to it. Jeff will win like Waterboy did.

Joe Vendig—Jeffries will carry the money. I think he will win in a canter.

CORBETT HAS A CHANCE.

So Thinks Drexel Biddle, Who Still Has a Warm Spot for Fitzsimmons.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 6.—(Special.)—A. J. Drexel Biddle, a well-known society man of this city and an enthusiast on pugilistic matters, has "seized up" the fighting situation and has this to say on the coming fight between Jeffries and Corbett:

"There is not a doubt in my mind but that the two greatest pugilists in history who have fought in the heavy weight class are Fitzsimmons and Corbett. There have been larger, more powerful and more rugged pugilists, but these two men stand pre-eminent as the past masters of the squared circle.

"A pugilist, like a contestant in any other game, should be judged by his skill rather than by his brawn. I have seen a feather weight knock out a 200-pound athlete because the latter was a less skillful boxer.

"In bygone days Jeffries was the sparring partner for Corbett. I understand that Corbett employed Jeffries because he was big and strong and could take more punishment than a smaller man. In the fight of a few years ago between Corbett and Jeffries, at Coney Island, Jeffries was no doubt that Corbett, as a boxer, was the master of Jeffries. He was many times as fast and adept. But the fact remains that he was beaten.

"While it is argued that Jeffries should assume the aggressive in the coming fight, such tactics would seem hardly advisable in view of Corbett's ability. The Texas duffe man fights best on the defensive. The quick opponent finds his principal and best openings before the onslaught of a tardy aggressor. That Fitzsimmons was the best schoolboy Jeffries argues well in the latter's favor, but that Corbett has an equal chance of winning I will not gainsay. Corbett and Billy Fitzsimmons is yet the most skillful boxer of the world, that Corbett is the quickest and that Jeffries is the strongest, but I think that Fitzsimmons still retains the best schooling. Fitzsimmons is the most wonderful fighter in the history of the profession."

FIGHTERS ALMOST READY.

Corbett, Fit for Battle, Is Confident, While Jeffries Is a Little Overweight.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 6.—(Special.)—After weeks of hard training, Corbett and Jeffries are now almost fit to enter the ring for their battle for the championship. Another week remains for both men to put on the final touches for the 20-round contest. Corbett certainly seems stronger than before, and his physical activity seems to be such if he has the staying ability, with his skill, to send the big boilermaker into the "land of dreams."

Both fighters have their long list of followers, who can only see their favorite as the victor. At Corbett's camp one can hear nothing but "Jeff will be beaten," while at the championship he lost to Fitzsimmons at Carson City, "Yank" Kenney, Corbett's big sparring partner, is the most confident man at the training quarters, with the exception, perhaps, of Corbett himself. "I'm as big and husky as Jeffries," said Kenney this morning, "and can stand considerable punishing, but I'll tell you Jim has been hitting me so hard around the body that I am almost ready to quit and jump back to little old New York."

According to reports from Harbin Springs, Jeffries' training quarters, the champion is fighting considerable difficulty ridding himself of superfluous flesh. Jeffries has always been slightly over weight up to a few days before entering the ring for his fights, and his admirers here are not worrying over his condition.

TODAY'S LEAGUE GAMES.

Brooklyn at Boston.
Cincinnati at St. Louis.
Philadelphia at New York.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—(Special.)—Neither the Pittsburgh nor the Chicago National league clubs played today. The Pirates are in town and a large number of them watched the game at the South Side, as well as did several members of the Microbe team.

The Pittsburgh club will play an exhibition game on Champaign grounds tomorrow afternoon, and the Microbes will go to Woodstock, where they will meet the Olivers of that place in an exhibition game. On Sunday Grounds and White Sox will play another game at the South Side park. The second half of the series between the Microbes and the Pirates will begin Saturday, the teams hooking up then and Sunday.

Manager Clarke is expected to join the team today and a general brace up in the team's work is likely to follow. Manager Clarke has been spending a week on his farm at Winfield, Kan., resting up his sore shoulder, and word comes in advance that the shoulder is all right again, but Clarke will not likely get back into the game until the champions go east next week.

The Pittsburgh players have heard of the engagement of Pitcher Winham of the Montreal team, and look for him to join the team in the east. Winham is a left-hander who seems to have remarkable control, as his passes to first have been few and far between. His record with Worcester and Montreal has been a clever one and he is looked upon as the star left-hander of the Eastern league. Winham is slated to take the place made vacant by the desertion of Eddie Doheny.

The Pirates leave here on Sunday night and will reach Pittsburgh on Monday, where a game will be played with Patsey Donovan's Cardinals. On Monday night the champions start east, during which season, which is an off day in the schedule, an exhibition game will be played at Atlantic City. It is expected that both Pitcher Phillippi and Catcher Phelps will be ready for work on Monday and that both will go east with the team.

Warming Up for Meet.

GREENSBURG, PA., Aug. 6.—(Special.)—Over 140 entries have been received for the race meet that will be held at the old fair grounds nxt week. The entries are from the most important racing centers of Pennsylvania and neighboring states and good going is promised, some of the events having over 20 entries. The interest of the race centers in the 2:12 pace on Thursday, when Robert D., ex-Sheriff Henry F. Senor's gelding, meets Guy Red of the Hawa stable, of Johnstown. Racing devotees of both towns will back the two horses heavily.

CIRCUIT HORSES WENT FOR TWO BIG STAKES

Jay McGregor Won the Electric City Stake in Straight Heats and Star Hal the Other.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

BUFFALO, Aug. 6.—Two stakes were on the card for the grand circuit here today. The Electric City stake of $5,000 for the 2:25 class, trotters, was taken in straight heats by Jay McGregor. Budd Doble got second money with his brown stallion, Kinney Lou. Star Hal took the Empire State stake or $2,000 in the 2:14 pace, in straight heats.

The driving of Geers in the 2:04 class pace was like a feature of the day. In the second and third heats he lined up much ground and won going away with Harold H. While the horses were on the back stretch in the third heat of this race, the last of the day, Dan Patch fell heavily. Dan Patch will go an exhibition mile tomorrow. Summaries:

PHILLIPS TO RETIRE.

The Allenport Pitcher to Quit Fast Company.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 6.—(Special.)—"Big Bill" Phillips of Allenport, Pa., who is regarded as one of the mainstays in the pitching box for the Reds, will follow the example of Charley Nichols and retire from fast company after the season. Phillips has made similar announcements before, but this time he says he is in earnest.

"My days in the big league are about over," said Phillips, "and I shall secure an interest in and pitch for some good minor league team. This will be my last year with the Reds."

Phillips is one of the well-to-do men of the Cincinnati team and can easily become a magnate without enlisting financial aid from others.

RAGLAN LANDS THE SPINAWAY

Well Ridden by Hicks He Captures Stake Event Worth $14,000 at Saratoga.

GOOD DAY FOR GEBHARD

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 6.—There were no sensational features on the fourth day of the Saratoga meeting. The attendance, however, was exceptionally good. The weather was threatening, with an occasional sprinkle of rain. A heavy track was the cause of a number of withdrawals, there being only two starters in the fourth race.

The Spinaway at 5½ furlongs, valued at $14,000, was the stake event. It was won by Raglan, a 2-year-old filly by Plaudit, out of Royal Gun, whom Frederick Gebhard purchased yesterday of J. E. Madden. She was well ridden by Hicks. Fuller, on Little Em, got a poor start, but piloted his mount home for place money.

A large amount of money was wagered on Runnels and Masterman, the only two starters in the fourth race. The former won easily after leading all the way. Mr. Gebhard registered three winners, Gay Boy in the first race, Raglan in the third and Cottage Maid in the sixth. Summaries:

First race, 5 furlongs—Gay Boy, Fuller, 7 to 5 and 2 to 5, won; Cobours, 133, Hoar, 6 to 5 and 1 to 5, second; Rigodon, 130, Gannon, 4 to 1 and 6 to 5, third. Time, 1:18 1-5.

Second race, 1 mile—Florham Queen, 92, McCafferty, 11 to 5 and 2 to 5, won; Fiara, 96, Crowder, 13 to 5 and 4 to 5, second; Peninsular, 98, Redfern, 10 to 1 and

LITTLE MISS ALICE IS HEROINE OF DAY

Five Year Old Miss Cunningham Takes Two Prizes at South Side Playgrounds.

FIELD DAY A BIG SUCCESS

Great Crowds Watched Interesting Events Participated in by Scores of School Children—Goat Race Created Havoc—Controller Larkin Was Present.

Little Alice Cunningham, 5 years old, was the heroine of the annual field day for the school children of the South Side, at the playgrounds, South Ninth and Carson streets, yesterday afternoon. The tot won two of the events and for each she was rewarded with a handsome doll. She clung to both imitation babies, as with her mother, she watched the other events.

Nearly every child on the South Side, and many grown people, crowded into the open space and watched the interesting features of the field day. The opening event, the race for 5-year-old girls, which Alice Cunningham won, the exciting goat race, the egg race and the potato race, were the salient events of an interesting afternoon.

Controller Larkin appeared on the field early and took an active interest in all the sports. Many prominent civic women were also present. Magistrate Vichestain spared no effort in making the day a success. Mayor Hays and Director Moore of the safety department, the latter a South Sider, promised to attend, but were prevented.

Controller John B. Larkin Told Mr. and Mrs. Samuel S. Miller That He Fully Approved of the Event.

LITTLE ALICE CUNNINGHAM.
She was a double winner and got a big doll as a prize.

Suitable Prizes Given.

The opening events were girls' races for tots ranking between the ages of 5 and 14 years. The last races for the 14-year-olds was won by Annie Carroll. She received a Dutch hand-painted tile picture, donated by the Central Mantel & Tile Company. The girls received dolls and the boys baseballs, sweaters, baseball gloves and bats, and other articles of use in their sports.

After the girls' races came the boys' races. Then followed the three-legged, sack, potato egg and boys' foot races. Then came the exciting goat race. Judge Vichestain and Controller Larkin had difficulty in starting the two entries, goats driven by C. Daly and Jim Maloney. The animals balked and jumped into the crowd and refused to start. Finally Daly's goat started around the track and was going fairly well until near the home stretch. Then it took a notion to attack the band, and into the bandstand it went.

The man with the bass drum grasped his instrument fondly, fearing the nervous goat would puncture it. The animal did finally make a dent in a big trombone and then was led toward the finishing line.

Daly's Entry Won.

Meanwhile, Maloney's goat had started and was dashing madly around the field. When nearly at the finish, Daly's goat had crossed the line.

A vain effort was made to have additional heats in this race, but after 10 minutes' hard work and after countless dresses and trousers had been rent by the careless goats' horns, the event was declared off and Daly's goat was made the winner.

Music during the afternoon was discoursed by W. H. Westös mistrel band, playing this week at the Sijou theater. The services of the band were given free of charge, as the field day is a charity affair. Last year the band cost $45 and this money was saved by the generous action of the minstrels. They were all dressed in costume, wearing purple Prince Albert coats, with red satin trimmings and red satin high hats.

The committee in charge of the affair consisted of Mrs. Samuel Miller, chairman, South Side park; Gus Kreil, chairman of sports, and John Gergman, starter of races.

Judges and Winners.

SOCIETY

ONE of the prettiest of the late summer weddings took place last evening at 6 o'clock, when Miss Lillian A. Mendel became the wife of Mr. Foster Hunter. Both young people are well known socially, the bride being the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Mendel of Boyle street, and the bridegroom a son of the late William Hunter of Allegheny. An exquisite gown of white crepe de chine, beautifully trimmed, was worn by the bride, white roses forming the bridal bouquet. The two maids, Miss Selma Mendel, a sister of the bride, and Miss Clara Heisch, wore polish gowns of pink organdie and carried pink roses. Miss Josephine Hunter, as flower maid, wore an exceedingly pretty frock of white, while her flowers were lilies of the valley. Both in the decoration and the gowns the color scheme of pink and white was carried out. Mr. Hunter was attended by Charles Parkes, who acted as best man.

Especially dainty and striking decorations characterized the wedding. In the parlor of the Mendel home, a beautiful room done in softly tinted cream, were palms of several varieties, arranged about the room in careless profusion, the green contrasting strongly with the furnishing of the apartment. The piano, with its violet-embroidered cover, was decked in smaller palms and ferns, while the mantel was banked and the fireplace filled with wild ferns together with the delicate maidenhair. Pink harmonized softly with the green walls of the dining room, where a large table was placed. Long-stemmed cut glass vases were filled with pink tall roses, these, against the white cloth, giving a most artistic effect. After the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. Alonzo Yorkie of Trinity Lutheran church of Allegheny, a wedding supper was served to the bridal party and the guests, about 40 in number. Mr. and Mrs. Hunter departed later for a short trip, which will include Atlantic City, Philadelphia, and other eastern cities. Their future home will be at No. 1212 Boyle street. A number of little social affairs have been given for and by Miss Mendel since the announcement of her engagement a short time ago. Miss Hunter and Miss Heisch, the bridesmaids, gave a joint luncheon and china shower in the bride's honor, and in connection with the wedding rehearsal, which took place Tuesday evening, Mrs. Hunter entertained her maids and the other members of the bridal party, together with a few friends, at a daintily appointed luncheon.

For Three Daughters.

Clusters of sweet peas and ferns, together with palms, formed the decorations at the card party given yesterday by Mrs. H. S. Paul of Oakmont. Mrs. Paul entertained at an 11 o'clock luncheon, followed by cards, both affairs being in honor of her three daughters, Miss Alice, Miss Mary Lee and Miss Sue Paul. Luncheon, with exceedingly dainty appointments, was served on the veranda, the nine tables afterward being used for six-hand euchre. Mrs. Paul's prizes went to Mrs. A. M. Brown, Miss Marion Teese and Mrs. S. Dale Clarke (one hand). A number of out-of-town guests were present, including Miss Alice Cooper and Miss Gertrude Bettes, guests of Mrs. William H. Cooper; Miss Condron of Hollidaysburg, the guest of Miss Cora and Miss Mame Morris; Mrs. Colby of Washington, who is visiting Mrs. S. C. Long; Mrs. Howard Nimick's house guest, Miss Lee of Baltimore, Miss Bent of Los Angeles, who is being entertained by Mrs. Orlando Metcalf, and Miss Paul's visiting friend, Miss Julia Patterson of the East End.

Knoxville Lawn Fete.

The grounds of G. F. Ott in West street, Montooth, were gayly lighted last evening for the lawn fete given by the Aid society of the Knoxville Protestant Episcopal church. The proceeds will be devoted to the building fund. Among the members of the Aid society who were interested in the affair were Mrs. Allan Moorehouse, Mrs. D. Grewco, Mrs. William Haslett, Mrs. William Neering, Mrs. Holoban, Mrs. Owens, Mrs. G. Brownhill, Mrs. Nowlen, Mrs. Willard Davis, Mrs. William Lewis, Mrs. S. Simcox, Mrs. N. Elkins, Mrs. Foster, Mrs. H. Stevens, Mrs. H. Swartz, Miss Anna and Miss Agnes Highley, Miss Anna and Miss Dora Herb, Miss Agnes Wilkinson and Miss Belinda Ott.

Epworth League Street Fair.

The street fair being given by the members of the Epworth league chapter of the Homewood Avenue Methodist Episcopal church is one of the largest affairs ever held by the members. The fair was opened on Wednesday night, continued last evening and will be open this evening. Plans have been made to build an addition to the church, the fund for which will be increased by the receipts from the street fair. Members of the league include Mr. H. Baughenbaugh, Samuel Hollis, Miss Elizabeth Beatty, Miss Myrtle Green, Miss Margaret McCausland, C. W. Kreppe, Richard Martin and Mrs. E. H. W. McKee.

Farewell to English Guests.

Mrs. George Gormley's guests, Sir Colin and Lady Scott Moncreiff, their daughter, Miss Lucy Scott Moncreiff, and her friend, Miss Hilda Legbohn, were again entertained in the Sewickley valley yesterday. In the afternoon Mrs. George I. Whitney entertained the party at luncheon. In the evening Dr. and Mrs. Lippincott, who are spending the summer in Mrs. Halsey Williams' home, "Newington," at Shields, entertained in their honor. Cards were the entertainment for the evening. Today Sir Colin's party leaves for the east, they being on their way to England from India, where Sir Colin has been on a government mission.

A Recent Engagement.

Formal announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Kate H. Swinbank, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Swinbank of Wyoming street, and Albert Merton, also of Pittsburgh. The wedding will be a quiet event at the home of the bride next Tuesday evening. The hour is 8:30 o'clock, the Rev. J. Morris of the First Pentecostal church officiating. The reception will follow the ceremony, after which the bridal couple will leave for a wedding tour through Canada. Most of the time will be spent at Newmarket, the former home of Mr. Merton.

Successful Lawn Fete at Sewickley.

The lawn fete and bazar given under the direction of the ladies of St. James' Roman Catholic church, Sewickley, on the lawn adjoining the rectory last evening, was quite an elaborate affair and very successful. A minstrel show by young men was one of the features. It is estimated that about $1,200 will be cleared from the affair. The proceeds will be used to put steam heat in the church.

Dinner to Miss Roosevelt.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 6.—(Special.)—A round of pleasure and gayety, which promises to prove the life of August, was begun today by Alice Roosevelt and her young friends of the cottage colony, who are very much delighted at her return. This afternoon Miss Roosevelt attended the tennis tournament and this evening she was entertained at dinner by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fulton Cutting.

During the month of September a series of dances will be held at the boat house, which is anchored at the foot of C street, Oakmont.

Moonlight Excursion.

The members of the Sheraden Methodist Episcopal church will have a moonlight boat excursion up the Monongahela this evening. The proceeds are to go toward the building fund of the new church. Prof. James Miller, Miss Elizabeth Clarke and Miss Jessie Oesmann will contribute readings and recitations, while music will be furnished by Miss Eva and Miss Carrie Hoffman, the Aird brothers, Prof. J. H. Wilson and his orchestra.

For the Fresh Air Fund.

Between the hours of 4 and 9 p. m. tomorrow a lawn fete for the benefit of the fresh air fund will be held on Thomas boulevard. Miss Margaret Woods, Miss Rachel Woods, Miss Bessie Wright and Miss Henrietta Shoemaker have the affair in charge. The usual lawn fete attractions will be provided, a Jack Horner pie for the children being one of the chief features.

FOR THE CAKE LOVER.

Perhaps one reason why the amateur cake-maker fails in her work so frequently is because she either does not understand, or fails to appreciate the important features of the work—the quality of materials used and a careful observation of exact proportions when putting these together.

There are only two kinds of cake in reality in spite of the fact that mother's mother gave a tea party at which was served "eleven kinds of cake."

There are cakes made with butter and those without, and grandmother's skill was demonstrated no doubt in her ability to produce such a great variety from two reliable recipes. Understanding the proper way of mixing and baking and the general rules for batters and doughs, you can hardly fail to get best results. In the group of butter cakes we have fruit, cup and pound cake, chocolate, nut layer cakes, etc.

Butterless cakes are of the sponge cake class, and when a very rich sponge cake is desired have quite a number of eggs combined only with sugar, flour and flavoring. These cakes may be made of the whole eggs or only the white part.

The usual method of mixing butter cakes is to first rub the butter to a cream, then add the sugar, beating them together until light and creamy. The eggs are separated, the yolks beaten until very light and then stirred into butter and sugar. The pinch of salt (if added), the baking powder and any spices used, are mixed with the flour, which is always sifted before it is measured—and then the flour and milk or water are added alternately and the batter beaten smooth. And last of all the whites of the eggs, beaten to a stiff froth, are folded in until thoroughly mixed. The more the batter is beaten the smoother and finer the grain. Flour the fruit before adding, so it will not sink to the bottom of the pan.

INQUIRIES ANSWERED.

A young housewife writes: Will you give me a recipe for preparing sweet-sour beans for canning. I find your columns very interesting and a great help.

Sweet-Sour Beans.

We are not quite certain as to your meaning in reference to the beans—whether sweet-sour is a local name for a variety of beans or relates to the manner of preparing them. We have several recipes for cooking sour beans, either fresh or canned, white or string beans. We would suggest that you can them in the usual way if you prefer to can your own vegetables. You can, then "sour" them when preparing for the table.

Sour Beans.

After the beans are cooked tender, put some dripping or butter in a pan with a little flour and brown slightly. Then add a pinch of salt, half a cup of brown sugar to two tablespoonfuls of fat and flour, enough cinnamon and vinegar to give the beans an agreeable acid flavor. Simmer all together gently on back of stove, stirring occasionally so they will not burn until beans are well seasoned. The juice from spiced peaches or pears may be utilized in this way, substituting the sugar and vinegar.

THOUSANDS IDLE FOR LACK OF CARS

Coal Companies and Manufacturers Complain of Discrimination Against Pittsburgh.

TWO ROADS ARE OFFENDERS

Baltimore & Ohio and the Panhandle Said to Be Aiding West Virginia Operators at the Expense of This District. Mines Being Shut Down.

Discrimination against Pittsburgh is a reason given by a number of coal companies and industrial concerns for the alarming shortage of cars. This is held responsible for the enforced idleness of over 12,000 men employed by one company alone.

The Baltimore & Ohio seems to be the principal offender, while the Pennsylvania lines west, through the southwest system, or the Panhandle, is using most of its surplus coal cars in the West Virginia district and along the Norfolk & Western. The conditions in the Pittsburgh district are worse than any time last year, and it is prophesied that by September the shortage of cars of all kinds and the congestion of freight will be so aggravated that months of hardework will not relieve the situation.

A rule just adopted by the Baltimore & Ohio regarding the allotment of cars in this district, it is believed, will work to the detriment of every industrial plant along the Pittsburgh division of that road.

Allotment Point Changed.

Authority for giving cars to industries has been taken from the hands of the general superintendent at Pittsburgh, who heretofore has managed this detail work, and all cars will be alloted from Baltimore through the superintendent of transportation. Much delay is expected to follow from this method.

Discrimination against Pittsburgh by the Baltimore & Ohio is said to be in favor of the largest sources of coal shipments in West Virginia. Most of this coal goes directly east, while the Pittsburgh coal during the summer months is rushed to the lakes. The Baltimore & Ohio is notably behind in its lake shipments. For the month of July Sandusky received almost one-half the tonnage of coal as for the same period of 1902, while the aggregate tonnage for all other lake ports of that road shows a decrease of about 40 per cent for the same month. Figures as to the business of the Pennsylvania lines at the lake could not be obtained, although it is said Pittsburgh coal has not been moving as freely as anticipated.

The Pittsburgh Coal Company, which is the largest soft coal shipper in this district, last season placed on the lakes 3,000,000 tons, and it was estimated that over 4,000,000 would be taken from this district to lake ports during 1903.

Sudden Drop in Shipments.

Up to July 1 the record was ahead of that of last year, but for the past 35 days there has been a decided drop, and the fear is expressed that enough cars will not be obtained to bring the total movements very much above 3,000,000 tons.

The Baltimore & Ohio yesterday was unable to deliver cars to the mines of the Pittsburgh Coal Company, all of which were closed. Only four on that road were in operation. The mines of the same company on the Panhandle were in as bad shape. The exact number idle could not be had. An official of the Pittsburgh Coal Company, however, said that two-thirds of their mines on the Baltimore & Ohio and the Panhandle are idle, throwing over 12,000 men out of work.

The cause for the shortage is said to be due to favoritism in alloting cars. Many coal companies in West Virginia seem to be getting more cars in proportion to the Pittsburgh companies, according to officials of the latter concerns.

Complaint is made only against the Panhandle and the Baltimore & Ohio. The Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, a manufacturer said yesterday, has more cars than it knows what to do with. He explained this by saying that the Lake Erie is working in the interest of Pittsburgh and not diverting its supply of empty cars.

MISSION WORK IN JAPAN.

Methodist Protestant Board to Give a Worker Eight Months' Vacation.

The foreign mission board of the Methodist Protestant church held its quarterly meeting yesterday. The progress of the work in Japan, which is the chief field of this church, was discussed at some length. The Rev. J. L. Leland represented the Christian Endeavor of the church, which is about to send a missionary to China. Three persons were considered for the position, but a selection has not been made.

The Rev. J. J. Ogburn of Greensboro, N. C., field secretary for the United States east of the Rocky mountains, gave his report of the work in progress in this country.

The board made arrangements whereby U. G. Murphy would be brought home from Japan and given an eight-months' vacation. Mr. Murphy is president of the Japan conference and the leader in the reform movement going on in that country. The Rev. Mr. Leland will be acting president during his absence.

Dr. T. H. Lewis, president of Western Maryland and Adrian colleges, presided at the meeting. W. S. Fleming, superintendent of public schools of Parkersburg, W. Va., is secretary of the board. Other members present were the Rev. F. C. Klein of Newark, N. J., and F. F. Brierly of Beaver Falls. The Rev. W. L. Wales of Ohio was the only absent member.

WANTED TO LYNCH HIM.

Coal and Iron Policeman Had Strenuous Time at Rankin Yesterday.

Several excited foreigners threatened to lynch Andrew Ginter, a coal and iron policeman, at the Rankin plant of the American Steel & Wire Company, late yesterday afternoon. Interference of the Rankin police officers probably saved Ginter from injury.

Ginter saw Roman Senie sleeping on a street curb. He awakened him and told him to move on. Senie became angry and a fight followed. Ginter, it is claimed, struck Senie over the head several times with a club. Slavs and other foreigners then gathered around and threatened to lynch Ginter.

Senie made information against Ginter before Justice J. M. Hughes of Rankin, and when Ginter was taken to the office for a hearing the crowd again became belsterous and Ginter had to be taken to his home with a guard. His case was held over as Senie is a German and lives in Wilmerding.

Now the Boy Wishes He Were Home.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—(Special.)—Of course it never occurred to the dog that Portelle O'Berma had pulled his tail. He blamed it on the cat. That started the fight, which ended in the Harlem police court, where two women were fined $3 and the boy was sent to the Children's society to be instructed in kindness to dumb brutes.

PAID HIGH HONOR TO PITTSBURGHER

The Rev. John G. Beane Is Elected Second Vice President of C. T. A. U.

MEET AT ST. LOUIS IN 1904

Many Reports Were Read at Second Day's Session, All Containing Encouraging Statements—Fine Program for Today—Entertainments This Evening.

Pittsburgh was signally honored at the close of yesterday afternoon's session of the 33d annual convention of the Catholic Total Abstinence union by the selection of the Rev. John G. Beane as second vice president of the national union. The Rev. A. R. Doyle, the noted Paulist of New York, placed Father Beane's name in nomination, and the Rev. Patrick Kelly of Toledo seconded it. The election was unanimous.

Father Beane, who is a young man, is president of the Pittsburgh diocesan union and rector of Corpus Christi parish. He is a noted total abstinence worker.

The other officers elected were: President, the Rev. Walter J. Shanley of Hartford, Conn.; first vice president, the Hon. Walter J. Gibbon of Chicago; third vice president, Mrs. Lenora M. Lake of St. Louis; secretary, J. Washington Logue of Philadelphia, and treasurer, the Rev. J. J. Curran of Wilkesbarre. St. Louis was selected as the next meeting place. The next convention will be held the first week in August, 1904.

Opened With Religious Exercises.

The second day's session of the convention was opened at 10 a. m. with religious exercises by the president, the Rev. Walter J. Shanley. The delegation before the business session had attended requium mass at the Church of the Epiphany in Washington street. The mass was for the repose of the souls of the deceased members of the order. A double quartet sang a new mass which was rendered for the first time in this city at the services held last Friday for Pope Leo XIII.

After the opening of the session in the Duquesne theater yesterday morning, the Rev. Father O'Malley of Springfield, Mass., reported the condition of the diocesan union of that place as having 79 societies divided as follows: Men's, 36; women, 15; juveniles, 8; with a total membership of 6,346. A paper was read by William O'Brien, supreme commander of the Knights of Father Mathew of St. Louis, his subject being "Strong Men."

Thomas H. Keough of Springfield, Mass., read a paper giving the history of the temperance movement for the past 250 years. He said that the Rt. Rev. Tierney, bishop of Hartford, had given the pledge to over 60,000 in the past nine years. Mr. Keough is the author of the history of the C. T. A. U. in Connecticut.

Work Is Growing Rapidly.

The Rev. Father Siebenfoerker, in charge of total abstinence in colleges and seminaries, reported that the work in these institutions is growing rapidly; that the movement in the seminaries had led to the organization of the Priests' Sacerdotal league, and that its membership is increasing. The Rev. Father Sullivan reported for the Providence (R. I.) diocesan union that it had 20 societies with a membership of about 1,110.

The report of the national treasurer, the Rev. J. J. Curran of Wilkesbarre, showed that in the past year he had received $3,057 59 and had expended $1,697 59, leaving a balance of $1,360 in the treasury. An auditing committee composed of Harry Stonelake of Philadelphia, J. M. Tighe of Pittsburgh, Mrs. M. J. Kelly of St. Paul, C. L. Anderson of Dubuque and Miss Catherine McDermott of Hartford, Conn., was appointed. The report of the committee on credentials showed that there were in the convention 916 delegates who were entitled to vote.

The afternoon session convened at 2:30 o'clock and the first business was the reading of the report of the committee on resolutions. A resolution was passed expressing sorrow at the death of Pope Leo XIII.; another bowing to the will of the new pope, Pius X., and two condemning drinking among Catholics were also passed.

The Rev. A. P. Doyle of New York was appointed to receive subscriptions to support the work of the Rev. Father Seidenfeoker among colleges and seminaries. Father Doyle started the work by subscribing $100. A letter was read from the Rt. Rev. George B. Montgomery, coadjutor bishop of San Francisco, sending greetings to the convention. The session closed with the announcement by President Stanley that the first Tuesday in October, 1904, would be C. T. A. U. day at the St. Louis exposition.

Last night the delegates and visitors were entertained by a trolley ride about the city and to the parks. This morning at 9 o'clock the delegates will assemble at the Duquesne theater and then go visiting many of the principal churches in the city. At 10 o'clock the priests comprising the head of the Sacredotal League of America will meet in the parlors of the Hotel Henry and complete the organization of that body. It is due to the Rev. Father Seidenfeoken that this order was organized. Its membership will be confined to priests who are total abstainer workers.

At noon the delegates will be taken for a boat excursion to the Edgar Thomson steel works at Braddock and in the evening the Rev. J. G. Beane Tourist club will entertain them with a reception at Kennywood.

JURIST'S BONES RAISED.

Remains of Judge Trevanion B. Dallas Removed to Homewood Cemetery.

After resting in old Trinity churchyard for nearly three-score years, the remains of Judge Trevanion B. Dallas yesterday were disinterred and removed to Homewood cemetery, where they will be deposited. A handsome shaft, which was erected over the grave by the Allegheny County Bar association, was taken some time ago to Homewood cemetery. Trevanion Dallas was judge of the Allegheny county court and died in 1845.

The work of removing the remains was tedious. The skull and many bones were in perfect condition. They were found over 12 feet below the surface and were buried beneath piles of building stones, which were placed in the grave as a support for the monument. The coffin had crumbled.

Mrs. George C. Leky of Allegheny is a grandchild of Judge Dallas. Her son and daughter watched the disinterment of the bones. The Dallas family, shortly after the death of Judge Dallas, removed from this city to Philadelphia. Judge Dallas had two sons, one of whom died in early life. The other, George M. Dallas, is now judge of the United States court, and resides in Philadelphia.

On the same day examinations will be held for nautical expert in the hydrographic office, at $1,600 per year. NO TRACE YET OF THE ENEMY

Defenders of the New England Coast, However, Keep Up Diligent Patrol.

A PROBABLE CLUE SECURED

An Arriving Steamship Reports Having Sighted Six Warships Steaming Eastward—Bar Harbor Believed to Be Contemplated Point of Attack.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BAR HARBOR, Aug. 6.—The defending squadron in the North Atlantic maneuvers is still without official knowledge of the whereabouts of the "enemy," although a steamer arriving at Boston reported that on August 4, in latitude 42.21 and longitude 61.15 six United States warships were sighted all bound east. This is supposed to be the attacking squadron under Rear Admiral Sands.

Things have been pretty quiet at Admiral Barker's land headquarters here today. Two tugs came in, one in the morning and one in the evening, but they brought no news of sighting the enemy anywhere along the line. Admiral Barker on the defending fleet is still hugging close to the entrance of this harbor, and from what could be gathered from the dispatch boats he is very close to Mount Desert rock, which is 25 miles out.

No news reached the headquarters from any of the land stations along the line today. The defense is still trying to get telegraphic communication with Bakers island, but up to tonight a break in this line could not be located. This line was put up during the Spanish war.

It is still believed by the defenders that Admiral Sands has picked this harbor as his goal. A careful patrol is being kept at the entrance to the harbor, and the Newport and the Hartford have been seen steaming up and down pretty well out. Lowes sound is being watched very sharply, as it is considered a likely point of attack. This is about 15 miles around the island from Bar Harbor, and is seven miles long and three-quarters wide. It is a good, deep channel, and Admiral Sands went up it on an exploration tour some weeks ago before the defending part of the fleet arrived.

Late this afternoon a signal flag was seen flying from the top of Green mountain, which is the highest point of land on the Atlantic coast. At the top of the mountain the coast survey has a staff and from this too a flag was seen flying.

MRS. MABEL M'KINLEY BAER QUICKLY ENDS STAGE CAREER

(Special Telegram to The Gazette.)

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—A special from San Francisco says that Mrs. Mabel McKinley Baer, wife of Dr. Herman Baer, and a favorite niece of the late President McKinley, has just announced that she has retired from the stage.

Following the announcement the statement was made that Mrs. Baer will sing no more in public under any circumstances and that all her stage engagements in the east for the coming season have been cancelled. It is only three weeks ago that Mrs. Baer made her debut at the Chicago opera house here. She was to have filled a return engagement at the house November next. Her decision to quit the stage is due to objections from her father, Abner McKinley, and her husband.

CHAUTAUQUA STUDENTS HELD THEIR RALLY DAY

Interesting Session Yesterday for the Various Literary and Scientific Circles.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y., Aug. 6.—This has been the rallying day of Chautauqua literary and scientific circles. The public exercises were held in the hall of philosophy and were presided over by Dr. Jesse Hurlburt.

In his address the doctor said that this was a sort of thanksgiving day for the circles; a time when they liked to gather in the old home to see the work that had been doing all year. Dr. Hurlburt said also that at the first rallying day even the most hopeful had not dreamed of such far-reaching results.

This afternoon a reception was tendered the delegates, and various states vied with each other in illustrations of the space allotted them. In the midst of these festivities the liquor problem was not to be neglected. The speaker was E. C. Dinwiddie, who chose for his subject "The Anti-Saloon League and the Liquor Problem." Mr. Dinwiddie poured out on the troubled waters. When he appeared on the platform he wore a white ribbon on the lapel of his coat, and thus he found favor with the larger part of his audience.

EUROPEAN CONDUCTORS COMING TO PITTSBURGH

George H. Wilson Engages a Number of Great Musicians While in Europe.

George H. Wilson, manager of the Pittsburgh orchestra, returned to his office yesterday morning after an absence of several weeks abroad, most of which time he spent with his family, now in Paris. Mr. Wilson arrived in New York on Monday and spent Tuesday with Victor Herbert at Saratoga discussing the affairs of the orchestra. Mr. Wilson is at home now to take up the active work of arranging the program of the orchestra for the coming season, which will begin on the first Thursday in November, Founder's day, at the Carnegie Institute.

Mr. Wilson, for the Pittsburgh orchestra, in conjunction with the New York Philharmonic society, has just completed arrangements with some of the most noted musical conductors of Europe to visit this country during the coming season. Among those with whom contracts have been made are H. J. Wood of London, Edward Colonne of Paris, Felix Weingartner of Berlin, Richard Strauss, the famous composer of Berlin, and Felix Motti of Baden-Baden. All of these will appear as conductors in New York and Pittsburgh for one week concerts. It is understood that the New York Philharmonic society is also negotiating with three other foreign conductors, representing as many different countries.

Henry J. Wood, the London conductor who is to appear here, is one of the most famous of European conductors. His orchestra of 150 pieces appears at Queen's hall in London, and is considered one of the best musical organizations in the world, while as a conductor Mr. Wood has few, if any, equals.

RAG-TIME WOULD NOT GO AT THIS WEDDING

Mike Sarto, a Rankin Slav, objected to the airs an orchestra played at a wedding celebration held near his home yesterday, and attempted to have the members play ragtime. The wedding guests objected as they wanted Slavish music, and a fight followed, in which all took part. Mike Tober was stabbed in the neck and George Znure had his nose broken. The Rankin police were called and captured the fighters. The principals were fined $25 and costs.

Passenger and Circus Trains Collide.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—(Special.)—A passenger train on the Staten Island railroad, while making a curve between New Brighton and St. George late last night, ran into a circus train filled with wild animals, which was on a siding. For a considerable time none would leave the coaches, expecting if they did to have some wild beast spring upon them. None of the animals escaped.

RUMOR THAT COPPER FIGHT IS AT AN END

Wall Street Has It That A. A. Heinze Has Surrendered to Rockefeller.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—There was a rumor in circulation in Wall street today which bore all the earmarks of probability that the great fight between two neighboring copper interests, which has been carried on in the courts for years and which gave rise to a scandal in which a judge was involved, is about to be ended.

It is said that A. A. Heinze, who is the principal stockholder in the Union Copper Company of Montana, has at last given in to the Rockefellers, with whom he has been battling, and that the property will shortly pass into the control of the Rockefeller interests and the Amalgamated Copper Company.

A report was also in circulation to the effect that the stock of the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Company, the decline in which caused the failure yesterday of Bryan & Sharp, is about to be taken over by J. P. Morgan & Co. No confirmation of the report could be obtained at Mr. Morgan's office, but interests affected announced that negotiations are in progress and may be consummated within a day or two. About 5 o'clock this afternoon a heavy rainstorm came up which caused the crowd to seek shelter under the trees, where thousands had to wait two hours for the excursion trains to take them home.

CHANGES AT HEADQUARTERS

Several Officers Who Were Assistants to the Retiring Lieutenant General Will Vacate With Their Chief—Col. Babcock to Be Retired.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Room 10, Postal Building, WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 6.

The official announcement at the war department today that the president had directed the appointment of Gen. S. M. B. Young to be lieutenant general of the army to succeed Lieut.-Gen. Miles has been generally expected for several days, as Gen. Miles will go on the retired list on account of the age limit next Saturday. Gen. Young will be the commanding general of the army for just six days, as on August 13 the new general staff system created by the last congress will go into effect.

Gen. Young will then become chief of the general staff. Gen. Miles has closed all of his business affairs with the war department and has removed his personal papers and other property from the offices of commanding generals, which he has occupied for so many years. Gen. Young will also occupy these offices, and they are now being put in order for him and his aids.

Gen. Miles' retirement will also result in several changes in the corps of assistants at army headquarters. Col. J. B. Babcock, now assistnat adjutant general, will be promoted on the date of Gen. Miles' retirement, to brigadier general and will immediately go on the retired list through the provisions of the law authorizing the promotions of officers who served in the civil war. Lieut.-Col. Feeber of the signal corps, who has been acting as secretary to Gen. Miles, will also leave headquarters to go on the general staff.

Col. Reeber is Gen. Miles' son-in-law, and a very popular young officer.

Other officers who have been on duty with the commanding general will receive other assignments at the war department or with their regiments. Among these is Lieut.-Col. M. P. Mauss, adj decamp, who will join his regiment at Fort Reno, Oklahoma. L. W. STRAYER.

SHORTS COVERED AND PRICES RALLIED

Stock Market Very Feverish, but Closing Strong at the Top—Over a Million Shares Changed Hands—Money Easy.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The eastern stock market yesterday was again very feverish and for an hour after the opening much apprehension was manifested in the trading. London prices came weak and lower and an enormous volume of stock poured upon the market, the transactions for the first hour aggregating 300,000 shares. There was heavy pressure against Atchison, which broke 2¼ per cent below Wednesday's close to 55½, the lowest of the year. Missouri Pacific was also extremely weak, breaking to 88¼, the lowest of the year. Among other stocks which made a low point on this movement was Metropolitan, which sold at 111, Brooklyn Rapid Transit at 40½, Louisville & Nashville at 90, St. Paul at 134½, Southern Pacific at 39¼, Baltimore & Ohio at 77¼, Union Pacific at 68¾, Rock Island at 19½ and the preferred at 57½, Delaware & Hudson at 153, Northwest at 155½, Ontario & Western at 19¾, and a number of minor stocks. There was no actual news to cause the selling in such great volume. It was merely a case of fear that something was hanging over the market which would force additional sacrifices and cause more demoralization. At 11 o'clock, when it was announced that all the brokers' sheets had passed the clearing house, the street experienced considerable relief. A sharp rally occurred and as the selling pressure was relaxed the volume of business became smaller. Still, the total for the first two hours reached 505,000 shares. Around the noon hour another spasm of weakness appeared, which again carried prices down to the lowest level. This movement was accompanied by unsettling rumors regarding the standing of stock exchange houses of some prominence. Traders attempted to anticipate the announcement of another failure, and from the character of the securities pressed for sale it was feared that some large interest was making a fearful sacrifice to maintain its position. This was the construction placed upon the liquidation of Atchison, Baltimore & Ohio, which was sold for London account, New York Central, which broke to 116¾, and Pennsylvania, which broke through 120. No announcement was made, however, and again the street breathed easier.

The real turn in the market occurred just before 1 o'clock. It appeared first in the quick rally in New York Central. This stock jumped from 117¼ to 119 on about three transactions. About the same time Reading had a sharp upturn and the rumor prevailed that shorts in these two stocks had been trapped. About the same time United States Steel preferred shot up from 68¼ to 70, and it was reported that Pittsburgh was a big buyer. Later Missouri Pacific, St. Paul, Union Pacific and Amalgamated Copper became decidedly strong. The movement in these stocks caused covering throughout the entire list, and during the last hour the feature was the rapid recovery made by all the leading stocks. Insiders were supporting Missouri Pacific, a broker who usually represents Gould interests taking Missouri Pacific in thousand-share blocks on every ¼ down in the early trading and helping the advance in the late dealings when the bears were covering. St. Paul rose 3½ per cent to 137½, Atchison rose nearly 4 points to 59¾, Rock Island common rallied 2 per cent and the preferred 2½ per cent. Delaware & Hudson jumped 4½ per cent.

The industrials, under the lead of United States Steel and Amalgamated Copper, fully shared in the rally. Steel common, which had declined to 26⅝ in the early dealings, recovered to 27⅞, and the preferred, which twice touched 68, rallied to 70. Republic Iron and Steel preferred, which had made a new low record by selling at 59, recovered to 66. Peoples Gas, which had broken to 90¾, recovered to 93, and Consolidated Gas, which had made a new record at 170½, rallied to 174¾. General Electric rallied 4 per cent to 154, and New York Airbrake rallied 5 per cent to 120. As a rule the highest prices of the day were made in the final sales, and the close was strong and in many cases at good net gains over Wednesday's close. The total sales reached 1,696,000 shares.

The one small failure which was announced early in the day was a Consolidated stock exchange house, and it had no effect upon sentiment. The fact that the day passed without further embarrassment to any prominent interest, and that the rally which began before delivery hour was well sustained throughout the afternoon, produced a better feeling in the street. The advance in wheat which occurred during the afternoon was more than offset by the weakness in cotton. While the upward movement was undoubtedly based upon covering of shorts, it was nevertheless true that there was a better market for the standard issues than for some days past. No matter how large the block of stock offered, there was a buyer, and the early declines were therefore less violent. This fact gave some color to the report that banking interests were supporting the market, or at least were prepared to avert anything like a panic. The call money market was a little firmer early in the day, the rate advancing to 3½ per cent, but it later declined to 2 per cent and closed easy.

There was a more cheerful tone to commission house advices after the close of the market, but there is still a feeling that a special cause underlies the resumption of liquidation this week, and until this cause is made known and the street is convinced that no further trouble is impending there will be no sustained and permanent improvement.

The local stock market was again very responsive to Wall street influences, opening weak and lower, and rallying during the latter part of the day. United States Steel was the leader in point of activity, and after selling down to 20½, rallied to 21⅝, closing at the best. The preferred declined to 68½ and recovered to 70, closing at 69⅜ bid. Crucible Steel common sold down to 10½, its previous low price, but subsequently recovered to 11. The preferred stock did not sell below 72 and closed at 72¼ bid. Manufacturers Light and Heat was under some pressure and sold down to 31½, the lowest price quoted since the reorganization. It rallied to 32½, leaving the net loss of ⅝ for the day. Ohio Fuel Supply did not change hands, but was nominally lower at 39⅝ bid, 39¾ asked. Philadelphia Company made a new low mark by selling down to 38½, closing at the lowest. Westinghouse Electric broke through 80, but subsequently rallied to 81¼ and closed strong at 82 bid. Westinghouse Airbrake broke to 149 and closed offered at that price, the lowest of the year. Only 80 shares Pittsburgh Coal common changed hands all day. The stock opened lower at 25½, but late in the day made a strong rally to 27 sales and bid. The movement was based upon the report of operations for June, showing an increase in net of $246,034.

The net earnings for the six months of the fiscal year were $3,283,426, the largest for any corresponding period in its history and an increase over the first six months of 1902 of $1,655,530. River Coal common and preferred remained dull and nominally changed. National Fire Proofing preferred declined to 32½, but recovered to 33 bid at the close. Brewing preferred declined to 45 and closed at that price bid.

In the trust company group trading was light and prices barely steady. At the opening there was some selling pressure, which resulted in a sharp decline in North American Savings, which broke to 130, or $20 below the subscription price of the new stock put out last spring, but later in the day there was a recovery to 137. Home Trust declined to 135 and Iron City Trust to 145, the latter recovering to 145. A small lot of Third National bank sold at 172, a decline of 8 per cent from the last previous sale. In the inactive list Pittsburgh Trust was offered down to 600, with 500 bid, and Union Trust was offered at 2,400. Equitable Trust was nominally quoted at 150 bid, 178 asked. American and Colonial Trust were both offered at 500 and closed without bid.

FEATURES OF THE DAY.

IN PITTSBURGH.

Bank exchanges were $7,306,192, an increase of $150,000.

Stock exchange sales were 6,228 shares stock and $150,000 bonds.

Westinghouse Electric broke to 73½, but rallied to and closed at 82 bid.

Crucible Steel declined to 25½, rallied to 27 bid.

North American Savings broke to 130, but recovered to 137.

IN WALL STREET.

Total sales for the day were 981,000 shares.

The day closed with an animated buying movement, with prices in the active list from one to three points higher.

The movement in call money did not [illegible] sign in stocks.

Total sales (par value) $5,100,000. United States bonds were all unchanged on the last call.

Pittsburgh Coal Earnings.

Pittsburgh Coal common, which opened lower at 25½, made a strong rally to 27 bid for the close, the strength being on the earnings of the company, which were reported as follows:

Net for June, 1903	$709,735
Net for June, 1902	457,701
Increase in net	$246,034

The statement for the six months ending June 30 compares as follows:

1903	$3,283,426
1902	1,627,887
Increase	$1,655,539

The foregoing net earnings of $1,655,539 for the six months ending June 30, 1903, are nearly $200,000 larger than the total net for the entire year 1901, and are only about $1,000,000 under the total for the entire year 1902. The increase is due in part to the larger output, but mainly to the higher price of coal and the greater economy in handling the business.

Low Price for Airbrake.

Westinghouse Airbrake yesterday sold down to 144 and was offered at that price at the close. This is the lowest since August, 1898, when a small lot of the stock sold at 144, but after the doubling of the capital by the declaration of a cash dividend of 100 per cent. From 149 in August of that year the market value of the stock advanced almost without interruption until it reached 220 in April, 1902, which was the highest ever quoted on the present capitalization. The highest price in 1903 was 176, recorded in January. Since then the price has steadily declined on a small volume of business. No special cause can be assigned for the weakness. At the present price the stock pays 8 per cent, provided the rate of dividends, being 24 per cent per annum, is maintained.

Rally in Electric.

Westinghouse Electric yesterday declined to 79½, the lowest price quoted since December, 1901, and just after a share below the record price of 116½ reached in August, 1902. Reducing the average price of rights which secured to stockholders in May of this year, the net decline from the highest price of last year is $35 a share. Electric is one of the favorites with traders, however, since it rapidly recovers from declines and affords the better speculative opportunities than any other stock at present on the local list. It closed yesterday at 82 bid.

Decline in Philadelphia Co.

The decline in Philadelphia Company yesterday to 38⅝ registered the lowest price since October, 1900, and the lowest on the present capitalization. The highest price quoted for the stock was 84, reached in May, 1901, when Philadelphia interests were buying the stock. The present decline, it is thought, is based largely upon the absence of support and possibly liquidation by certain holders. The losses in the Philadelphia specialties, like Asphalt, Consolidated Lake Superior and Metropolitan, not to speak of Pennsylvania railroad stock, have been severe. Philadelphia financiers east may still be bullish on Philadelphia Company, it is apparently not in the mood to buy the stock. The latter is about 16 per cent under the parity of Pittsburgh Railways, which pays the same rate of dividend as Philadelphia Company, and has a more diversified source of income.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

"The trouble with this market," remarked a local veteran yesterday, "is that it has gone one way so continuously that everybody who has been long sees a large shrinkage staring him in the face. For two months some of the shrewdest Wall street men in Pittsburgh have been saying that they thought prices were on bottom. This week has seen still lower prices, and that discourages buying for the purpose of averaging. Under the circumstances the best policy for the man who has the cash to stay with it, because he is certain to strike the lowest average for more than three years. In this market the best securities are suffering with the worst, and they are bound to enhance in value when financial conditions change for the better."

The Pittsburgh market is still dominated by the course of events in Wall street. On the floor of the local exchange a broker with buying orders inquires invariably whether New York quotations. If the latter are weak and declining, he holds off with his order for local stocks. If Wall street shows an upward tendency he executes his orders promptly. This is particularly the case with the steel, coal and electric stocks, but in some degree it applies to the whole list—even to bank and trust company shares, which should not be influenced by outside developments.

The special meeting of the Colonial Trust Company stockholders, which was postponed to yesterday, was again postponed until next Monday.

It was reported that there was considerable shifting of loans in the local market yesterday, which was partly responsible for the selling of stocks.

The decline in North American Savings to 130, the lowest price since the recent increase in the capital, was on the marketing of a small lot of stock. The price recovered to and closed at 137, a net loss of 3 points for the day.

Pittsburgh Trust was yesterday offered down to 600, and was nominally quoted at 500 bid. This is the lowest price since June last year, when the price rose rapidly from 600 to 900 on small lots of stock. There have been no recent transactions in the stock.

Window Glass Machine stock was quoted at 15 for the common and 80 for the preferred.

The net earnings of Chesapeake & Ohio for June increased $136,514. The net for the fiscal year decreased $467,000.

The gross earnings of Norfolk & Western for July were $1,881,876, an increase of $333,016.

The gross earnings of Louisville & Nashville for July were $2,031,810, an increase of $222,595.

The gross earnings of Missouri, Kansas & Texas for July were $1,327,191, an increase of $55,842.

The statement of the United States Realty & Construction Company was a disappointment to Wall street. One item, $77,000,000, "good will of subsidiary companies," is especially marked for criticism, since good will is usually represented by common stock and considered "water." With the 6 per cent dividend on preferred charged off the surplus for the year is only $158,797, or less than ½ of 1 per cent on the preferred. In the "conservative Wall street reports" that the common was earning 6, 8 and 10 per cent. The gross earnings for the year were $1,702,626, and the net totaled $1,543,829, but unfavorable items in "profit from estimated increases in value of investments held, $487,025."

The Union Pacific railroad and auxiliary companies in their preliminary reports for the fiscal year ended June 30, show a surplus after charges and dividends of $4,064,169, an increase of $648,000.

The gross earnings of Mexican Central for the fourth week in July increased $200,202; for the month, $485,000, from July 1, $2,785,691.

Pittsburgh is said to have been a large buyer of United States Steel preferred in the eastern market yesterday.

There is another fact in regard to United States Steel which should be considered. The company was organized by J. Pierpont Morgan, and the prestige of that financier to a large extent hangs on the success or failure of this billion-dollar corporation. To the general public the United States Steel Corporation means nothing more nor less than J. Pierpont Morgan. Much has been written about the wonderful ability which Judge E. H. Gary showed in distributing the stock of the company. It is probable true that there are few speculators who could have distributed the Steel issues as widely as James H. Keene. Mr. Keene's success, however, was due mainly to the fact that J. P. Morgan was the organizer of the company. The thousands of persons who have purchased the common stock of the Steel Corporation during the last two years and who have paid for the stock outright and locked it up as an investment, were influenced to only a small extent by the ability which Keene showed in manipulating the market. The fact that J. P. Morgan was the organizer of the company, and that he offered the stock to the public for sale, is the explanation of the wonderful manner in which the Steel securities have become distributed. If that financier had not stood sponsor for the company no dozen Keenes could have induced over 50,000 persons to purchase the stock. If the Steel Corporation proves a success the credit, whether justly or not, will be given to Morgan. If it proves a failure Morgan, although it may be unjustly, will be the person blamed. There is no person who appreciates these facts more deeply than Mr. Morgan. Every banker who has talked with that financier during the last few months has been impressed with the earnestness with which Mr. Morgan discussed the future of the Steel Corporation. If the enormous resources and credit of that financier can make the United States Steel Corporation a success the stockholders have no cause for uneasiness.—New York Commercial.

ALL CHEERED THE BOY'S BRAVE ACT

Negro Lad Rescued a Drowning Man at Atlantic City.

BOARDWALK IDLERS PLEASED

Charles M. Schwab Has Returned from New York, to Magnificent Suite in One of the Leading Hotels—Swimming Test is Postponed.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Young's Ocean Pier, ATLANTIC CITY, Aug. 6.

William Miller, a colored boy, distinguished himself this afternoon by assisting in the rescue of Andrew Pickens of New Haven, Conn. Pickens, who was bathing at the foot of Texas avenue, got into a current and was carried under Lee's pier. His cries for help were instantly responded to by the life guards. Guard Brower was making his way out to the struggling man, with the metallic life buoy and had almost reached him when a wave washed the life line to the piling. Brower tried to loosen the line, but another wave cast a loop of the rope around his neck and choking him, compelled him, for the time being, to desist from the work of rescue. It was then that Miller, who was sitting on the end of the pier, risked his life to save that of the hapless bather. The boy slid down one of the pilings and catching hold of Pickens kept his head above water until help arrived from the shore. The crowd that lined the beach and boardwalk cheered him to the echo.

Swimming Test Postponed.

The much-talked-of swimming test by the members of the Atlantic City beach patrol has been declared off, for the present at least. The two captains, by appointment, met the members of the license and police committee last night and it was decided that the test should be made individually by the two captains at any time or place that might suit the convenience of the captains. There was a story going around yesterday that the guards had refused to swim unless the two captains should also take the swimming test. The guards also say that the captains should be as capable of making a rescue as any guard. The captains have not yet decided when the men are to be given the trials.

Schwab Has Regal Suite.

Charles M. Schwab, ex-president of the United States Steel Corporation, returned here this afternoon from his trip to New York. Mr. Schwab's summer home is six private apartments in the second story of the Marlborough house, directly over the hotel drawing rooms and having a wide expanse of ocean view. In the suite are two private drawing rooms, one office and three sleeping apartments and baths. Including secretaries and private servants, his staff numbers 12 people, who are quartered in other parts of the hotel. Since he took possession of his apartments, last week, Mr. Schwab has been indulging in a passion for flowers. Each of the rooms is bright with palms and huge vases filled with cut flowers. American beauty roses and dahlias are the favorites and they are sent here in a hamper every day from a Philadelphia florist.

Clerks Want Some Leisure Time.

Here is a little comedy in the daily routine of Atlantic City life. The management of the ocean pier is in receipt of a letter signed by the Boardwalk Merchants' association protesting against the extremely late hour at which the pier shows close and thereby necessitating the keeping open of the boardwalk stores until the people are practically left with no time to themselves. The association demands that a system be adopted whereby the shows can be over at an earlier hour, a suggestion being that the shows be opened much before the customary hour. Unless the request is complied with, the letter states, a boycott will be inaugurated against the theatrical productions in the theaters that will force the management into compliance. In view of the fact that no such organization is known to exist, it is strongly suspected that the letter is the result of a ruse on the part of only the employes of the boardwalk stores, and that the "merchants" themselves are not cognizant of its being sent. An investigation is being made to discover who mailed the letter.

"Mayor Under Arrest."

Giradicus Walters, better known as "Professor" and "mayor of the boardwalk," is in the city jail awaiting the result of an examining board as to his sanity and fitness to be at large. He was committed tonight for trying to assault Thomanis Beach of this place.

SEVEN ACRES IN EAST END SOLD

E. C. Burkhardt Buys James M. Cark Frontage in Twenty-Second Ward for $20,000.

THREE COMPANIES CHARTERED

Pittsburgh Capitalists Looking Up Real Estate Market in Cuba—Few Building Permits Being Granted—A Number of Minor Realty Transactions.

Through W. B. Rath of Gault & Giffen seven acres of fine frontage in the Twenty-second ward has been sold to E. C. Burkhardt, president of the Keystone Realty Company, for $20,000. The property belonged to James M. Clark and faces in forward, May and Birchfield avenue. It is vacant and adjoins the Jane T. McElroy tract of 23 acres, which Mr. Burkhardt bought a few days ago through the same brokers for $138,000, or $6,000 an acre. This makes a plot of 30 acres lying on both sides of the Beechwood boulevard and extending to a point north of Monitor street. The total frontage is over 5,000 feet, which it is proposed to divide into large lots, none of them less than 150 feet deep from May. Burkhardt takes title to the property in the interest of a land company which is forming and which will at once proceed to grade and plot it.

Three More Local Companies.

Three more Pittsburgh real estate companies received charters yesterday. The most important development is the change of the Consolidated Real Estate Company into the Consolidated Real Estate and Trust Company. The move was considered when the company was organized but was not decided upon until a few weeks ago. Three directors of the present company are named as directors of the trust company, viz., W. Kieth of Allegheny, Charles E. Succop of the South Side and K. William Schuchman. The offices of the company will remain at No. 308 Fourth avenue.

The East Pittsburgh Land Company, with a capital of $25,000, also received its charter yesterday. The company was formed to develop a large tract of frontage near East Pittsburgh, and the improvements are to be started at once. The directors are C. H. Wanner, John F. Gangawich, Frank T. Redman, Thomas M. Ward and Harvey McKinney.

A third Pittsburgh company to be chartered was the Sharon Land Company which has a capital of $5,000. The directors are A. C. Hill, Allegheny and S. M. Langdon and F. A. McHendry of Pittsburgh.

Land Boom Coming in Cuba.

For several months local real estate men and promoters have been taking a great interest in realty developments in Cuba, and one of their number, George H. Thomas, has just returned from an extended tour of observation there. In Mr. Thomas' opinion Cuba is booked for a genuine land boom this fall. Already many American speculators are on the ground and have either established agencies at Havana or made arrangements with old brokerage houses there to handle their real estate deals. The big cattle farms and sugar plantations, ranging in size from 3,000 to 8,000 acres, which were burned over and devastated during the Spanish-American war, are being bought up rapidly for about $20 an acre. Other large tracts that are now covered with stunted cane can be bought for $4 and $5 an acre. Cattlemen from Colorado and Texas have recently made large purchases for ranches and are stocking them with cattle from New Mexico. The lands are mostly estates that have been in families since 1700 and whose owners are now land poor, their buildings having been burned and their stock killed during the war. Along the line of the Cuba Company's railroad, 800 miles long, there is the greatest development, and it is here Americans are investing largely. Mr. Thomas says that with the exception of the Cuban officeholders, who are drawing fat salaries, and the negroes, almost the entire population of intelligent people favor annexation, as they believe it would improve business at once.

Delays Due to Short Office Force.

After a lapse of three days, building permits were again issued yesterday from the office of the Pittsburgh bureau of building inspection. The recent cutting off of another employe in this office has made it very difficult for Superintendent S. A. Dies to get out the work in good time. Since the change in administration contractors have had much difficulty in getting their plans through the office on time, owing to the scarcity of help and the inexperience of the employes. The new tenement house law is making considerable work, although it promises to be an excellent thing for the city. Every tenement must have an area way in the rear or on one side equal to 20 per cent of the entire lot on which the building is erected, unless it stands on a corner, when 10 per cent is sufficient. If the building fronts on three streets the entire surface may be utilized. The window space must equal one-tenth of the entire floor space and every room must have a window. The present contract for 1,000 houses, of all kinds, many American speculators are on the ground and have either established agencies at Havana or made arrangements with old brokerage houses there to handle their real estate deals. The big cattle farms and sugar plantations, ranging in size from 3,000 to 8,000 acres, which were burned over and devastated during the Spanish-American war, are being bought up rapidly for about $20 an acre. No Sale Consummated.

It develops that the reported sale of a part of the W. W. Dewees Hooded property, on Ophelia street, Oakland, published in The Gazette Tuesday, was an error. The property is owned by James J. Flannery and no deal is pending for a settlement, as the owner holds it to be worth $100,000.

In the Oil Fields

Small producers and dusters marked the progress of developments in the lower southwest fields yesterday. In the Fallen Timber Run development, in Wise district, W. W. & A. W. Mellon & Co. have drilled their No. 4 on the Dennis B. Ice farm into the Little Dunkard sand and have a show for a 10-barrel pumper. This is the first well in this locality to get oil in the Dunkard formation. It will be tested.

Southwest of Littleton the South Penn Oil Company has drilled a 2-inch on the Ezra Vise farm through the Big Injun and has a fair gasser. It is still drilling.

On the east side of the Folsom district the South Penn Company has drilled its test on the Jesse Ashcroft farm through the top of the hill, Twenty-third ward, to cost $7,000; M. Rosenblatz, for brick addition to residence on Locust street, Eighteenth ward, cost $4,000; John L. Geshwerder, for brick store and dwelling, Pearl street, Sixteenth ward, to cost $4,000; John P. Denholm, for four-story brick hotel building, Penn avenue, Eighteenth ward, Twenty-first ward, to cost $35,000; the W. J. Gilmore Company, for brick warehouse, Strawberry and Cherry alleys, Third ward, to cost $50,000.

Yesterday was a very quiet day in the food product markets, and few changes of any kind were made in quotations. Maryland peaches were in somewhat better supply, but were not sufficient to have much effect on prices, which were kept at the same range as last quoted. Cantaloupes continue abundant, but the demand is good, and prices are holding their own. Egg prices are moving in sympathy and prices were slightly lower. Corn and peas were a little higher, with supplies only moderate. California plums are steady, but the range is widened to cover all the varieties now arriving.

Flour holds steady at recent advances, and dealers claim to see no reason to expect any lower prices at least for a few weeks. Sugar is unchanged, and selling fairly well, although the demand does not seem to be up to the average for the time of year. However, refiners claim to look for no immediate change, as, while there may be some little falling off in this month, the heavy demand will come during September and October, when they expect a call for all the sugar they can ship. Prices of raw sugar are quiet, the agent quoting 4 cents about on a basis of 2 cents a pound in Cuba, which leaves little room for decline. Coffee is quiet, but quotations are unchanged.

Tomatoes are coming in freely, and corn, and the market is firm with an advancing tendency. Corn which was quoted at 87½ cents six weeks ago, is now strongly held at $1.20, and even the latter figure is firmly held. Peas are very independent. Tomatoes are not doing so well, but it is claimed they are ripening but slowly just now, as the weather is not favorable, and markets do not look for the heavy yields which were expected earlier in the season.

No change was made in the hay situation yesterday, both old and new stock selling about the same figures as on Wednesday. Oats held their own without further decline, and corn was firm. New oats were offered at 38 cents early in the week, but further decline and corn was firm. New oats were offered at 38 cents early in the week, but further decline was steady without change or price.

Butter and cheese are without special features, the market being quiet but steady. Eggs are slow, and there is a full supply for all buyers.

Poultry maintained its list of quotations, receipts of spring chickens not being heavy enough to cause any further decline in prices.

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—The market for coffee futures opened unchanged prices to an advance of 15 points, and ruled generally firm on a good demand for November and December chiefly, but which later spread to the entire list on apparently encouraging advices by the small primary receipts and continued steadiness of primary markets. The buying was chiefly for the account of houses with outside strength, while the bulk of the selling was for importers and by room operators, sometimes working for prominent "inside" houses. The close was firm, net 10 to 30 points higher. Sales were 72,250 bags, including August at 3.55c; September at 3.75@3.76c; October at 3.60@3.70c; November at 3.75@3.80c; December at 3.80@3.85c; March at 4.40@4.45c. May and July at 4.65@4.75c. Spot Rio steady; mild quiet.

Sugar—Raw strong; refined firm.

The Drygoods Market.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—In the drygoods market no improvement in first-hand conditions is noted, and buyers are still operating in a hand-to-mouth manner. Jobbers continue to hold back orders, but it will be some time before this increase is reflected at first hands. There is no doubt that with the increased curtailment certain lines will be difficult to secure, but no famine is expected.

MARKETS WERE QUIET WITH FEW CHANGES

Better Supply of Maryland Peaches—Canned Corn Scarce and High.

The Metal Market.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—Spot tin closed £1 10s higher in London at £128 10s and futures £1 5s higher at £124 5s. Locally, tin was also firm and higher, closing at $28 00@28 25. Copper declined 10s for spot in London, closing at £87 for that position, while futures were unchanged at £85 15s. Locally, copper is quiet and nominally lower, Lake Superior being quited at $18 00@13 12½, electrolytic at $13 00 and casting at $12 75. Lead was unchanged at £4 2s locally, and at £10 18s 9d in London. Spelter was 2s 6d higher in London at £20 2s 6d, but lower here at $5 75@5 87½. Iron closed at 52s 3d in Glasgow and at 46s 7½d in Middlesboro. Locally, iron was quiet and more or less nominal. No. 1 foundry northern is quoted at $17 50@18 00; No. 2 foundry northern at $16 50@17 00; No. 4 foundry southern and No. 1 foundry southern, soft, at $16 75@17 00.

Corn Was Unchanged, Oats Advanced and Provisions Were Lower.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—Wheat ruled rather quiet throughout the day, opening prices were a shade to ½@⅝c lower at 78c to 79¼c. The market continued weak the first half of the session on an entire absence of news which could be construed as favorable to the bulls, but toward the close of the session a sharp selling spell by speculators and the price again recovered. One of the main causes for the advance was the good export demand at the seaboard. Offers were limited the latter part of the day and this fact contributed to the late strength. Under these influences September sold to 80¾c, and closed at 80⅛@80¾c, a net gain of ⅞@1c. Primary receipts were 476,000 bushels, against 1,004,000 a year ago. Minneapolis and Duluth reported also 85 cars, which, with local receipts of 117 cars, 20 of contract grade, made total receipts for the three points on the Chicago level 141 cars last week and 353 cars a year ago.

Trading in corn was comparatively slow owing to a lack of selling pressure to a scarcity of suitable buying orders, favorable weather conditions and a general disposition to sell early, but offerings were well taken by local traders. The late strength in wheat helped corn prices and the close was steady, with September ½c higher at 51¾c, after selling between 51⅜c and 52¼c. Local receipts were 39 cars, with 12 cars of contract grade.

Oats sympathized somewhat with the early weakness in wheat, but offerings were rather light and prices recovered without much effort. The local bulls favored the buying side and there was also a good demand from commission houses which caused prices to advance ½c, with September ⅛c higher at 34¼c, after ranging between 33⅝c and 34¼c. Local receipts were 125 cars.

Provisions were weak, with considerable selling by brokers supposed to be acting for local packers. The hog situation was easier and contributed to the depression. September pork closed 17½c lower at $13 47½. September lard was 2½c off at $7 90, while ribs were down 10@12½c at $7 97½.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 175 cars; corn, 150 cars; oats, 225 cars; hogs, 19,000 head.

WORSE THAN OLD-TIME SUN DANCE

Disgraceful Orgy of Indians Started by Scientists Fully Described.

LED BY EDUCATED BRAVE

Superintendent of Indian School Reaches Washington With Details of a Revival of a Most Brutal Savage Custom—Blames Ethnologist.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Room 30, Postal Building, WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 6.

That the officers of the bureau of ethnology have been guilty of hiring Indians to mutilate themselves in the barbarous Cheyenne-Arapahoe "sun dance" was the charge made today by Superintendent Byrne White of the Cantonment Indian school of the Indian territory, who arrived in Washington yesterday. Mr. White also adds some interesting details. He says there is no doubt that an officer of the bureau of ethnology and an officer of the Field museum of Chicago paid $15 to the Indians to torture themselves in the dance.

This assertion is made on the statement of an assistant clerk in Mr. White's office, who says he saw the money handed over. It is expected, however, that the $15 was ostensibly given for the lariat which was fastened to the bull's head which one Indian dragged behind him, attached to which were strips of skin cut from his body. Mr. White also makes the statement that after the dance the two scientists paid the tortured savage money for the skin from his body. White gave the following description of the dance which the Indians were hired to engage in for the interests of science:

"The camp of the Indians was arranged in the shape of a horseshoe. The Indian selected for the torture bared his back and two parallel slits were made just back of and below each shoulder blade. These were each about three inches long. A knife blade was then thrust into the back from slit to slit and through the hole thus made a stick was thrust. The lariat led out from the back for a few feet and then the ends were knotted together. The other end of the lariat was tied to the head of a freshly slaughtered beef. The Indian, with the dangling head behind him, started from in front of the camp, running swiftly around the arc of the horseshoe.

"It is expected that in the race around the camp the stick will pull through the Indian's flesh. But on this occasion the dangling beef's head was not heavy enough for this, or else the stick was too deeply set into the Indian's back. After he had made a single circuit of the camp he stopped and the strips of skin and flesh between the slits in the Indian's back were cut out. It was these that were purchased by the scientist.

"In the old-time sun dance it was the custom to make similar slits in the breasts of the tortured Indians, and after a rope or lariat had been thrust through them the Indians were pulled off their feet by the flesh of the breast. At the sun dance I am describing, the Indians wanted a similar exhibition but it did not prove a success. An Indian was induced to have his breast cut and the rope inserted, but when the effort was made to suspend him in this manner, the skin and flesh gave way, releasing the rope and leaving gaping wounds."

The statement made in a report to the Indian office that the program for the sun dance was prepared by Richard Davis, an Indian who had been educated at one of the government schools, is confirmed by Mr. White. He adds that the young Indian not only provided in the program for the revival of the tortures of many years ago, but that he interpolated features that none of the old-time sun dance Indians ever thought of.

DISCUSSED ELECTRIC PLANT FOR NEW CAPITOL

Commission Not of the Same Mind as the Public Buildings Board.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

HARRISBURG, Aug. 6.—The state capitol commission discussed the technical phases connected with the installation of a light, heat and power plant in the new capitol at today's meeting, in spite of the opposition to such a plant from the board of public buildings and grounds. This board is composed of Gov. Pennypacker, Auditor General Hardenbergh and State Treasurer Harris, none of whom is a member of the capitol commission. The members of the commission say they have no intention of disregarding the plain provision for the erection of the plant contained in the act creating the commission and approved $4,000,000 for the building, and the work is being pushed as rapidly as possible.

"The commission is a unit in all respects," said ex-Gov. Stone after the session of the commission. "The members are all in perfect harmony and accord in regard to all of the phases of the work."

Col. Stone also said that the commission is pleased with the progress that is being made on the building. Reports upon the progress of the work were made by Contractors Payne & Wetter, Engineer Green and Architect Huston, who were present and discussed with the commission the technical end of the work.

ACCIDENTS IN HOMESTEAD.

Workers in Various Steel Mills Had Bad Luck Yesterday.

Many accidents occurred in Homestead and vicinity yesterday, and several workmen in the steel mills were injured.

John Clarke of Thirteenth avenue had his right hand mashed by a beam in the Homestead steel works. John Schuester of West Homestead was caught under a large pile of lumber which fell on him while at work for the Mesta Machine Company and his right leg was crushed. Norman Charles, 13 years old, was playing in a new building in Tenth avenue and slipped and fell, sustaining a broken arm and other injuries.

Two members of the Daltz family of Nineteenth avenue were injured at nearly the same time. Frank Daltz, aged 37, the father, was struck on the face by a large shafting in the Homestead steel works and his cheek bone was broken and his face cut in many places. Roy Daltz, a son, aged 13 years, fell from a ladder in the plant of the Lawson Machine Company and his right arm was broken.

ELIZABETH, N. J., Aug. 6.—(Special.)—Sheriff Covieli of Union county went to the Crescent shipyards today and seized the yacht Czarina, which is being built for Charles S. Bryan of New York; the Happy Day, for Charles M. Schwab; the Plainfield, for the Central railroad of New Jersey, and the Tampico and Veracious, for the Mexican government.

The seizure was made on a writ secured from the supreme court by F. L. and A. Heldretter, lumber dealers of Elizabeth, for a claim of $9,123 for lumber furnished for the construction of the vessels. A constable was placed in charge of each boat and the work of construction proceeded.

SCHWAB CONTINUES TO BUY STEEL STOCK

Heavy Purchases on Declining Market Verify His Belief in Future of Corporation—Has Opened New York Office.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—Charles M. Schwab has taken an office on the fourth floor of the Empire building. He will have a corps of clerks and office men to look after his large personal business, including the many charitable enterprises he has on his hands. Despite his retirement from the presidency of the Steel Corporation, Mr. Schwab will give many hours to business, including his work as a member of the board of directors of the Steel Corporation. Mr. Schwab's statement Tuesday that he is the heaviest stockholder in the corporation created great surprise in Wall street, but an investigation shows that he has been a heavy purchaser of steel shares on the decline, when it was rumored that he was the heavy seller.

"Mr. Schwab purchased many large lots of steel shares recently," said a close friend this evening, "but months ago he was the heaviest stockholder in the corporation. The fact that he has been a purchaser all along shows his firm faith in the future of the big company. He is in a position to realize the possibilities of the steel trade, and it is not to be wondered that he has quickly invested when the shares are at so low a figure as now."

This statement, as well as the business in Wall street today, thoroughly refutes the story that went the rounds in New York yesterday that the steel holdings of Mr. Schwab were to be put on the market today. The total sales of steel shares, common and preferred, today reached 89,800 shares. The market closed steady. FRANK A. PARKER.

RACE QUESTION TO BE ISSUE OF DEMOCRATS

Hope to Use Negro Prejudice to Win Votes from Republican Ranks.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 6.—Leading Democratic politicians in Washington declare that the Democrats in the campaign next year will make the race question a political issue in the northern and middle west states. This determination has developed within two or three months and is said to be encouraged by the frequent race riots in the north, evidencing a spirit of hostility to the negro.

Three Democratic representatives in congress have declared themselves publicly on this subject. Representative Livingston of Georgia, who is a man of standing and influence in his party, says that in the coming session of congress the Democrats propose to bring the Republicans to the issue of declaring whether or not they support the president in his position on the negro question.

Representative Swanson, one of the aggressive young Democrats of the party, uttered similar sentiments, indicating determination of his party to insist upon drawing the line most closely on the negro question. Representative James of Kentucky declared that for every negro vote which any Republican might get in his district it will lose one white Republican vote. L. W. STRAYER.

WHIPPED A BURGLAR.

Woman With Rawhide Forces House-Breaker to Drop His Plunder.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—(Special.)—Mrs. Fred Phillipps, wife of a Brooklyn real estate broker, is the heroine of Richmond Hill, Long Island, because of her daring action in cowhiding a burglar, who was robbing her home.

Mrs. Phillipps was reading in the library, when she heard a noise on the upper floor. Going into the hall she got a rawhide, and was met by the burglar on the stairs.

The man aimed a blow at her. She dodged and began belaboring the intruder with her whip. The would-be burglar was forced to drop a bag containing jewels valued at several hundred dollars. Three other bags filled with silverware and clothing were found in the basement.

PREFERS PENITENTIARY TO LIBERTY AND HUNGER

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—Hungry, with his last cent gone, Charles J. Davis, under sentence for forgery in the Illinois state reformatory, who had violated the parole by coming here, gave himself up today, and asked to be taken back to prison. Unable to get work at his trade as a stone cutter, because not a member of a union, is the reason, he declares, for his despondency. If returned to prison now he must, under the Illinois law, serve out his full term.

I., Aug. 6.—The members of the sub-committee of the United States senate committee on finance, are assembling at Senator Aldrich's country residence, Warwick, preparatory to discussing the details of the financial bill which is to be presented at the next session of congress. TROUBLE BREWING OVER NEGRO'S PROMOTION

Naval Officers of the Mess Refuse to Sit at the Same Table With Them.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—The navy is watching with keen interest a fight in the navy yard which has been precipitated by the appointment of Isaac Miller, a negro, to the rating of chief petty officer aboard the receiving ship Columbia. This promotion took Miller from before the mast and placed him in the same mess with eight other chief petty officers, all of whom are white. When Miller took his place at the men's table for the first time yesterday at dinner the eight others, who had taken their places a few minutes before, got up and left the table.

Miller has served in the navy for a great many years and has won steady promotion until he attained the grade of chief petty officer. He apparently took the matter good-naturedly and finished his meal alone. Since then he has paid no attention to the actions of his messmates. There is no question that the men affected are in earnest and it would not be surprising if there was an outbreak of race feeling such as caused much trouble when the squadron was in Maine recently, when the negro sailors on shore leave were beaten by the white jackies.

Miller's promotion, coming on the heels of the recent semi-official announcement that the negroes were to be eliminated from the navy, has caused surprise among naval officers. Some of them regard it as in the nature of a test of the temper of the men. Capt. Brice is a strict disciplinarian and is said to share fully the president's ideas about "closing the door of hope to the black man." In speaking of the matter today he said that the other chief petty officers will not be permitted to impose on Miller.

THEY NEED NEWSPAPERS.

Bishop Donohue Tells of a Place in West Virginia Where News Is Belated.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 6.—(Special.)—The Rt. Rev. P. J. Donohue, bishop of the Wheeling diocese of the Roman Catholic church, formerly pastor of the cathedral parish in Baltimore, was in this city this week on his way to Wytheville, Bristol, Stoneag and other points bordering on Tennessee. The immense development of the church renders his presence there necessary.

Bishop Donohue said that on July 26, he visited Monongah, W. Va., and although five days had elapsed since the death of Leo XIII. the community had not heard of that important event.

The bishop also amusingly related a conversation which he overheard between two railroad men on his arrival here today. One of them jokingly asked the other: "Say, Billy, I wonder what the scalpers would be willing to give the new pope for that excursion ticket to Venice?" In the same vein Bishop Donohue said that while crossing a street in Baltimore yesterday an urchin spying the purple grabbed hold of his companion and exclaimed, "Holly gee Jimmy, dat dere's de new pope."

Pain's Pompeii Will Honor Local Societies Tonight.

Tonight will be Catholic night at Exposition hall park, and there will be a great outpouring of the members of the Roman Catholic churches of this and adjacent cities for the purpose of doing honor to the new pontiff. The management of "The Last Days of Pompeii" has arranged a specially fine fire portrait of Pius X., which will be shown on a screen of huge size and blended in many colors.

Tomorrow evening the great spectacle will give its last performance in this city and will do honor to visiting Elks, who will be the guests of Pittsburgh lodge No. 11, B. P. O. E., under whose auspices the production is being given in this city. Reserved seats can be obtained at Mellor's music store.

TRESPASSED UPON NAVAL STATION

SANTIAGO, CUBA, Aug. 6.—Some engineers, who were surveying a site for a terminal of the Cuban Eastern railway on the United States naval reservation at Guantanamo bay, were warned off by the American officers there, but refused to go. Admiral Coghlan, thereupon, notified the Cuban government and President Palma sent a revenue cutter, which forcibly ejected the trespassers. The railway, having acquired the land, claims heavy damages.

FATE OF CANAL NOW DUBIOUS

Probable United States Will Refuse to Consider a Tinkered Treaty.

COLOMBIA PLAYS FOR TIME

Expected That Present Treaty Will Be Ratified, but It Is Hardly Possible That Our Senate Will Accept Any Change in Liberal Terms.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

OYSTER BAY, Aug. 6.—As the canal situation is understood here the outlook for an agreement with Colombia so that the Panama canal can be transferred to the United States is clouded by much more than the probability that the congress at Bogota will ask for an extension of time in which ratifications can be exchanged.

It is now fully expected that while the treaty will be ratified, it will be ratified after amendments. Only one thing worse could happen to the Panama project and that would be the flat rejection of the treaty. An extension in the time for the ratification would necessitate the drawing up of a new protocol which would have to be submitted to the senate at the extra session. Amendments to the treaty would open up once more in the secret sessions of the senate the entire question. The treaty which was ratified by the senate last March was the most liberal one that the senate would adopt. If the treaty comes back with a lot of amendments it is doubtful whether the senate would accept any of them.

Indeed such action might prove the death of the Panama route. Senator Morgan has opposed the Panama scheme from the first and he is just as much opposed to it now as he was when the Panama Company cut its price, $40,000,000, and offered its property for $40,000,000, and the manipulation of the isthmian canal commission was affected.

Secretary of War Root, who spent last night with the president, did not leave until noon today and he said he was going direct to Washington. Mr. Root will sail for London August 22 to act as one of the joint Alaskan boundary commission, and he does not expect to return until November 1. He will probably not see the president again until he returns and there were many things to talk over. Secretary Root refuses to discuss the Littauer case, although he and the president considered it at length. They also had a long talk about the religious situation in the Philippines.

The formal presentation of Baron Speck von Sternberg as the ambassador of Germany will take place tomorrow. The new ambassador will be presented by Assistant Secretary of State Loomis as acting secretary of state.

COLON, COLOMBIA, Aug. 6.—The latest advices from Bogota state that the adversaries of the Panama canal treaty have assumed a new attitude which is based on the recently published opinion of an eminent lawyer at Bogota, who claims that acceptance by the Colombian congress of the Hay-Herran treaty would be unconstitutional, because congress did not sanction the last canal project, and for other technical reasons.

GOVERNMENT DEFEATED.

Strong Opposition Shown to Irish Land Bill in House of Lords.

LONDON, Aug. 6.—The committee stage of the Irish land bill was reached in the house of lords this afternoon. There was an unusually large attendance of Irish peers. The divisions on the amendment indicated a determined fight, and in the division on the first amendment the government narrowly escaped defeat by one vote.

In the following division the government was defeated by three votes. Neither amendment was vital to the bill, but as notice has been given of 34 pages of amendments, this early opposition to the government aroused in Nationalist circles apprehension of trouble before the committee stage of the bill is concluded.

CARNEGIE MAY GIVE MONEY TO OTHER TOWNS

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, Aug. 6.—In handing over to 15 representative citizens of his native town of Dunfermline a trust deed transferring to them $2,500,000 in 5 per cent bonds of the United States Steel Corporation Andrew Carnegie explained the objects he had in view in these words:

"It is an experiment the object of which is to attempt to introduce into the monotonous lives of the toiling masses of Dunfermline more of sweetness and light; to give them, especially the young, some charm, some elevating conditions of life which their residence elsewhere would have denied, so that a child in his native town will feel, however far he may have roamed, that simply by virtue of being such his life has been made happier and better."

Mr. Carnegie proceeded to say that he had provided for this experiment in his will more than 20 years ago, but his retirement from business enabled him to put the scheme into operation during his lifetime. The problem, set to the trustees was, "What can be done in towns to benefit the masses by money in the hands of the most public-spirited citizens?"

If it was proved that good could be done the trustees would open new fields to the wealthy which Mr. Carnegie said he believed they would hereafter be more and more anxious to find for their surplus wealth.

Mr. Carnegie exhorted the trustees not to be afraid of making mistakes, to try many things freely, but to discard just as freely, keeping in touch with the masses and constantly aiming to improve their tastes and give Dunfermline something beyond what was possessed by other cities.

SERVIAN OFFICERS IN PLOT ARE ARRESTED

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

VIENNA, Aug. 6.—According to advices received here a number of Servian officers have been arrested at Belgrade on account of a suspicion that they were conspiring against the war minister, Gen. Alanazkovics, who is said to have protected the adherents of the participants in the assassination of King Alexander and Queen Draga.

BERLIN, Aug. 6.—A St. Petersburg dispatch says two Servian officers, who were deputed to attend King Peter's sons on their journey to Belgrade to join their father, have not been permitted to cross the Russian frontier, the Russian legation at Belgrade having refused to vise their passports, because they were implicated in the assassination of King Alexander and Queen Draga.

BE YOUR OWN JUDGE.

Mi-o-na Costs You Nothing, If It Does Not Cure, Says Schilling Bros. Co.

Mi-o-na, the remarkable flesh-forming food and cure for dyspepsia, has won fame the unusual way in which it is sold. It is the only remedy offered for the cure of dyspepsia which costs the user absolutely nothing unless it cures.

Schilling Bros. Co., the popular druggists, are selling a great many packages of Mi-o-na and with every box is given their personal guarantee to refund the money if Mi-o-na does not give satisfaction, you to be your own judge as to whether the remedy helps or not.

Mi-o-na is an unusual combination. It is a flesh-forming food combined with agents that regulate the digestive organs and remove irritation, congestion and inflammation from the stomach, liver and intestines. It enables those organs to extract from the food all that goes to make good, rich blood, firm muscle, steady nerves and a sound body. It does not contain any pepsin, pancreatin or other drugs, that never effect a cure and rarely give even temporary relief.

Mi-o-na puts the digestive system into proper working order, gives health, strength and good flesh, and is the natural cure for indigestion. Even in chronic cases, where life is one long drawn out pain, this remedy will effect a cure. It is the simples and most reliable of all remedies. Just one tablet before or after meals and you can eat a hearty meal without distress.

If Mi-o-na does not do all that is claimed for it, Schilling Bros. Co. will cheerfully refund your money.
